Mon Pays Reinvente:

Writing Acadia Hans R. Runte, 2023-10-09 The phenomenal development of writing and literary creation among the francophone communities of eastern Canada has gone largely unnoticed and unprobed outside the fragmented land of Acadia. Writing Acadia attempts for the first time to observe from a distance the invention of literature in oral Acadia and to interpret, assess, and order the manifold manifestations of the transition from epic story telling to writing as a means of nation building. Having begun to write modern Acadia has truly re-written herself into existence, an existence now threatened by postmodern unwriting of literature. Destined not only for specialists but also and especially for readers with a general interest in literature including students of all levels, Writing Acadia presents generous samples of Acadian poetry, drama, and prose with accompanying English translations.

From Cohen to Carson Ian Rae, 2008-03-26 From Cohen to Carson provides the first book-length analysis of one of Canada's most distinctive fields of literary production. Ian Rae argues that Canadian poets have turned to the novel because of the limitations of the lyric but have used lyric methods: puns, symbolism, repetition, juxtaposition to create a mode of narrative that contrasts sharply with the descriptive conventions of realist and plot-driven novels.

Yale French Studies, Number 137/138 Thomas C. Connolly, 2021-02-23 Number 137/138 in Yale French Studies this collection of essays examines poetry in French by authors from across the Maghreb. Although in recent years Maghrebi literature written in French has enjoyed increased critical attention, less attention has been paid specifically to the genre of poetry. The sixteen essays collected in this special issue of Yale French Studies show how the poem provides a uniquely privileged perspective from which to examine questions relating to aesthetics, linguistics, philosophy, history, autobiography, gender, the visual arts, colonial and postcolonial society and politics, and issues relating to the post-Arab Spring.

The Nature of Canada Colin M. Coates, Graeme Wynn, 2019-05-01 Intended to delight and provoke, these short beautifully crafted essays enlivened with photos and illustrations explore how humans have engaged with the Canadian environment and what those interactions say about the nature of Canada. Tracing a path from the Ice Age to the Anthropocene, some of the foremost stars in the field of environmental history reflect on how we as a nation have idolized and found inspiration in nature, even as fishers, fur traders, farmers, foresters, miners, and city planners have commodified it or tried to tame it. They also travel lesser-known routes, revealing how Indigenous people listened to glaciers and what they have to tell us, and how even the nature we can't see, the smallest of pathogens, has served the interests of some while threatening the very existence of others. The Nature of Canada will make you think differently, not only about Canada and its past but quite possibly about Canada and its future. Its insights are just what we need as Canada attempts to reconcile the opposing goals of prosperity and preservation.

The Postcolonial Subject in Transit Delphine Fongang, 2018-01-19 The Postcolonial Subject in Transit presents in depth analyses of the complex transitional migratory identities evident in emerging African diasporic writings It provides insights into the hybridity of the migrant experience where the migrant struggles to negotiate new cultural spaces It shows that while some migrants successfully adapt and integrate into new Western locales others exist at the margins unable to fully negotiate cultural difference The diaspora becomes a space for opportunities and economic mobility as well as alienation and uncertainties This illuminates the heterogeneity of the African diasporic narrative expanding the dialogue of the diaspora from one of simply loss and melancholia to self realization and empowerment

The Santa Fe Fiesta, Reinvented Sarah Bronwen Horton, 2010-06 The Santa Fe Fiesta Reinvented adds a new perspective on the controversial identity formation of New Mexico's Hispanos Through close readings of canonical texts by New Mexican historian Fray Angélico Chávez about La Conquistadora a fifteenth century Marian icon to whom legend credits Don Diego De Vargas's peaceful resettlement and through careful attention to the symbolic action of the event this book explores the tropes of gender time genealogy and sexuality through which this form of cultural nationalism is imagined Interviews and archival research reveal that even as Hispanos were increasingly minoritized in the former homeland site of Santa Fe Hispano elites progressively invented and recreated the four cultural organizations that organize the Fiesta to lay claim to this disappearing homeland Such organizations not only Hispanicized the Fiesta's content and key roles usurping the role of De Vargas from Anglos but sacralized their claims through foregrounding the role of Hispanos sacred mother La Conquistadora With narratives of Fiesta organizers and colorful vignettes of life in contemporary Santa Fe this book documents Hispanos veiled protest of Anglo imperialism and the transformation of this city into what has been called an Adobe Disneyland
