Reynolds, Gordon Hutner, 2000-11-26 From the American Revolution to the present the United States has enjoyed a rich and persuasive visual culture These images have constructed sustained and disseminated social values and identities but this unwieldy sometimes untidy form of cultural expression has received less systematic attention than other modes of depicting American life Recently scholars in the humanities have developed a new critical approach to reading images and the cultural work they perform This practice American cultural iconography is generating sophisticated analyses of how images organize our public life The contributions to this volume exhibit the extraordinary scope and interpretive power of this interdisciplinary study while illuminating the dark corners of the nation's psyche Drawing on such varied texts and visual media as daguerreotypes political cartoons tourist posters and religious artifacts these essays explore how pictures and words combine to teach us who we are and who we are not They examine mimesis in elegant portraits of black Freemasons industrial age representations of national parks and postwar photographs of atomic destruction They consider how visual culture has described and disclosed the politics of racialized sexuality whether subconsciously affirming it in the shadows of film noir or deliberately contesting it through the interethnic incest of John Sayles's Lone Star Students of literature film and history will find that these essays extend the frontier of American studies The contributors are Maurice Wallace Dennis Berthold Alan Trachtenberg Shirley Samuels Jenny Franchot Cecelia Tichi Eric Lott Bryan C Taylor and Jos E Lim n

Reconciling Art and Mothering Rachel Epp Buller, 2017-07-05 Reconciling Art and Mothering contributes a chorus of new voices to the burgeoning body of scholarship on art and the maternal and for the first time focuses exclusively on maternal representations and experiences within visual art throughout the world This innovative essay collection joins the voices of practicing artists with those of art historians acknowledging the fluidity of those categories The twenty-five essays of Reconciling Art and Mothering are grouped into two sections the first written by art historians and the second by artists Art historians reflect on the work of artists addressing motherhood including Marguerite Gird Chana Orloff and Ren Cox from the early nineteenth century to the present day Contributions by contemporary artist mothers such as Gail Rebhan Denise Ferris and Myrel Chernick point to the influence of past generations of artist mothers to the inspiration found in the work of maternally minded literary and cultural theorists and to attempts to broaden definitions of maternity Working against a hegemonic construction of motherhood the contributors discuss complex and diverse feminist mothering experiences from maternal ambivalence to queer mothering to quests for self fulfillment The essays address mothering experiences around the globe with contributors hailing from North and South America Europe Asia Africa and Australia Social Progress, 1924
