The book introduces the uniquely American mosaic of multicultural literature by chronicling the achievements of American writers of non-European descent and highlighting the ethnic diversity of works from the colonial era to the present. The work features engaging topics like the civil rights movement, bilingualism, assimilation and border narratives. Entries provide historical overviews of literary periods along with profiles of major authors and great works including Toni Morrison, Maxine Hong Kingston, Maya Angelou, Sherman Alexie, A Raisin in the Sun, American Born Chinese and The House on Mango Street. Writing Off the Hyphen Jose L. Torres-Padilla, Carmen Haydee Rivera, 2011-12-01 The sixteen essays in Writing Off the Hyphen approach the literature of the Puerto Rican diaspora from current theoretical positions with provocative and insightful results. The authors analyze how the diasporic experience of Puerto Ricans is played out in the context of class, race, gender and sexuality and how other themes emerging from postcolonialism and postmodernism come into play. Their critical work also demonstrates an understanding of how the process of migration and the relations between Puerto Rico and the United States complicate notions of cultural and national identity as writers confront their bilingual, bicultural and transnational realities. The collection has considerable breadth and depth. It covers earlier undertheorized writers such as Luisa Capetillo, Pedro Juan Labarthe, Bernardo Vega, Pura Belpré, Arturo Schomburg and Graciano Miranda Archilla. Prominent writers such as Rosario Ferré and Judith Ortiz Cofer are discussed alongside often neglected writers such as Honolulu-based Rodney Morales and gay writer Manuel Ramos Otero. The essays cover all the genres and demonstrate that current theoretical ideas and approaches create exciting opportunities and possibilities for the study of Puerto Rican diasporic literature      Sargasso ,2005      Stages of Life Alberto Sandoval-Sánchez,Nancy Saporta Sternbach,2023-01-10 Latina theater and solo performance emerged in the 1990s as vibrant energetic new genres found on stages from New York to Los Angeles Many women now work in all aspects of Latina theater often as playwrights or solo performers with practitioners ranging from teenagers to grandmothers Alberto Sandoval S nchez and Nancy Saporta Sternbach have previously published a groundbreaking anthology of Latina theater Puro Teatro They now offer a critical analysis of theatrical works presenting a theoretical perspective from which to examine understand and contextualize Latina theater as a genre in its own right This is the first in depth study of the entire corpus of Latina theater based on close readings of works both published and in manuscript It considers a large body of productions and performances including works by such internationally known authors as Dolores Prida Cherr e Moraga and Janis Astor del Valle Applying feminist and postcolonial theory as well as theories of transculturation Sandoval S nchez and Sternbach show how despite cultural differences among Latinas their works share a common poetics by building upon the politics of representation identity and location In addition to covering theater this study also shows that solo performance has its own history properties structure and poetics It examines performances of Carmelita Tropicana Monica Palacios and Marga Gomez artists whose hybrid identities as Latina lesbians constitute living examples of transculturation in the making to show how solo performance has roots in and digresses from more traditional modes of theater With their Latina heritage as a unifying link these women reflect common traits patterns dramatic structures and properties that overcome regional differences Stages of Life reads these eclectic cultural productions as a unified body of work that contributes to the formation of Latina identity in America today      The State of Latino Theater in the United States Luis Ramos-García,2002 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company
