Ourselves As Students:

Writing Ourselves Into the Story Sheryl I. Fontaine, Susan Hunter, 1993 Collects 23 essays research studies and personal narratives on topics connected with teaching composition topics and voices rarely found in scholarly journals or at professional conferences Paper edition unseen 16 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Ourselves as Students, 1996 These essays by Old Dominion University students deal with two questions What impact do their own race class gender and ethnic identities have upon them as students How do their culture and the university culture interact to affect their ability to learn The focus of these essays is on the overlap between the students identities as students and their identities based on gender race class and ethnic origin The project began as an assignment in a women s studies class at Old Dominion University in 1993 when students in a mixed graduate and undergraduate course were asked to write a brief analysis of themselves as students accounting for the impact of gender race and social class on what they studied what they heard in class how they were treated in the classroom how they treated others there and what their level of comfort in the university was Invited to add other variables such as religion nationality age sexual orientation or disability if they considered these significant to their identities as students the students were urged to consider not only the disadvantages these various identities gave them but also the privileges and advantages The resulting essays stimulated great interest in what students had to say and led to the formation of The Broad Minds Collective made up of four students from the class as well as its instructor which set about the task of soliciting and collecting additional essays Although most essays contain overlapping themes the editors detected four motifs that encompass virtually every essay included in the book In the section Cultural Perceptions and Assumptions students show their awareness of how culturally defined categories affect education Essays in Belonging and Alienation in the Classroom discuss the students level of comfort in the classroom and the degree to which they feel they belong at the university The essays in Making Sense of Our Lives Through Education reveal the students use of education to learn more about the forces that shape them In Search of an Education highlights students efforts to wrest what they feel they need from a college education Rather than presenting a multicultural educational theory or conducting a sterile sociological study The Broad Minds Collective has allowed students to speak for themselves Abstraction is replaced by stories of personal conflict struggle and victory The Vassar Miscellany, 1908 Proceedings ..., 1920 Proceedings of the Casualty Actuarial and Statistical Society of America Casualty Actuarial Society, Casualty Actuarial and Statistical Society of America, 1920 List of members for the years 1914 20 are included in v 1 7 after which they are continued in the Year book of the society begun in 1922 Helping Teachers Take Control of Everyday Executive Functions Paula Moraine, M.Ed., 2025-07-15 Helping Teachers Take Control of Everyday Executive Functions The Teaching Fix is a practical and curiosity driven workbook focused on helping teachers understand and take control of their executive functions Insights gained through self reflection guide and support the teacher s personal and professional development This workbook is

Schank, 2004-04-26 In the author's words This book is an honest attempt to understand what it means to be educated in today's world His argument is this No matter how important science and technology seem to industry or government or indeed to the daily life of people as a society we believe that those educated in literature history and other humanities are in some way better informed more knowing and somehow more worthy of the descriptor well educated This 19th century conception of the educated mind weighs heavily on our notions on how we educate our young When we focus on intellectual and scholarly issues in high school as opposed to issues such as communications basic psychology or child raising we are continuing to rely on outdated notions of the educated mind that come from elitist notions of who is to be educated and what that means To accommodate the realities of today's world it is necessary to change these elitist notions We need to rethink what it means to be educated and begin to focus on a new conception of the very idea of education Students need to learn how to think not how to accomplish tasks such as passing standardized tests and reciting rote facts In this engaging book Roger C Schank sets forth the premises of his argument cites its foundations in the Great Books themselves and illustrates it with examples from an experimental curriculum that has been used in graduate schools and with K 12 students Making Minds Less Well Educated Than Our Own is essential reading for scholars and students in the learning sciences instructional design curriculum theory and planning educational policy school reform philosophy of education higher education and anyone interested in what it means to be educated in today's world
