Frey,Candace Vogler,2018-11-06 Recent research in the humanities and social sciences suggests that individuals who understand themselves as belonging to something greater than the self a family community or religious or spiritual group often feel happier have a deeper sense of purpose or meaning in their lives and have overall better life outcomes than those who do not Some positive and personality psychologists have labeled this location of the self within a broader perspective self transcendence This book presents and integrates new interdisciplinary research into virtue happiness and the meaning of life by re orienting these discussions around the concept of self transcendence The essays are organized around three broad themes connected to self transcendence First they investigate how self transcendence helps us to understand aspects of the moral life as it is studied within psychology including the development of wisdom the practice of moral praise and psychological well being Second they explore how self transcendence is linked to virtue in different religious and spiritual traditions including Judaism Islam Christianity Buddhism and Confucianism Finally they ask how self transcendence can help us theorize about Aristotelean and Thomist conceptions of virtue like hope and piety and how this helps us to re conceptualize happiness and meaning in life The Social Psychology of Good and Evil Arthur G. Miller,2005-04-06 This compelling work brings together an array of distinguished scholars to explore key concepts theories and findings pertaining to some of the most fundamental issues in social life the conditions under which people are kind and helpful to others or conversely under which they commit harmful even murderous acts Covered are such topics as the complex interaction of individual societal and situational factors underpinning good or evil behavior the role of guilt and the self concept and issues of responsibility and motivation including why good people do bad things The volume also examines whether aggression and violence are inescapable aspects of human nature and how cooperative interaction can break down stereotyping and discrimination Levinas for Psychologists Leswin Laubscher,2023-11-03 Levinas for Psychologists provides a rigorous yet accessible examination of Emmanuel Levinas s philosophy and its implications for psychology and the human and social sciences Comprehensive in scope this book traces Levinas s thought across the arc of his oeuvre from the earliest works to the last interviews and essays Laubscher provides numerous examples of how Levinas s thought challenges current clinical and psychotherapeutic work psychological theory social science research and social theory but also offers promising alternatives Such alternative ways to think and practice psychology are richly illuminated by accessible examples from therapy research and the social everyday The volume makes Levinas s dense and demanding philosophical language comprehensible and accessible without losing the radical profound and poetic qualities of the original Issues of justice racism and nature are addressed throughout and these insights and conclusions are placed within a contemporary context This book is essential reading for psychologists philosophers and anyone interested in the legacy of Levinas s work Transcend Scott Barry Kaufman,2020 A bold reimagining of Maslow s famous hierarchy of needs and new insights for living your most authentic fulfilled and connected life When positive psychologist Scott Barry Kaufman first discovered Maslow s unfinished theory of transcendence sprinkled throughout a cache of unpublished journals he felt a deep resonance with his own work and life In this groundbreaking book Kaufman picks up where Maslow left off unraveling the mysteries of his unfinished theory and integrating these ideas with the latest research on attachment connection exploration love purpose and other building blocks of a life well lived Maslow s model provides a roadmap for finding purpose and fulfillment not by striving for money success or happiness but by becoming the best version of ourselves or what Maslow called self actualization Transcend reveals a level of human potential that s even higher which Maslow termed transcendence Beyond individual fulfillment this way of being which taps into the whole person connects us not only to our best self but also to one another With never before published insights and new research findings along with thought provoking examples and personality tests this empowering book is a manual for self analysis and nurturing a deeper connection with our highest potential and beyond

Psychological and Transcendental Phenomenology and the Confrontation with Heidegger (1927-1931) Edmund Husserl,1997-10-31 Thomas Sheehan and Richard E Palmer The materials translated in the body of this volume date from 1927 through 1931 The Encyclopaedia Britannica Article and the Amsterdam Lectures were written by Edmund Husserl with a short contribution by Martin Heidegger between September 1927 and April 1928 and Husserl s marginal notes to Sein und Zeit and Kant und das Problem der Metaphysik were made between 1927 and 1929 The appendices to this volume contain texts from both Husserl and Heidegger and date from 1929 through 1931 As a whole these materials not only document Husserl s thinking as he approached retirement and emeritus status March 31 1928 but also shed light on the philosophical chasm that was widening at that time between Husserl and his then colleague and protege Martin Heidegger 1 The Encyclopaedia Britannica Article Between September and early December 1927 Husserl under contract composed an introduction to phenomenology that was to be published in the fourteenth edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica 1929 Husserl s text went through four versions which we call Drafts A B C and D and two editorial condensations by other hands which we call Drafts E and F Throughout this volume those five texts as a whole are referred to as the EB Article or simply the Article Husserl s own final version of the Article Draft D was never published of it appeared only in 1962 The Oxford Handbook of Hypo-egoic Phenomena Kirk Warren Brown,Mark R. Leary,2016-09-08 Egoicism a mindset that places primary focus upon oneself is rampant in contemporary Western cultures as commercial advertisements popular books song lyrics and mobile apps consistently promote self interest Consequently researchers have begun to address the psychological interpersonal and broader societal costs of excessive egoicism and to investigate alternatives to a me and mine first mindset For centuries scholars spiritual leaders and social activists have advocated a hypo egoic way of being that is characterized by less self concern in favor of a more inclusive we first mode of functioning In recent years investigations of hypo egoic functioning have been examined by psychologists cognitive scientists neuroscientists and philosophers Edited by Kirk Warren Brown and Mark R Leary The Oxford Handbook of Hypo egoic Phenomena brings together an expert group of contributors to examine these groundbreaking lines of inquiry distilling current knowledge about hypo egoicism into an exceptional resource In this volume readers will find theoretical perspectives from philosophy and several major branches of psychology to inform our understanding of the nature of hypo egoicism and its expressions in various domains of life Further readers will encounter psychological research discoveries about particular phenomena in which hypo egoicism is a prominent feature demonstrating its implications for well being regulation of emotion adaptive decision making positive social relations and other markers of human happiness well being and health This Handbook offers the most comprehensive and thoughtful analyses of hypo egoicism to date

Decolonising the University: The Emerging Quest for Non-Eurocentric Paradigms (Penerbit USM) Claude Alvares, Shad Saleem Faruqi, 2014-11-25 This book of essays is a sequel to the International Conference on Decolonising Our Universities held in Penang Malaysia from June 27 to 29 2011 The Conference was jointly organised by the Universiti Sains Malaysia and Citizens International in cooperation with the Higher Education Leadership Academy of the Malaysian Ministry of Higher Education At the Conference speaker after speaker pointed out that education in Asia and Africa is too Westcentric It blindly apes European universities European curricula and European paradigms The papers in this volume examine possible ways of overcoming this problem of intellectual enslavement in Asian and African citadels of learning It must be pointed out at the very outset that this book is not meant to be a tirade against the West Its aim is not to ask Asian and African universities to shut out Europe and North America or to be insular or to wear blinds Its aim is positive to make Asian and African tertiary education truly global and at the same time socially relevant This cannot be done unless the intellectual monopoly of the West is broken and European knowledge is made to make way for the review teaching and expansion of the vast knowledge of other societies and cultures European knowledge may supplement but never replace other valid knowledge systems and traditions The book is divided into eight parts Part I creates the setting provides an overview of the state of our universities reflects on decolonisation of our intellectual heritage and explains how colonial education was used to assault our cultures Part II contains a wish list of the decolonised university There are essays on the philosophical basis of an African university and about how the sacred and the secular can be integrated and how the community can be brought back into the university Part III critically examines the promise and performance of UNESCO in decolonisation of Asian and African institutions of higher learning Part IV discusses eurocentrism in social sciences in mathematics and in science curricula Part V highlights the state of social sciences and the law today and provides an alternative discourse in social theory history psychotherapy psychology law and language education Part VI discusses regional decolonising initiatives in the Philippines Taiwan Turkey and Iran Part VII provides insights into some experiments in transforming academic pedagogy Finally Part VIII contains some personal journeys in decolonisation of the self This book of essays is meant to coincide with Malaysia's Independence Day on August 31 1957 The hope is that the timing will underline the point that the stains of cultural and intellectual imperialism do not end with the attainment of political freedom Freedom is a state of the mind and regrettably throughout Asia and Africa the enslavement of the mind has continued long after the coloniser has gone back home This humiliating state of affairs must end not only to give meaning to political independence but also to improve the quality of our education by giving to our students a better panorama of world knowledge and thereby to increase their choices Decolonisation of our universities is not an exercise in flag waving nationalism Its aim is ameliorative Diversity and pluralism of knowledge systems are vital for meeting many of the moral social and economic challenges of the times and for avoiding the frightening economic educational and cultural consequences of Europe's near total intellectual and educational monopoly over Asia Africa and Latin America For example Western models of development have proved to be a nightmare and have not served Asia and Africa well Economic theories from the West have brought the whole world to the brink of an environmental catastrophe Asian universities should offer a critique of the ethnocentrism of Western scholarship by pointing out that a middle class Western lifestyle and what that entails in terms of the nuclear family the consumer society living in suburbia and extensive private space may neither be workable nor desirable on a fragile planet The humiliating story of intellectual enslavement in each field and in each region is best told in the words of the authors What must be noted is the ways in which this subservience manifests itself Our university courses reflect the false belief that Western knowledge is the sum total of all human knowledge The books prescribed and the icons and godfathers of knowledge are overwhelmingly from the North Atlantic countries Titles written by scholars and thinkers from Asia and Africa are rarely included in the book list This may indicate a pervasive inferiority complex or ignorance of the contribution of the East to world civilisation Any evaluation of right and wrong of justice and fairness of poverty and development and of what is wholesome and worthy of celebration tends to be based on Western perceptions Eastern ideas and institutions are viewed through Western prisms and invariably regarded as primitive and in need of change Despite decades of political independence the framework assumptions of our law politics economics education history science art and culture remain dictated by our former colonial masters Our concept of the good life and our views on human rights have very tenuous links to our indigenous traditions Our cultural values domestic relations music food and dressing indeed our whole Weltanschauung is constructed on a Western edifice of knowledge Our concept of beauty has been socially constructed by Hollywood media In our professions most of the icons we look up to are Western In our universities the syllabi we draft the books we prescribe the theories we blindly ape the new abodes of the sacred we worship have very little connection with our own intellectual and moral heritage It is fashionable in Asian universities to import expatriate lecturers external examiners and guest speakers exclusively from North Atlantic countries Asian scholars are generally not regarded as fit for such recognition The underlying assumption is that Asians and Africans matter little and in all aspects of existence we need civilisational guidance from the overlords of humankind in Europe and America How did we fall into such depths of enslavement and reverse racism An essay in the volume points out that the colonisers conquered our mind by dismissing and deriding our cultures alienating us from our roots and putting us in awe of the culture of the masters They used the colonial education system for the production of a competent but submissive class They replaced local languages with the English language extinguishing along with local languages the cultural and moral nuances and perspectives that surround a language The colonisers falsified and obliterated historical records of intellectual achievements by Asian and African scholars and inventors They borrowed extensively from the East but shamelessly failed to acknowledge that debt In many cases they Latinised Eastern names to make them sound European The world does not know that during the European Dark Ages scintillating educational developments were taking place in Asia and Africa While Europe slept China India Persia and Egypt practised science invented algebra furthered mathematics metallurgy law and logic They conducted complex medical operations invented rockets wrote treatises in philosophy sociology and astronomy A more recent form of Western hegemony is the yearly university ranking lists Western education Western science and Western achievements are subjected to evaluation on criteria that are rigged in their favour A host of Western consultants and experts unabashedly glorify American and European achievements and certify and celebrate the unique quality of their education system A recent claim was made that American society symbolised the end of history implying thereby that no further human progress was necessary anywhere else The book's ultimate aim is to discover what needs to be done to liberate our minds and our souls to end this academic colonialism to restore our dignity and independence We must shed the slavish mentality of blindly aping Western paradigms We must stop sucking up to the Western academic system We need to send Columbus packing back home Not only the Columbus outside but also the Columbus within We need to rediscover the suppressed knowledge of our civilisations and to reconnect with our rich heritage We must embark on a voyage of discovery of our ancestors intellectual wanderings and rediscover the wonders and heritage of China India Persia Mesopotamia Egypt and other Eastern and African civilisations We must combat the many fabrications and plagiarisms of Western innovators and we must give credit where credit is due to those in Asia and Africa who pioneered the ideas It must be clarified that it is not part of our agenda to ask European and American universities to include the treasures of the East in their syllabi Whether their world views should be enriched by the insights and reflections of the East or whether they should remain insular and wear blinds is their own problem Further it is not our aim to shut out the West but to end blind and exclusive reliance on it We need to root our education in our own soil to tap our own intellectual resources first and to make our education relevant to our societal conditions No amount of imported academics or theories can do this only us We are aware that our endeavour will be mocked by many in the West We will also be opposed by many elites in the East who believe that West is best and whose capitulation to Europe perpetuates Western intellectual hegemony Such opposition to the basic thesis of this book will only serve to confirm the phenomenon of legitimization and false consciousness whereby the oppressed are so brainwashed that they cooperate with their oppressors It is the final triumph of a system of domination when the dominated start singing its virtues In preparing this volume we received invaluable help from many individuals and institutions Universiti Sains Malaysia and Citizens International provided the funds for publication Ayesha Bilimoria helped with the editing of the bulk of the pieces Jenessey Dias performed brisk transcription of the presentations from the DVDs Shafeeq Sameera and Noor Aini Masri gave secretarial assistance Professor Dato Dr Md Salleh Yaapar and his team from the USM Press did everything else with great courtesy speed and professionalism Citizens International's S M Mohamed Idris and Uma Ramaswamy assisted with the printing To all of them we owe a debt of gratitude

We hope that this book will highlight what is on any measure a shameful condition and that it will inspire at least some Asian educators to think afresh to chart new directions to search for the best in their indigenous traditions yet to keep the windows of their mind open to the world

Happiness and the Psychology of Enlightenment - An Investigation into Methods and Results Patrick Jones, 2025-05-21 Whilst happiness usually comes from how we think and feel about our life event based well being enlightenment is an internal experience not sourced from this process inner well being In this volume we look from a scientific point of view at the different approaches to enlightenment and the practices that trigger it This includes classical Western approaches to contemplation and aesthetics Eastern Buddhist notions of satori modern predictors of self transcendent experiences assessments of current practitioners and their characteristics Christian notions of mysticism Hindu yoga practices the neuroscientific correlates of flourishing and the psychological stages in the journey to enlightenment We explore the evidence of these states traits and experiences the concepts underpinning them and the affect cognition and behaviour they transform

Hope for a Good Life Andreas M. Krafft, Pasqualina Perrig-Chiello, Andreas M. Walker, 2018-05-02 This volume addresses the convincing belief that hope is an existential need and resource for living a good life not only when all is going well but especially in difficult times The findings reported in this volume result from the annual survey of the Hope Barometer Research Program collected during 7 years and conducted in several countries Structured in three parts the first one provides the reader with a general introduction into the topic of hope the theoretical and methodological foundations and major general results of the Hope Barometer Part two presents specific topics related to the levels and variations of hope across different population groups and the relationship of hope with several measures of well being Further part three focuses on comparisons of elements and levels of hope across cultures discussing methods and techniques to improve hope and thus increase overall well being

The Oxford Handbook of the History of Phenomenology Dan Zahavi, 2018-06-04 This Oxford Handbook offers a broad critical survey of the development of phenomenology one of the main streams of philosophy since the nineteenth century It comprises thirty seven specially written chapters by leading figures in the field which highlight historical influences connections and developments and offer a better comprehension and assessment of the continuity as well as diversity of the phenomenological tradition The handbook is divided into three distinct parts The first part addresses the way phenomenology has been influenced by earlier periods or figures in the history of philosophy The second part contains chapters targeting prominent phenomenologists How was their work affected by earlier figures how did their own views change over time and what kind of influence did they exert on subsequent thinkers The contributions in the third part trace various core topics such as subjectivity intersubjectivity embodiment spatiality imagination etc in the work of different phenomenologists in order to explore how the notions were transformed enriched and expanded up through the century This volume will be a source of insight for philosophers students of philosophy and for people working in other disciplines of the humanities social sciences and sciences who are interested in the phenomenological tradition It is an authoritative guide to how phenomenology started how it developed and where it is heading

The Development of Husserl's Thought Th. de Boer, 2012-12-06 Although this book is a translation from Dutch the chief obstacle to be overcome was Husserl's German technical terminology As I sought English equivalents for German phenomenological terms I made thankful use of Dorion Cairns' Guide for Translating Husserl as well as existing translations of Husserl's works especially J N Findlay's rendering of Logische Untersuchungen Since the technical terminology in the various translations and English studies of Husserl is far from uniform I had to devise my own system of equivalents for key Husserlian terms As I translated the quotations from Husserl's works into English I did consult the available translations and draw on them but I endeavored to keep the technical vocabulary uniform sometimes by fresh translations of the passages quoted and sometimes by slight alterations in the existing translations I made these changes not so much out of any basic disagreement with other translators as out of a desire to keep the terminology uniform throughout the book 1 For the benefit of German and French readers not entirely at home with the English phenomenological vocabulary I have included a small translation table in which my English equivalents for some central German terms are listed Words with cognates or well established phenomenological terms as their English equivalents have not been included Finally I should like to express my thanks to Prof

Intimacy, Transcendence, and Psychology S. Halling, 2007-12-25 This book addresses the richness and depth of our intimate relationships and especially those moments when we come to see ourselves and the other person in a new way In such moments we realize that however much we are influenced by heredity and upbringing we are also agents with the capacity for openness and transcendence

The Transcendental Turn Sebastian Gardner, Matthew Grist, 2015 Kant's influence on the history of philosophy is vast and protean The transcendental turn denotes one of its most important forms defined by the notion that Kant's deepest insight should not be identified with any specific epistemological or metaphysical doctrine but rather concerns the fundamental standpoint and terms of reference of philosophical enquiry To take the transcendental turn is not to endorse any of Kant's specific teachings but to accept that the Copernican revolution announced in the Preface of the Critique of Pure Reason sets philosophy on a new footing and constitutes the proper starting point of philosophical reflection. The aim of this volume is to map the historical trajectory of transcendental philosophy and the major forms that it has taken. The contributions from leading contemporary scholars focus on the question of what the transcendental turn consists in its motivation, justification and implications and the limitations and problems which it arguably confronts with reference to the relevant major figures in modern philosophy including Kant, Fichte, Hegel, Nietzsche, Husserl, Heidegger, Merleau-Ponty and Wittgenstein. Central themes and topics discussed include the distinction of realism from idealism, the relation of transcendental to absolute idealism, the question of how transcendental conclusions stand in relation to and whether they can be made compatible with naturalism, the application of transcendental thought to foundational issues in ethics and the problematic relation of phenomenology to transcendental enquiry.
