illustrated with photographs film stills and diagrams this book retrieves horror from the cultural fringes and demonstrates how its attributes permeate the modern condition and the material world Architect Knows Best Simon Richards,2016-04-15 The idea that buildings could be used to reform human behaviour and improve society was fundamental to the modernist architecture and planning of people like Walter Gropius Le Corbusier and Jos Luis Sert in the first half of the 20th century Their proposals for functional zoning multi level transport high rise living and machine inspired aesthetics came under attack from the 1950s onwards and many alternative approaches to architecture and planning emerged It was thought that the environmental determinist strand of the discourse was killed off at this time as well This book argues that it was not but on the contrary that it has deepened and diversified Many of the most prominent architect planners continue to design with a view to improving the behaviour of individual people and of society at large By looking at and interviewing major figures and movements of recent years in Britain Europe and America including L on Krier Peter Eisenman Andr s Duany Jane Jacobs Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown it demonstrates the myriad ways that architect planners seek to shape human behaviour through buildings In doing so the book raises awareness of this strand within the discourse and examines its different purposes and manifestations It questions whether it is an ineradicable and beneficial part of architecture and planning or a regrettable throwback to a more authoritarian phase discusses why is it seldom acknowledged directly and whether it could be handled more responsibly and with greater understanding Richards does not provide any simple solutions but in conclusion is critical of architect planners who abuse the rhetoric of social reform simply to leverage their attempts to secure building commissions while being more sympathetic towards those who appear to have a sincere desire to improve society through their buildings Four Museums Stefan Buzas,2004 The book presents four of the most important contemporary museums of the world Each essay details the unique design concepts of each museum illustrated with interior and exterior details New Stone Architecture David Dernie,2003 A discussion of stone construction and the nature of stone as a material Aimed at practising architects and students this study describes the new technologies that make the new stone forms possible This is followed by 33 case studies from around the world Harvard Design Magazine ,2004

Unexpected Affinities Pablo Meninato, 2018-05-23 While the concept of type has been present in architectural discourse since its formal introduction at the end of the eighteenth century its role in the development of architectural projects has not been comprehensively analyzed This book proposes a reassessment of architectural type throughout history and its impact on the development of architectural theory and practice Beginning with Laugier's 1753 Essay on Architecture Unexpected Affinities: The History of Type in the Architectural Project from Laugier to Duchamp traces type through nineteenth and twentieth century architectural movements and theories culminating in a discussion of the affinities between architectural type and Duchamp's concept of the readymade Includes over sixty black and white images
