Realism Modern Literatures In Perspective:

Concepts of Realism Luc Herman, 1996 Examination of the critical discourse on the literary movement of realism Concepts of Realism surveys the central episodes in the development of the discourse surrounding realism from its inception with substantial reference to developments in the United States It concentrates on modernism and the avant garde as hostile to the realist movement but more positive critics of the concept such as Erich Auerbach and Joseph Stern also receive ample treatment Realism Lilian R. Furst, 1992 Realism is one of the most common terms in the critical vocabulary yet has been described as a monster with many heads desperately in need of disentangling Professor Furst's collection is ideally placed to help the student understand its complexities and the range of responses it has evoked She begins with the reflections of such classic realist writers as Balzac and Henry James which provide a context for a series of major twentieth century readings After this overture the curtain is raised with contributions from humanist Marxist structuralist rhetorical reader oriented psychoanalytic deconstructionist and feminist criticism including excerpts from an international range of critics such as George Lukacs Roland Barthes David Lodge and J Hillis Miller A substantial Introduction Headnotes and a Glossary of Terms provide a wider context for the essays and explain terms that may be unfamiliar to the student A selective annotated Bibliography provides a guide to further reading Back cover

Literature and the Touch of the Real David Schalkwyk, 2004 It uses the Wittgensteinian notions of samples and criteria to show that language is involved in the appropriation of aspects of the world through the historically contingent activities of linguistic practice and it uses Wittgenstein's analysis of aspect perception to forge a new account of the ideological role of the literary and its relation to the real Jacket Critical Perspectives on Literature and Culture in the New World Order Washima Che Dan, Jason Sanjeev Ganesan, Noritah Omar, 2012-11-15 The fifteen chapters in this volume explore both new and tested theoretical perspectives on literature and culture at large this multiplicity of discourses is a reflection of the implicit discontent in conforming to the New World Order and a contestation against hierarchical relationships between countries which inform the social cultural and political climates of weaker nations With the political and economic hegemony of stronger nations weaker nations run the risk of being dominated or at the very least having their own national identity and sovereignty steeped in ambivalence in the face of a globalised culture This volume hopes to bring together critical views in relation to the construction of cultural studies in the Western framework the application of literary theory in the readings of vernacular literature contestation of the mainstream scientific methodology of cultural evaluation the role of English literature in Asian cultures the application of postcolonial theory in literature literary ethics in relation to Islamic literature as well as the Islamic and Western conceptions of democracy More than half of the articles in this collection centre on Islam as a guiding principle or as a context through which critical perspectives are made on literature and culture in today's globalised world order This inadvertent foregrounding of Islam reflects a continuing dialogue on and with Islam and its significant impact on existing academic discourses founded upon Western style scholarship

Transmodern Perspectives on Contemporary Literatures in English Jessica Aliaga-Lavrijsen, José María Yebra-Pertusa, 2019-03-14 Transmodern Perspectives on Contemporary Literatures in English offers a constructive dialogue on the concept of the transmodern focusing on the works by very different contemporary authors from all over the world such as Chimanda Ngozi Adichie Margaret Atwood Sebastian Barry A S Byatt Tabish Khair David Mitchell Alice Munroe Harry Parker Caryl Phillips Richard Rodriguez Alan Spence Tim Winton and Kenneth White The volume offers a thorough questioning of the concept of the transmodern as well as an informed insight into the future formal and thematic development of literatures in English Dickensland Lee Jackson, 2023-09-26 The intriguing history of Dickens's London showing how tourists have reimagined and reinvented the Dickensian metropolis for more than 150 years Jackson paints a vivid and detailed picture of the city as it was Dickens who was no stranger to the instructive and comedic joys of pedantry would surely have approved Ann Alicia Garza Times Literary Supplement Tourists have sought out the landmarks streets and alleys of Charles Dickens's London ever since the death of the world renowned author Late Victorians and Edwardians were obsessed with tracking down the locations dubbed Dickensland that famously featured in his novels But his fans were faced with a city that was undergoing rapid redevelopment where literary shrines were far from sacred Over the following century sites connected with Dickens were demolished relocated and reimagined Lee Jackson traces the fascinating history of

Dickensian tourism exploring both real Victorian London and a fictional city shaped by fandom tourism and heritage entrepreneurs Beginning with the late nineteenth century Jackson investigates key sites of literary pilgrimage and their relationship with Dickens and his work revealing hidden reinvented and even faked locations From vanishing coaching inns to submerged riverside stairs hidden burial grounds to apocryphal shops Dickensland charts the curious history of an imaginary world

Body and Narrative in Contemporary Literatures in German Lyn Marven, 2005-05-26 This book examines the relationship between representations of the body and narrative strategies in the work of three contemporary women writers from the former Eastern Bloc countries Herta and Paul Amirson an ethnic German from Romania Libuše Monštová who emigrated from Czechoslovakia to West Germany and chose to write in German and Kerstin Hensel from the GDR Marven shows how the content and form of their works are interlinked and how these challenge the hegemonic discourses within repressive socialist regimes The introduction contextualizes the writers socially culturally and historically and outlines the theoretical basis of the approach drawing on psychoanalysis performativity theory and feminist critical theory Chapters on the individual authors offer new interpretations of the writers works focusing on the structures of trauma in M ller s work hysteria in Mon kov s and the grotesque in Hensel s The images of the body analysed in the first half of each chapter show the effects of violence challenge the understanding of the body as natural or authentic and raise questions about identity and gender The analysis in the second half of each chapter covers a range of formal features from the fantastic and collage through parody and intertextuality to irony plot and story telling The book also traces developments in the work of all three authors taking account of the historical changes in the Eastern Bloc countries since 1989 Body and Narrative in Contemporary Literatures in German will be valuable for anyone researching contemporary German literatures as well as those interested in feminist theory minority literatures and trauma

Contemporary Perspectives on Architectural Organicism Gary Huafan He,Skender Luarasi,2023-06-07 This project is born out of similar questions and discussions on the topic of organicism emergent from two critical strands regarding the discourse of organic self generation one dealing with the problem of stopping in the design processes in history and the other with the organic legacy of style in the nineteenth century as a preeminent form of aesthetic ideology The epistemologies of self generation outlined by enlightenment and critical philosophy provided the model for the discursive formations of modern urban planning and architecture The form of the organism was thought to calibrate modernism s infinite extension The architectural organicism of today does not take on the language of the biological sciences as they did in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries but rather the image of complex systems be they computational informational geo ecological or even ontological aesthetic networks What is retained from the modernity of yesterday is the ideology of endless self generation Revisiting such a topic feels relevant now in a time when the idea of endless generation is rendered more suspect than ever amid an ever increasing speed and complexity of artificial intelligence AI networks The essays collected in this book offer a variety of critiques of the modernist idea of endless growth in the fields of architecture literature philosophy and the history of science They range in scope from theoretical and speculative to analytic and critical and from studies of the history of modernity to reflections of our contemporary world Far from advocating a return to the romantic forms of nineteenth century naturphilosophie this project focuses on probing organicism for new forms of critique and emergent subjectivities in a contemporary post pandemic constellation of neo naturalism in design climate change complex systems and information networks This book will be of interest to a broad range of researchers and professionals in architecture and art history historians of science visual artists and scholars in the humanities more generally

Theoretical Perspectives on Human Rights and Literature Elizabeth Swanson Goldberg,Alexandra Schultheis Moore,2013-03-01 What can literary theory reveal about discourses and practices of human rights and how can human rights frameworks help to make sense of literature How have human rights concerns shaped the literary marketplace and how can literature impact human rights concerns Essays in this volume theorize how both literature and reading literarily can shape understanding of human rights in productive ways Contributors to Theoretical Perspectives on Human Rights and Literature provide a shared history of modern literature and rights theorize how trauma ethics subjectivity and witnessing shape representations of human rights violations and claims in literary texts across a range of genres including poetry the novel graphic narrative short story testimonial and religious fables and consider a range of civil political social economic and cultural rights and their representations The authors reflect on the imperial and colonial histories of human rights as well as the cynical mobilization of human rights discourses in the name of war violence and repression at the same time they take seriously Gayatri Spivak's exhortation that human rights is something that we cannot not want exploring the central function of storytelling at the heart of all human rights claims discourses and policies
