Russia in the Shadows H G Wells, 2021-03-29 In January 1914 I visited Petersburg and Moscow for a couple of weeks in September 1920 I was asked to repeat this visit by Mr Kameney of the Russian Trade Delegation in London I snatched at this suggestion and went to Russia at the end of September with my son who speaks a little Russian We spent a fortnight and a day in Russia passing most of our time in Petersburg where we went about freely by ourselves and were shown nearly everything we asked to see We visited Moscow and I had a long conversation with Mr Lenin which I shall relate In Petersburg I did not stay at the Hotel International to which foreign visitors are usually sent but with my old friend Maxim Gorky The guide and interpreter assigned to assist us was a lady I had met in Russia in 1914 the niece of a former Russian Ambassador to London She was educated at Newnham she has been imprisoned five times by the Bolshevik Government she is not allowed to leave Petersburg because of an attempt to cross the frontier to her children in Esthonia and she was therefore the last person likely to lend herself to any attempt to hoodwink me I mention this because on every hand at home and in Russia I had been told that the most elaborate camouflage of realities would go on and that I should be kept in blinkers throughout my visit As a matter of fact the harsh and terrible realities of the situation in Russia cannot be camouflaged In the case of special delegations perhaps a certain distracting tumult of receptions bands and speeches may be possible and may be attempted But it is hardly possible to dress up two large cities for the benefit of two stray visitors wandering observantly often in different directions Naturally when one demands to see a school or a prison one is not shown the worst Any country would in the circumstances show the best it had and Soviet Russia is no exception One can allow for that Russia in the Shadows Herbert George Wells, 196? Russia in the Shadows (Annotated) H.
