Russia In War And Revolution:

War and Revolution in Russia, 1914-1917 Basil Gourko, 1919 Passage Through Armageddon W. Bruce Lincoln, 1994

Invaded by foreign armies and threatened by the terrors of civil strife Russia's leaders mobilized more than fifteen million fighting men between 1914 and 1918 only to find that at least a quarter of them had no boots rifles or ammunition With field casualties soaring into the millions scourges of starvation and disease joined the enemy's guns to double and treble Russia's human losses Never in modern history had war so devastated a nation Recounting the tale of the Russians passage through the shattering experience of the First World War and the revolutions of 1917 W Bruce Lincoln offers a profoundly intelligent and detailed chronology of the watershed events and devastating hardships that led to the Bolshevik Revolution Mining an abundance of resources including letters diaries memoirs government reports military dispatches and testimony given to the revolution's first Supreme Commission of Inquiry he allows the reader to step directly into army headquarters state council chambers boudoirs trenches and underground revolutionary hideaways of the men and women who shaped the events of this crucial era

War and Revolution in Russia, 1914-1917 (Classic Reprint) Basil Gourko, 2016-10-12

Excerpt from War and Revolution in Russia 1914 1917 IN the midst of profound peace in the active work of economical and social reform Russia as by thunderbolt was struck by the news of approaching mobilisation and by the urgent necessity of having recourse to the sword to protect her interests and those of the other Slav nations To define exactly the position in which the beginning of the war found Russia it is necessary briefly to survey her political condition at the moment The country was still feeling the disturbing effects of the Revolution of 1905 6 The intellectual classes which had now received access to and obtained a share in political life and legislation were engrossed by the struggle with the Government This turmoil centred specially in the Imperial Duma With the opening of military action this internal strife of the parties as in other European countries and the striving for supremacy between the Imperial Duma and the Government died down at first but later became gradually acute again This we observe was the case with all our Allies and in a certain degree with our enemies After three years of war this struggle becoming still more acute brought about a crisis which ended in the Revolution of March 1917 About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Making War, Forging Revolution Peter Holquist, 2002-12-30 Reinterpreting the emergence of the Soviet state Holquist situates the Bolshevik Revolution within the continuum of mobilization and violence that began with World War I and extended through Russia's civil war thereby providing a genealogy for Bolshevik political practices that places them clearly among Russian and European wartime measures
