The Churches and Ethnic Ideology in the Rwandan Crises 1900-1994 Tharcisse Gatwa, 2008-09-01 To many observers Rwanda was a colony of the White Fathers That Roman Catholic religious order created in Algiers in 1868 by Cardinal Lavigerie evangelized the country from 1900 onwards effectively becoming the state church To maintain its domination the Roman Catholic Church s hierarchy supported the theory of the so called hamite supremacy by selecting educating and establishing an elite among one of the three Rwandan social groups the Batutsi who were given the monopoly of power Frustrations and recriminations that resulted from this injustice and its accompanying exclusion of other groups from power led to the bloodshed of the uprisings of the 1959 revolution that preceded independence in 1962 Then in 1959 the Roman Catholic Church abandoned the Batutsi in favour of the Bahutu majority From 1973 to 1994 both Catholic and Protestant leaders entered into close political relations with the regime of the MRND Mouvement R evolutionnaire National pour le D veloppement which alienated them from the people of Rwanda when human rights abuses were widespread culminating in the war in 1990 and the genocide of 1994 If the church's mission remains that of teaching and evidencing love, justice and righteousness Micah 6:8 there is the need for it to recover its credibility so that it can play its part in the healing and reconciliation of the country and this can only be done through its confession and repentance of its failures and complicity in the tragedies to heighten the political and economic inequalities that underline ethnic divisions and are an important ongoing barrier to reconciliation      Industries Without Smokestacks Richard S. Newfarmer, Finn Tarp, John Page, 2018 Although manufacturing has played an important role in the growth of developing countries Africa has lagged in this industry This book argues that activities sharing the characteristics of manufacturing including tourism and ICT are beginning to play an important role in Africa offering new opportunities for growth in coming decades      The Actors in Europe's Foreign Policy Christopher Hill, 2013-01-11 Five years ago observers might have doubted that national foreign policies would continue to be of importance it seemed inevitable that collective European positions were becoming ever more common and effective Now the pendulum has swung back with a vengeance The divided European responses to the prospect of war with Iraq in 1990 91 and to the war in the Balkans have made what happens in the national capitals seem divisive The Actors in Europe's Foreign Policy is a timely survey of the interplay between the European Union's Common Foreign and Security Policy and the long established national foreign policies of the Union's Member States The book contains a chapter on each country in the Union as well as a chapter on the United States in its role as the thirteenth seat at the table There is also a chapter on the European Commission whose role in the external relations of the Community steadily grew during the 1980's This book will be invaluable for students and scholars of the European Union and of international politics It will also be of great interest to practitioners in all countries concerned with Europe's role in international affairs      Africa on the Move Hana Horáková, Stephanie Rudwick, Martin Schmiedl, 2020 Africa is on the move New geopolitical constellations have prompted individuals and groups to escape war authoritarian regimes environmental crises and poverty This has led to multiple migration patterns and complex mobilities of African people within and outside of Africa This volume demonstrates that there is no unifying way to conceptualise the multiple nature of African mobilities Some authors have conceptualised mobility on a metaphorical level while others provide analyses along spatial movement This volume offers a vast portrayal of the diversity innovation and richness of African mobile experiences through geographical linguistic and socio political domains Providing nuanced and complex analyses offered by African Studies scholars of various disciplines this book aims to contribute to new insights into African mobile experiences and to a repositioning of how Africa is represented globally      Happiness Across Cultures Helaine Selin, Gareth Davey, 2012-02-28 Different cultures experience happiness differently Traditionally the West is considered materialistic and happiness is said to come from achievement and acquisition The East is said to be more people oriented where happiness is a result of deep personal interactions Thus poor people can be happier in the East than the West because they are not so concerned with possession and more with society This book considers happiness and quality of life in non Western countries and cultures Its coverage is diverse and spans the breadth of the non Western world revealing unique perspectives of happiness and life quality embedded in rich cultural traditions and histories      Tips for Travelers to Sub-Saharan Africa United States. ### Betrayed

S. Kaplan, 2013-11-26 Betrayed takes a new approach to the subject of global poverty one that doesn't blame the West but also doesn't rely on the West for solutions Betrayed puts the poor themselves at center stage and shows how their entrepreneurial energies are shackled by political and social discrimination When these shackles are removed as is happening in places such as China and Vietnam the poor are able to seize opportunities and drive wealth creation Combining the latest research into poverty and state building with the author's personal observations drawn from years running businesses in the developing world Betrayed explains how leaders in the developing world can build more inclusive societies and more equitable governments thereby creating dynamic national economies and giving the poor the opportunity to accumulate the means and skills to control their own destinies This refreshing new approach will appeal to business people who are fed up with reading critiques of global poverty that see capitalism as the problem not the solution people in both the global North and South who want to see attention focused not on Western aid but on what developing countries and their citizens can do to help themselves scholars and practitioners in the development field who are looking for new practicable ideas and general readers who want accessible and engaging accounts of ordinary people struggling to overcome poverty
