Writing the Southwest David King Dunaway, Sara L. Spurgeon, 2003 The accompanying CD provides excerpts from the interviews with the authors

Getting Over the Color Green Scott Slovic, 2001 Desert vistas are often deemed vacant inhospitable wastelands Don't suggest that to Joy Harjo Pat Mora or other contemporary southwestern writers In these arid stretches often devoid of green today's southwestern writers see pyrotechnic colors and Gothic shapes that excite and often overwhelm the imagination And they capture this excitement in words that fix these desert images in the minds of readers who may too often look at the world through green colored glasses This anthology of contemporary nature writing from the Greater Southwest brings together a host of writers including peers of Edward Abbey such as Charles Bowden and Ann Zwinger and representatives of a new generation of writers such as Rick Bass and Terry Tempest Williams The book is an eclectic blend of nonfiction and fiction field notes and poetry through which artists of diverse backgrounds both celebrate and illuminate the unique vitality and complexity of southwestern literature proving that green is only one of many colors on their palette The selections included here range all across the southwestern landscape and explore adventures in the wild topics in natural history living close to the land and efforts at conservation and restoration They clearly demonstrate that there is grace and beauty in this often maligned part of the world both in the human traditions that have developed in the region and in the natural features of the desert itself

Ethnic Literary Traditions in American Children's Literature M. Stewart, Y. Atkinson, 2009-11-23 Esteemed contributors expand the range of possibilities for reading understanding and teaching children's literature as ethnic literature rather than children's literature in this ambitious collection

Indian Resilience and Rebuilding Donald L. Fixico, 2013-10-10 Indian Resilience and Rebuilding provides an Indigenous view of the last one hundred years of Native history and guides readers through a century of achievements It examines the progress that Indians have accomplished in rebuilding their nations in the 20th century revealing how Native communities adapted to the cultural and economic pressures in modern America Donald Fixico examines issues like land allotment the Indian New Deal termination and relocation Red Power and self determination casino gaming and repatriation He applies ethnohistorical analysis and political economic theory to provide a multi layered approach that ultimately shows how Native people reinvented themselves in order to rebuild their nations Fixico identifies the tools to this empowerment such as education navigation within cultural systems modern Indian leadership and indigenized political economy He explains how these tools helped Indian communities to rebuild their nations Fixico constructs an Indigenous paradigm of Native ethos and reality that drives Indian modern political economies heading into the twenty first century This illuminating and comprehensive analysis of Native nation s resilience in the twentieth century demonstrates how Native Americans reinvented themselves rebuilt their nations and ultimately became major forces in the United States Indian Resilience and Rebuilding redefines how modern American history can and should be told Current Contents.
