Shifting Currents Karen Eva Carr, 2022-07-18 A deep dive into the history of aquatics that exposes centuries old tensions of race gender and power at the root of many contemporary swimming controversies Shifting Currents is an original and comprehensive history of swimming It examines the tension that arose when non swimming northerners met African and Southeast Asian swimmers Using archaeological textual and art historical sources Karen Eva Carr shows how the water simultaneously attracted and repelled these northerners swimming seemed uncanny related to witchcraft and sin Europeans used Africans and Native Americans swimming skills to justify enslaving them but northerners also wanted to claim water s power for themselves They imagined that swimming would bring them health and demonstrate their scientific modernity As Carr reveals this unresolved tension still sexualizes women s swimming and marginalizes Black and Indigenous swimmers today Thus the history of swimming offers a new lens through which to gain a clearer view of race gender and power on a centuries long scale

Confucianism and Sacred Space Chin-shing Huang, 2020-12-01 Temples dedicated to Confucius are found throughout China and across East Asia dating back over two thousand years These sacred and magnificent sanctuaries hold deep cultural and political significance This book brings together studies from Chin shing Huang s decades long research into Confucius temples that individually and collectively consider Confucianism as religion Huang uses the Confucius temple to explore Confucianism both as one of China s three religions with Buddhism and Daoism and as a cultural phenomenon from the early imperial era through the present day He argues for viewing Confucius temples as the holy ground of Confucianism symbolic sites of sacred space that represent a point of convergence between political and cultural power Their complex histories shed light on the religious nature and character of Confucianism and its status as official religion in imperial China Huang examines topics such as the political and intellectual elements of Confucian enshrinement how Confucius temples were brought into the imperial ritual system from the Tang dynasty onward and why modern Chinese largely do not think of Confucianism as a religion A nuanced analysis of the question of Confucianism as religion Confucianism and Sacred Space offers keen insights into Confucius temples and their significance in the intertwined intellectual political social and religious histories of imperial China
