The White Blackbird Robert Aitken, 1912 Finding Resilience Brian Walker, 2019-03-01 Floods fires famines

epidemics and disasters of all kinds are on the increase and as their frequency rises so does the call for greater resilience But what does that mean The word is used differently in psychology ecology economics and engineering and runs the risk of becoming meaningless jargon This would be most unfortunate because if we are to successfully navigate very real and dangerous global trends it is resilience that needs to be understood and fostered Finding Resilience is international in scope and unravels how ecosystems societies and people cope with disturbance and adversity An authoritative but plain English account which is based on the experiences of researchers the fascinating stories from around the world reveal what resilience is how it works in different kinds of systems how it is expressed and how it can be gained and lost Blackbird

Bye-Bye Blackbird Peter Moss,2004-03 Eleven years old when his family joined the Anglo Indian exodus on the eve of India s independence Peter Moss never felt at home in the postwar austerity of his father s land where he saw how far and how fast Britain was forsaking both her empire and her greatness When he returned to his childhood haunts more than thirty years later he found his Anglo India had disappeared submerged beneath the waves of history Bye Bye Blackbird is more than a loving portrait of that lost world It is also a wry but affectionate look at Britain bracing herself for the implosion that would follow the Big Bang of her imperial expansion when the fall out would come hurtling back to the epicentre and change the very nature of what it meant to be British His explorations brought him into contact with a vivid spectrum of characters as diverse as a First World War pilot who duelled with the Red Baron s successor above the trenches of the Western Front a sadistic sergeant who loved to be lampooned in caricature a redoubtable landlady who wouldn t allow a Kikuyu bishop in her boarding house Field Marshall Montgomery Sir Winston Churchill and a mad Irishman who drove him back to India in a battered overland bus
