Ophiris Victor Moulder, 1900 Colonizing Bodies Mary-Ellen Kelm, 1998 Recent debates about the health of First Nations peoples have drawn a flurry of public attention and controversy and have placed the relationship between Aboriginal well being and reserve locations and allotments in the spotlight Aboriginal access to medical care and the transfer of funds and responsibility for health from the federal government to individual bands and tribal councils are also bones of contention Comprehensive discussion of such issues however has often been hampered by a lack of historical analysis Colonizing Bodies examines the impact of colonization on Aboriginal health in British Columbia during the first half of the twentieth century Mary Ellen Kelm explores how Aboriginal bodies were materially affected by Canadian Indian policy which placed restrictions on fishing and hunting allocated inadequate reserves forced children into unhealthy residential schools and criminalized Indigenous healing She goes on to consider how humanitarianism and colonial medicine were used to pathologize Aboriginal bodies and institute a regime of doctors hospitals and field matrons all working to encourage assimilation Finally Kelm reveals how Aboriginal people were able to resist and alter these forces in order to preserve their own cultural understanding of their bodies disease and medicine The Cinema of Raúl Ruiz Michael Goddard, 2013-09-22 Raúl Ruiz while considered one of the world's most significant filmmakers by several film critics is yet to be the subject of any thorough engagement with his work in English This volume sets out on this task by mapping as fully as possible Ruiz's cinematic trajectory across more than five decades of prolific work up to his death in 2011 ranging from his earliest work in Chile to high budget European costume dramas culminating in Mysteries of Lisbon 2010 It does so by treating Ruiz's work with its surrealist magic realist popular cultural and neo Baroque sources as a type of impossible cinematic cartography mapping real imaginary and virtual spaces and crossing between different cultural contexts aesthetic strategies and technical media It argues that across the different phases of Ruiz's work identified there are key continuities such as the invention of singular cinematic images and the interrogation of their possible and impossible combinations John Betjeman Greg Morse, 2012 John Betjeman was undoubtedly the most popular Poet Laureate since Tennyson But beneath the thoroughly modern window on Britain that he opened during his lifetime lay the influence of his nineteenth century forbears This book explores his identity through such Victorianism via the verse of that period but also its architecture religious faith and more importantly religious doubt It was nevertheless a process which took time In the 1930s Betjeman's work was tinted with modernism and traditionalism He found Victorian buildings funny and wrote much in praise of the Bauhaus style even though his early poetry was peppered with Victorian references This leaning was incorporated into a greater sense of purpose during World War 2 when he transformed himself from precious humorist into propagandist The resulting sense of cohesion grew when the dangers of post war urban redevelopment heightened the need to critique the present via the poetics of the past a mood which continued up to and beyond his gaining the Laureateship in 1972 This duty proved to be a millstone so the official poems are thus explored by the author more fully than hitherto The conclusion of looks back to Betjeman s 1960 verse autobiography Summoned by Bells which is seen as the apogee of his achievement and a snapshot of his identity Included here is the first critical appreciation of the lyrics embodied within the text which are taken as a map of the young poet s literary growth Larkin s 1959 question What exactly is Betjeman then leads to a final appraisal of his originality as evidenced by his glances towards postmodernism feminism and post colonialism The fact is that Betjeman never quite fits in anywhere He is always a square peg in a round hole or a round peg in a square hole often for the sheer enjoyment of so being In a sense his desire to be as non conformist as a Quaker meeting house makes him a radical rather than the reactionary that his interests imply He was a champion of beauty and the British Isles and clearly did much to make us see the worth of our Victorian forebears Greg Morse s book highlights this important facet of his work Creation as

Sacrament John Chryssavgis,2019-06-27 John Chryssavgis explores the sacred dimension of the natural environment and the significance of creation in the rich theological history and spiritual classics of the Orthodox Church through the lens of its unique ascetical liturgical and mystical experience The global ecological crisis affecting humanity s air water and land as well as the planet s flora and fauna has resulted in manifest fissures on the image of God in creation Chryssavgis examines from an Orthodox Christian perspective the possibility of restoring that shattered image through the sacramental lenses of cosmic transfiguration cosmic interconnection and cosmic reconciliation The viewpoints of early theologians and contemporary thinkers are extensively explored from a theological and spiritual perspective including countering those who deny that God s creation is in crisis Presenting a worldview advanced and championed by the Orthodox Church in the modern world this book encourages personal and societal transformation in making ethical and economic choices that respect creation as sacrament
