Krivolutskaya, 2015-12-09 This book addresses fundamental problems in the evolution of magmatic and ore forming processes in the Noril'sk area of northern Central Siberia Based on data on the geology and geochemistry of rocks obtained by the author in the course of fieldworks and new analytical studies applying XRF ICP MS microprobe analysis ion probe analysis and studying melt and fluid inclusions in olivine as well as stable and radiogenic isotopes in the rocks it was proposed a new scheme for the evolution of magmatism including two episodes rift and trap per se The ultramafic mafic massifs are classified into three geochemical types the most important of which the ore bearing Noril'sk type was formed in post Nadezhdinsky time as an independent pulse of magmatic activity The primary melts

for ore bearing intrusions had tholeiitic composition with elevated MgO 8 wt% and low volatile contents data from melt inclusions in olivine and pyroxenes in combination with numerical simulations using the COMAGMAT program package The assimilation of host rocks by the parental melts was studied in the contact zones of the Maslovsky and Talnakh intrusions It was shown that it had taken place only in narrow zones about 1-2 m and did not play sufficient role in ore formation It was suggested that the source of the material was lower crustal rocks in long lived rift zones where sulfides accumulated in several stages The book offers a valuable resource for specialists in the geology of ore deposits and petrology as well as for advanced Geology students
