Ellenberger, 2020-12-17 What is the relationship between culture and mental health Is mental illness universal Are symptoms of mental disorders different across social groups In the late 1960s these questions gave rise to a groundbreaking series of articles written by the psychiatrist Henri Ellenberger who would go on to publish The Discovery of the Unconscious The History and Evolution of Dynamic Psychiatry in 1970 Fifty years later they are presented for the first time in English translation introduced by historian of science Emmanuel Delille Ethnopsychiatry explores one of the most controversial subjects in psychiatric research the role of culture in mental health In his articles Ellenberger addressed the complex clinical and theoretical problems of cultural specificity in mental illness collective psychoses differentiations within cultural groups and biocultural interactions He was especially attuned to the correlations between rapid cultural transformations in postwar society urbanization and the frequency of mental illness Ellenberger drew from a vast and varied primary and secondary literature in several languages as well as from his own findings in clinical practice which included work with indigenous peoples In analyzing Ellenberger s contributions Delille unveils the transnational and interdisciplinary origins of transcultural psychiatry which grew out of knowledge networks that crisscrossed the globe The book has a rich selection of appendices including Ellenberger s lecture notes on a case of peyote addiction and his correspondence with anthropologist and psychoanalyst Georges Devereux These original essays and their masterful contextualization provide a compelling introduction to the foundations of transcultural psychiatry and one of its most distinguished and prolific researchers St Mary's E.A. Heaman,2003-05-08 Focusing on St Mary's hospital London's great teaching hospital and traditionally the pre eminent site for medical education in England E A Heaman traces the emergence of the modern scientific teaching hospital and the intellectual social and political forces shaping it Examining the social problems connected with health and the political debates around these problems at both the local parish level and on the national stage Heaman explains how and why hospitals like St Mary's originally charitable institutions for the poor began to admit middle class patients and eventually came under a national health insurance scheme

For Patients of Moderate Means David Paul Gagan,Rosemary Ruth Gagan,2002 Between 1890 and 1910 scientific and technological innovation transformed the custodial Victorian charity hospital for the sick poor into the primary source of effective acute medical care for all members of society For the next half century hospitals coped with relentlessly escalating demands for accessibility by both medical indigents and a new clientele of patients able and willing to pay for hospitalization With limited statutory revenues and unpredictable voluntary support hospitals taxed paying patients through ever increasing user fees offering in return privacy comfort service and medical attendance in private and semi private wards that were more appealing to middle class patients than the stark and grudging service of the public wards J.B. Collip and the Development of Medical Research in Canada Alison Li,2003-10-27 In the early years of the twentieth century medical research in Canada was the job of a select few By mid century it had grown into a systematic large scale venture that involved teams of professional scientists and dozens of laboratories in universities government and industry J B Collip skilled both as a bench scientist and an entrepreneur played a leading role in this transformation In J B Collip and the Development of Medical Research in Canada Alison Li details how Collip leapt into prominence in 1921-22 as part of the team at the University of Toronto that isolated insulin When the Nobel Prize was awarded to Frederick Banting and J J R Macleod in 1923 Banting announced he was sharing his award with Charles Best Macleod in turn announced he was sharing his award with Collip Collip was known for his remarkable skills in making hormone extracts many of which proved to have therapeutic and therefore commercial value At McGill University in the 1930s he headed a thriving research group that carried out investigations of the pituitary and sex hormones including development of one of the first orally active estrogen products Collip's story sheds light on early negotiations between academic science and the pharmaceutical industry and on the complexities of sustaining a research laboratory before the rise of government funding As the head of the National Research Council's medical research division during its formative years Collip helped shape the foundations of organized support for medical research in Canada An Ambulance on Safari Melissa Diane Armstrong,2020-10-22 During the apartheid era thousands of South African political activists militants and refugees fled arrest by crossing into neighbouring southern African countries Although they had escaped political oppression many required medical attention during their period of exile An Ambulance on Safari describes the efforts of the African National Congress ANC to deliver emergency healthcare to South African exiles and in the same stroke to establish political legitimacy and foster anti apartheid sentiment on an international stage Banned in South Africa from 1960 to 1990 the ANC continued its operations underground in anticipation of eventual political victory styling itself as a government in waiting In 1977 it created its own Health Department which it presented as an alternative medical service and the nucleus of a post apartheid healthcare system By publicizing its own democratic policies as well as the racist practices of healthcare delivery in South Africa the Health Department won international attention for its cause and provoked widespread condemnation of the apartheid state While the global campaign was unfolding successfully the department s provision of healthcare on the ground was intermittent as patients confronted a fledgling medical system experiencing various growing pains Still the legacy of the department would be long as many medical professionals who joined the post apartheid Department of Health in South Africa had been trained in exile during the liberation struggle With careful attention to both the international publicity campaign and on the ground medical efforts An Ambulance on Safari reveals the intricate and significant political role of the ANC s Health Department and its influence on the anti apartheid movement Push! Weaver,2009-04-01 More people die by suicide each year than by homicide wars and terrorist attacks combined Witnesses and survivors are left perplexed and troubled Doctors clinical psychologists and social workers try to deal with it through their professional routines sociologists and psychiatrists attempt to provide theoretical explanations of it In a study of nearly 7000 suicides from 1900 to 1950 in New Zealand and Queensland Australia John Weaver documents the challenges that ordinary people experienced during turbulent times and using witnesses testimony death bed statements and suicide notes reconstructs individuals thoughts as they decide whether to endure their suffering Bridging social and medical history Weaver presents an intellectual and political history of suicide studies a revealing construction and deconstruction of suicide rates a discussion of gender life stages and socio economic circumstances in relation to suicide patterns reflections on reasoning processes and intent and society s reactions to suicide including medical intervention A Sadly Troubled History marshals thousands of suicide inquests replete with observations on the anxieties of unemployment the heartbreak of romantic disappointment the pain of domestic turmoil and the torments of mental illness to demonstrate that history although like biochemistry sociology psychology and psychiatry reliant on remarkable yet imperfect information can contribute to a better understanding of the suicidal act and its motives

triggered radical political social and economic changes including the reorganization of the medical profession During this tumultuous period of transition physicians and surgeons merged in an effort to monopolize the field and ensure their professional survival in a postcolonial liberal republic Carving a Niche traces the evolution of various medical occupations in Mexico from the end of the colonial period to the beginning of the regime of Porfirio Díaz demonstrating how competition and collaboration identity ever changing legislation political instability and foreign intervention resulted in a complex gradual and unique process of medical professionalization one that neither conformed to theoretical models nor resembled hierarchies found in other parts of the world Through extensive research Luz María Hernández Sáenz analyzes the uphill struggle of practitioners to claim their place as public health experts and to provide and control medical education in the face of seemingly insurmountable odds Highlighting the significance of race class gender and nationality Carving a Niche demonstrates that in the case of Mexico liberal reforms praised by traditional works often hindered rather than promoted the creation of a modern medical profession and the delivery of quality health care services
