Markets Marketing In Developing Economies:

Markets, marketing and developing countries Hans van Trijp, Paul Ingenbleek, 2023-09-04 Markets are increasingly seen as vehicles to solve problems in developing countries. For example, improvements in market performance make potentially important contributions to achieving the Millennium Development Goals. Access of smallholders to well-functioning markets is increasingly expected to contribute to poverty alleviation and improvement of both food security and environmental sustainability. This book presents the views of leading experts on where we stand and where we are heading in the field of markets, marketing and developing countries. Twenty essays in this book describe the role of marketing in achieving development goals, the track record of past market policies, the current functioning of value chains, the roles that market institutions play to facilitate market access for smallholders, as well as the potential to add value to farm produce through certification schemes, new technologies or innovation systems. The book is published in honour of the retirement of Aad van Tilburg, one of the pioneers in the field of marketing in developing countries. Early on in his career, Van Tilburg recognised that improvements in the functioning of markets and marketing can be key to economic development, with special reference to the livelihood of small producers and other market actors in developing countries. Marketing in Developing Economies Justus M. Munyoki, Joseph Odhiambo Owino, Dr. Victor M. Ndambuki, The book focuses on marketing practices in the developing countries with a special focus on Africa. The book is divided into 15 chapters covering various aspects of the marketing. The authors have as much as possible used local African examples. Each chapter has at least two cases, one at the beginning and another towards the end, with one or a few questions to assist the reader to reflect on the case. The authors have tried to use very practical cases that make it quite easy for the reader to understand and follow. Academicians will find this book very useful, especially in tackling marketing issues within the African context. Practitioners will equally find it very useful as it offers very practical suggestions on how to solve marketing problems, especially in the developing countries.

Marketing in Developing Countries (RLE Marketing) G. Kindra, 2014-09-25 The articles in this collection discuss the role of marketing in development and include case studies from various developing countries. They consider state enterprises, marketing education, birth control and comparative marketing models. Marketing in Economic Development Reed Moyer, 1965 Analysis of markets and marketing systems primarily in developing countries, concept, economic implications, distribution dynamics, retail trade of consumer goods produced chiefly by small-scale industries, women traders, predominant trade restrictions and barriers, efficiency of trading process, Research needs and methods, References pp 58 to 63.

Contemporary Retail Marketing in Emerging Economies David Eshun Yawson, Fred A. Yamoah, 2022-10-11 This book highlights the development of retail marketing in developing economies and presents this sector as a major area of growth and business opportunity. With a special focus on supermarket chains, the authors show that the advancement of technology and infrastructure means that there are now increased electronic capabilities for data collection, giving retailers more opportunities to pursue micro and macro marketing strategies The authors explain the evolution of this new era of marketing and the associated impact on all stakeholders especially consumers Taking the example of Ghana which is considered a leader among African nations in the use of loyalty cards the authors are able to set a benchmark for other emerging countries especially those that are experiencing similar trends The book is a valuable resource for students researchers and foreign companies wishing to expand their knowledge of the marketing strategies employed by emerging economies in Sub Saharan Africa Food Marketing in Developing Countries United States.
