Australian national bibliography ,1961 Pricing Carbon in Australia Rebecca Pearse, 2017-11-08 In the mid 2000s it seemed that the global carbon market would take off and spark the worldwide transition to a profitable low carbon economy A decade on the experiment in carbon trading is failing Carbon market schemes have been plagued by problems and resistance to carbon pricing has come from the political Left and Right In the Australian case a national emissions trading scheme ETS was dismantled after a long bitter public debate The replacement Direct Action Plan is also in disrepute Pricing Carbon in Australia examines the rise and fall of the ETS in Australia between 2007 and 2015 exploring the underlying contradictions of marketised climate policy in detail Through this and other international examples the book offers a critique of the political economy of marketised climate policy exploring why the hopes for global carbon trading have been dashed The Australian case is interpreted in light of a broader legitimisation crisis as state strategies for temporarily displacing the climate crisis continue to fail Importantly in the wake of carbon market failure alternative agendas for state action are emerging as campaigns for the retrenchment of fossil fuel assets and for just renewable energy transition continue transforming climate politics and policy as we know it This book is a valuable resource for practitioners and academics in the fields of environmental policy and politics and social movement studies New Instruments of Environmental Governance?
