Markets Entrepreneurs And Liberty An Austrian View Of Capitalism:

Markets, Entrepreneurs and Liberty W. Duncan Reekie, 1984      Studies in Austrian Capital Theory, Investment, and Time Malte Faber, 2013-03-14 The neglect of time in general and of the time structure of production in particular in mainstream economics led to the rebirth of the Austrian tradition in the seventies The names of BERNHOLZ HICKS KIRZNER and VON WEIZSACKER are representative of different approaches In 1979 my Introduction to Modern Austrian Capital Theory appeared in which I unified various papers BERNHOLZ and I had written I also linked our approach to those of VON NEUMANN of HICKS and of neoclassical capital theory These Studies supplement and continue my Introduction in various ways With all the authors of the present volume I have cooperated for several years This volume is subdivided into five parts The first one Historical Perspectives gives first an outline on the development of Austrian capital theory from its origins to the present Next it relates Modern Austrian Capital Theory to SRAFFA's theory and to the Austrian subjectivists pure time preference theory of interest The latter theory is represented in its opposition to the traditional productivity cum time preference explanation of interest which is common to neoclassical and BOHM BAWERKian capital theory alike The Austrian subjectivist pure time preference theory has been misinterpreted in its recent presentation which has led to misunderstandings It is shown that there is no real contradiction between the two approaches      Austrian Economics and the Political Economy of Freedom Richard M. Ebeling, 2003 He shows the continuities between the positive contributions of the classical economists and the Austrians in contrast to the neoclassical conceptions of man the market economy and theory formation for policy applications Particular emphasis is given to the Austrian view of the human actor as creative innovator and planner who changes his world to improve his circumstances in comparison to the neoclassical idea of man as a passive economizer within given constraints The Austrian approach is applied to the problems of the regulated economy socialist central planning the welfare state monetary policy international trade and the hundred year conflict between classical liberalism and collectivism      The Driving Force of the Market Israel M. Kirzner, 2000 This book offers a unique insight into the character of Austrian economics and collects the recent work of the world's leading authorities in this area The book will be welcomed by those interested in the legacy of Austrian economics      Entrepreneurship and the Market Process David A Harper, 2002-01-08 Entrepreneurship is central to the market process and yet most theories of it fail to tackle the problem of how economic agents learn from their experience This book redresses this by systematically applying the ideas of Karl Popper It treats the entrepreneur as a theorist who develops conjectures which are then tested by exposure to the market in an effort to eliminate errors This is a critical aspect of the development of new ventures as most entrepreneurial ideas turn out to be mistakes at least in their original form      Unknowledge and Choice in Economics Stephen F. Frowen, 1990-06-18 A collection of papers discussing unknowledge and choice in economics The topics focus especially on G L S Shackle's theories and his place in subjectivist thought but also include time choice and dynamics in economics and interest rates and investment decisions      Proceedings of the 1986 Academy of Marketing Science (AMS) Annual Conference Naresh K. Malhotra, Jon M. Hawes, 2014-11-18 Founded in 1971 the Academy of Marketing Science is an international organization dedicated to promoting timely explorations of phenomena related to the science of marketing in theory research and practice Among its services to members and the community at large the Academy offers conferences congresses and symposia that attract delegates from around the world Presentations from these events are published in this Proceedings series which offers a comprehensive archive of volumes reflecting the evolution of the field Volumes deliver cutting edge research and insights complimenting the Academy's flagship journals the Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science JAMS and AMS Review Volumes are edited by leading scholars and practitioners across a wide range of subject areas in marketing science This volume includes the full proceedings from the 1986 Academy of Marketing Science AMS Annual Conference held in Anaheim California      On the Game Sophie Day, 2007-06-20 Winner of the Eileen Basker Prize and the Wellcome Medal for Anthropology as Applied to Medical Problems On the Game is an ethnographic account of prostitutes and prostitution Sophie Day has followed the lives of individual women over fifteen years and her book details their attempts to manage their lives against a backdrop of social disapproval The period was one of substantial change within the sex industry Through the lens of public health economics criminalisation and human rights Day explores how individual sex workers live in public and in private This offers a unique perspective on contemporary capitalist society that will be of interest both to a broad range of social scientists The author brings a unique perspective to her work as both an anthropologist and the founder of the renowned Praed Street Project set up in 1986 as a referral and support centre for London prostitutes      Foundations of Entrepreneurship and Economic Development David A Harper, 2003-03-13 This well written book is the first to deal with entrepreneurship in all its aspects It considers the economic psychological political legal and cultural dimensions of entrepreneurship from a market process perspective David A Harper has produced a volume that analyses why some people are quicker than others in discovering profit opportunities Importantly the book also covers the issue of how cultural value systems orient entrepreneurial vision and in contrast to conventional wisdom the book argues that individualist cultural values are not categorically superior to group oriented values in terms of their consequences for entrepreneurial discovery      Reflections of Eminent Economists Michael Szenberg, Lall Ramrattan, 2004-01-01 We are indebted to Michael Szenberg's persuasive powers in eliciting the self analyses of economists For these insights the budding economist as well as the historian of thought should be grateful From the foreword by Kenneth J Arrow
