From the arrival of the first boxes of bitter Seville oranges at the greengrocer's in January to the sweet sharp scent of citrus fruit filling the kitchen as the preserving pan bubbles away on the stove, there is something deeply satisfying about the annual ritual of making marmalade and piling the pantry shelves high with neatly labeled jars of glistening preserves. Once you've perfected the set and balanced the bittersweet flavour in your traditional orange marmalade, you might experiment with different fruits or try adding alcohol essences or spices: cardamom, ginger or a hint of bergamot. But after that, what to do with all those pots of citrus perfection? A jar or two to friends and family, another for the breakfast table, and then what? It's time to start using it for baking and cooking. From Christmas ham to rhubarb and marmalade trifle and from chocolate fondants with bitter orange centres to marmalade marguerites, here is all the inspiration you need to make the most of marmalade right through the year. More than Marmalade Rosanne Tolin, 2020-03-03. Michael Bond never intended to be a children's writer. Though an avid reader, he was by no means a model student and quit school at 14. He repaired rooftop radio transmitters during the bombing of Britain in World War II and later joined the army. He wrote about the war and more selling stories here and there. One day while searching for inspiration at his typewriter, hoping for a big story that would allow him to write full time, a stuffed bear on top of the shelf, a Christmas present for his wife, suddenly caught his eye. Bond poured his personal feelings about the events of his era, the refugee children his family had hosted in the countryside, a war-torn country in recovery, the bustling immigrant neighborhood where he lived, into the story of a little bear from Peru who tries very, very hard to do things right. The result was A Bear Called Paddington. An incredible true tale. More than Marmalade Michael Bond and the Story of Paddington Bear is the first biography about the writer behind the beloved series. Author Rosanne Tolin reveals how world history, Bond's life and 1950s immigrant culture were embedded into Paddington's creation, bringing middle grade readers a delightful, informative and engaging book with a timely message of acceptance. The Canner, 1929.
