Marx On Suicide

Karl Marx

Marx On Suicide:

Marx on Suicide Karl Marx, 1999 This provocative volume presents a glimpse of social philosopher Karl Marx's views on the subject of suicide The History of Suicide in England, 1650-1850, Part II vol 8 Mark Robson, Paul S Seaver, Kelly McGuire, Jeffrey Merrick, Daryl Lee, 2021-11-18 First published in 2013 This two part eight volume reset edition draws together a range of sources from the early modern era through to the industrial age to show the changes and continuities in responses to the social political legal and spiritual problems that self murder posed Part II Volume 8 contains 1800 1850 Medical Writers continued Statistical Inquiries Social Criticism Poetic and Popular Representations and Cases The Ethics of Suicide Margaret Pabst Battin, 2015-09-11 Is suicide wrong profoundly morally wrong Almost always wrong but excusable in a few cases Sometimes morally permissible Imprudent but not wrong Is it sick a matter of mental illness Is it a private matter or a largely social one Could it sometimes be right or a noble duty or even a fundamental human right Whether it is called suicide or not what role may a person play in the end of his or her own life This collection of primary sources the principal texts of ethical interest from major writers in western and nonwestern cultures from the principal religious traditions and from oral cultures where observer reports of traditional practices are available spanning Europe Asia the Middle East Africa Oceania the Arctic and North and South America facilitates exploration of many controversial practical issues physician assisted suicide or aid in dying suicide in social or political protest self sacrifice and martyrdom suicides of honor or loyalty religious and ritual practices that lead to death including sati or widow burning hara kiri and sallekhana or fasting unto death and suicide bombings kamikaze missions jihad and other tactical and military suicides This collection has no interest in taking sides in controversies about the ethics of suicide rather it serves to expand the character of these debates by showing them to be multi dimensional a complex and vital part of human ethical thought Marx's Fate Jerrold Seigel, 2010-11 Marx's Fate is an intellectual biography of Marx that combines historical textual and psychological analyses to provide major new insights into the philosopher's writings and development Suicide in Modern Literature Josefa Ros Velasco, 2022-01-01 This book analyzes the social and contextual causes of suicide the existential and philosophical reasons for committing suicide and the prevention strategies that modern fictional literature places at our disposal They go through the review of Modern fictional literature in the American and European geographical framework following the rationales that modern literature based on fiction can serve the purpose of understanding better the phenomenon of suicide its most inaccessible impulses and that has the potential to prevent suicide From the turn of the 20th century to the present debates over the meaning of suicide became a privileged site for efforts to discover the reasons why people commit suicide and how to prevent this behavior Since the French sociologist and philosopher mile Durkheim published his study Suicide A Study in Sociology in 1897 a reframing of suicide took place giving rise to a flourishing group of researchers and authors devoting their efforts to understand better the causes of suicide and to the formation of suicide prevention organizations A century

later we still keep on trying to reach such an understanding of suicide the nature and nuances of its modern conceptualization to prevent suicidal behaviors The question of what suicide means in and for modernity is not an overcome one Suicide is an act that touches all of our lives and engages with the incomprehensible and unsayable Since the turn of the millennium a fierce debate about the state's role in assisted suicide has been adopted Beyond the discussion as to whether physicians should assist in the suicide of patients with unbearable and hopeless suffering the scope of the suicidal agency is much broader concerning general people wanting to die

Victorian Suicide Barbara Gates, 2014-07-14 When Viscount Castlereagh leader of the House of Commons and architect of the Grand Alliance committed suicide in 1822 the coroner's inquest could consider only two legal verdicts insanity or self murder Public outrage greeted his burial in Westminster Abbey the tradition lingered that a suicide's burial place be at a crossroads with a stake through the heart to keep the lost soul from wandering Probing a remarkable variety of sources and individual cases Barbara Gates shows how attitudes toward suicide changed between Castlereagh's death and the end of the century By 1900 the Victorians' moral censure of suicide and the accompanying denial that it was a widespread problem had been replaced by a more compassionate response and also by an unfounded belief in a suicide epidemic which Thomas Hardy described as a coming universal wish not to live Exposing a rich area of interaction between history and literature and utilizing the methodology of the new historicism Gates discusses topics ranging from the plot for Wuthering Heights to Victorian shilling shockers Among other findings she includes evidence that Victorian middle class men particularly tended to make suicide the province of other selves of men belonging to other times or places of monsters or of women Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

The Gender of Suicide Katrina Jaworski, 2016-03-09 Drawing on diverse theoretical and textual sources The Gender of Suicide presents a critical study of the ways in which contemporary society understands suicide exploring suicide across a range of key expert bodies of knowledge With attention to Durkheim's founding study of suicide as well as discourses within sociology law medicine psy knowledge and newsprint media this book demonstrates that suicide cannot be understood without understanding how gender shapes it and without giving explicit attention to the manner in which prevailing claims privilege some interpretations and experiences of suicide above others Revealing the masculine and masculinist terms in which our current knowledge of suicide is constructed The Gender of Suicide explores the relationship between our grasp of suicide and problematic ideas connected to the body agency violence race and sexuality As such it will appeal to sociologists and social theorists as well as scholars of cultural studies philosophy law and psychology

Critical Theory of Legal Revolutions

Hauke Brunkhorst, 2014-06-19 This unique work analyzes the crisis in modern society building on the ideas of the Frankfurt School thinkers Emphasizing social evolution and learning processes it argues that crisis is mediated by social class conflicts and collective learning the results of which are embodied in constitutional and public law First the work outlines a new categorical framework of critical theory in which it is conceived as a theory of crisis It shows that the Marxist focus on economy and on class struggle is too narrow to deal with the range of social conflicts within modern society and posits that a crisis of legitimization is at the core of all crises It then discusses the dialectic of revolutionary and evolutionary developmental processes of modern society and its legal system This volume in the Critical Theory and Contemporary Society by a leading scholar in the field provides a new approach to critical theory that will appeal to anyone studying political sociology political theory and law

Eleanor Marx Rachel Holmes, 2014-01-01 Unrestrained by convention lion hearted and free Eleanor Marx 1855-98 was an exceptional woman Hers was the first English translation of Flaubert's Mme Bovary She pioneered the theatre of Henrik Ibsen She was the first woman to lead the British dock workers and gas workers trades unions For years she worked tirelessly for her father Karl Marx as personal secretary and researcher Later she edited many of his key political works and laid the foundations for his biography But foremost among her achievements was her pioneering feminism For her sexual equality was a necessary precondition for a just society Drawing strength from her family and their wide circle including Friedrich Engels and Wilhelm Liebknecht Eleanor Marx set out into the world to make a difference her favourite motto Go ahead With her closest friends among them Olive Schreiner Havelock Ellis George Bernard Shaw Will Thorne and William Morris she was at the epicentre of British socialism She was also the only Marx to claim her Jewishness But her life contained a deep sadness she loved a faithless and dishonest man the academic actor and would be playwright Edward Aveling Yet despite the unhappiness he brought her Eleanor Marx never wavered in her political life ceaselessly campaigning and organising until her untimely end which with its letters legacies secrets and hidden paternity reads in part like a novel by Wilkie Collins and in part like the modern tragedy it was Rachel Holmes has gone back to original sources to tell the story of the woman who did more than any other to transform British politics in the nineteenth century who was unafraid to live her contradictions

Suicide Voices Sarah Waters, 2020-09-01 This book examines the phenomenon of work suicides in France and asks why at the present historical juncture conditions of work can push individuals to take their own lives During the 2000s France experienced what commentators have described as a suicide epidemic whereby increasing numbers of workers in the face of extreme pressures of work chose to kill themselves The book analyses a corpus of testimonial material linked to 66 suicide cases across three large French companies during the period from 2005 to 2015 It aims to consider what the extreme and subjective act of self-killing narrated in suicide letters can tell us about the contemporary economic order and its impact on flesh and blood bodies What do rising work-related suicides reveal about conditions of human labour in the twenty-first century Does neoliberal economics condition a desire for suicide How do suicidal individuals describe the causes and motivations of their act Combining critical perspectives from sociology history testimony studies economics cultural studies and public health the book raises critical questions about the human costs of the shift to a finance driven neoliberal order and its everyday effects within the French workplace
