Marxism, Maoism, and Utopianism Maurice J. Meisner, 1982 Marxism, Maoism und Utopianism Maurice J. Meisner, 1982 Daoism and Anarchism John A. Rapp, 2012-08-09 This volume in the Contemporary Anarchist Studies examines anarchist themes in ancient and modern Chinese dissident political thought Dialectical Materialism Zedong Mao, Nick Knight, 2016-09-16 New and annotated translations of philosophical essays written by Mao Zedong in 1937 which have come to be regarded as a cornerstone in the development of Chinese Marxism The editor analyzes their textual philosophical and historical significance Mao's Forgotten Successor Robert Weatherley, 2010-07-30 Hua Guofeng succeeded Mao in 1976 emerging almost out of nowhere following an unexceptional career in Shanxi and Hunan In just over two years Hua had been eclipsed by Deng Xiaoping a more politically shrewd progressive and charismatic figure If Hua's rise to power was remarkable then this fall was even more so Abolishing Boundaries Peter Zarrow, 2021-01-01 Honorable Mention 2022 Sharon Harris Book Award presented by the University of Connecticut Humanities Institute Focusing on four key Chinese intellectuals of the first half of the twentieth century Abolishing Boundaries offers new perspectives on modern Chinese political thought These four intellectuals Kang Youwei Cai Yuanpei Chen Duxiu and Hu Shi were deeply familiar with the Confucian and Buddhist classical texts while also interested in the West's utopian literature of the late nineteenth century as well as Kant and the neo-Kantians Marxists and John Dewey and new liberalism respectively Although none of these four intellectuals can simply be labeled utopian thinkers this book highlights how their thinking was intertwined with utopian ideals to produce theories of secular transcendence liberalism and communism and how in explicit and implicit ways their ideas required some utopian impulse in order to escape the boundaries they identified as imprisoning the Chinese people and all humanity To abolish these boundaries was to imagine alternatives to the unbearable present This was not a matter of armchair philosophizing but of thinking through new ways to commit to action These men did not hold a totalistic picture of some perfect society but in distinctly different ways they all displayed a utopian impulse that fueled radical visions of change Their work reveals much about the underlying forces shaping modern thought in China and the world Reacting to China's problems they sought a better future for all humanity Ethnic Minority Cinema in China's Nation-State Building Kwai-Cheung Lo, 2025-02-03 Ethnic Minority Cinema in China's Nation State Building investigates the relationship between cinematic productions about non-Han ethnic minorities and China's nation state building project from the early Republican era of the 1920s to the current authoritarian regime in the twenty-first century Kwai Cheung Lo argues that the glossy but superficial cinematic depictions of non-Han ethnic minorities manufactured and manipulated by state authorities have deeply penetrated the Chinese public's conception of what an ideal multiethnic nation should be like as well as what it means to be Chinese under political unification Lo understands these representations of ethnic minorities as part of a larger ecosystem and the culture's values and life practices of non-Han ethnic minorities as closely entwined with environmental issues and politics This intertwining Lo argues suggests a crisis in objectification and identification of both people and the environment that plays out in cinema featuring ethnic minorities Lo traces these depictions of Chinese ethnic minority groups in films created by both Han majority and non Han filmmakers examining how these representations became a site in which state authorities Han and non Han communities and foreign agencies compete and interact under the larger context of building and imagining the Chinese nation state

Stalin and Mao Lucien Bianco, 2018-03-15 China's ascent to the ranks of the world's second largest economic power has given its revolution a better image than that of its Russian counterpart Yet the two have a great deal in common Indeed the Chinese revolution was a carbon copy of its predecessor until Mao became aware not so much of the failures of the Russian model but of its inability to adapt to an overcrowded third world country Yet instead of correcting that model Mao decided to go further and faster in the same direction The aftershock of an earthquake may be weaker but the Great Leap Forward of 1958 in China was far more destructive than the Great Turn of 1929 in the Soviet Union It was conceived with an idealistic end but failed to take all the possibilities into account China's development only took off after and thanks to Mao's death once the country turned its back on the revolution Lucien Bianco's original comparative study highlights the similarities the all powerful bureaucracy the over exploitation of the peasantry which triggered two of the worst famines of the 20th century control over writers and artists repression and labor camps The comparison of Stalin and Mao that completes the picture leads the author straight back to Lenin and he quotes the observation by a Chinese historian that If at all possible it is best to avoid revolutions altogether

China and Global Capitalism L. Chun, 2013-12-05 In this concise historical and conceptual analysis of China's evolving position in a world defined predominantly by global capitalist development Lin offers a critical review of relevant debates and discusses the imperative and feasibility of a socialist Chinese model reconstructed as an alternative to standardized modernity at an impasse

Autocracy and China's Rebel Founding Emperors Anita M. Andrew, John A. Rapp, 2000 What kind of ruler was Mao Zedong Utilizing a rich mix of analysis and new translations this book examines other imperial predecessors and the elements linking Mao and Ming Taizu the fourteenth century peasant rebel who founded the Ming dynasty as well as critiques of Western and Chinese scholarship The book then presents translations with commentary of PRC scholars on Taizu and Mao showing the evolution in Chinese thought toward both rulers from the Cultural Revolution to the Deng Xiaoping reform era

Remaking China's Public Philosophy for the Twenty-first Century Jinghao Zhou, 2003-08-30 In this book author Jinghao Zhou uses for the first time the prism of public philosophy to examine Chinese society modernization globalization and democratization as a whole Challenging conventional thinking in China studies he examines China systematically in seven aspects history ideology economy politics religion education and China's future and does so from both Eastern and Western perspectives The volume asserts that the remaking of China's public philosophy is the key for the nation to achieve both economic and political prosperity making the bold argument that this remaking can contribute profoundly not only to China's development but to international peace and development as well. In Remaking China's Public Philosophy for the Twenty First Century author Jinghao Zhou uses for the first time the prism of public philosophy to examine Chinese society, modernization, globalization and democratization as a whole. Challenging conventional thinking in China studies, he examines China systematically in seven aspects: history, ideology, economy, politics, religion, education and China's future, and does so from both Eastern and Western perspectives. The volume asserts that the remaking of China's public philosophy, the very principles and precepts it now takes for granted, is the key for the nation to achieve both economic and political prosperity. Zhou aims for a peaceful revolution of China's democratization while he explores a new paradigm in China studies, making the bold argument that this remaking can contribute profoundly not only to China's development but to international peace and development as well.

The Horizon of Modernity Ady Van den Stock, 2016-06-10. The Horizon of Modernity provides an extensive account of New Confucian philosophy that cuts through the boundaries between history and thought. This study explores Mou Zongsan's and Tang Junyi's critical confrontation with Marxism and Communism in relation to their engagement with Western thinkers such as Kant and Hegel. The author analyzes central conceptual aporias in the works of Mou and Tang as well as Xiong Shili in the context of the revival of Confucianism in contemporary China and the emergence of the discipline of philosophy in twentieth-century Chinese intellectual history. This book casts new light on the nexus between the categories of subjectivity and social structure and the relation between philosophy, modern temporality and the structural conditions of the modern world.

Companion Encyclopedia of Asian Philosophy Dr Brian Carr, Brian Carr, Indira Mahalingam, 2002-09-11. The Companion Encyclopedia of Asian Philosophy is a unique one-volume reference work which makes a broad range of richly varied philosophical, ethical and theological traditions accessible to a wide audience. The Companion is divided into six sections covering the main traditions within Asian thought: Persian, Indian, Buddhist, Chinese, Japanese and Islamic philosophy. Each section contains a collection of chapters which provide comprehensive coverage of the origins of the tradition, its approaches to, for example, logic and languages and to questions of morals and society. The chapters also contain useful histories of the lives of the key influential thinkers as well as a thorough analysis of the current trends.

Drawing from Life Christine I. Ho, 2020-02-11. Drawing from Life explores revolutionary drawing and sketching in the early People's Republic of China, 1949-1965, in order to discover how artists created a national form of socialist realism. Tracing the development of seminal works by the major painters Xu Beihong, Wang Shikuo, Li Keran, Li Xiongcai, Dong Xiwen and Fu Baoshi, author Christine I. Ho reconstructs how artists grappled with the representational politics of a nascent socialist art. The divergent approaches, styles and genres presented in this study reveal an art world that is both heterogeneous and cosmopolitan. Through a history of artistic practices in pursuit of Maoist cultural ambitions to forge new registers of experience, new structures of feeling and new aesthetic communities, this original book argues that socialist Chinese art presents a critical alternative vision for global modernism.

Going to the Countryside Yu Zhang, 2020-03-03. Since the beginning of the twentieth century modern Chinese intellectuals reformers revolutionaries leftist journalists and idealistic youth had often crossed the increasing gap between the city and the countryside which made the act of going to the countryside a distinctively modern experience and a continuous practice in China Such a spatial crossing eventually culminated in the socialist state program of down to the villages movements during the 1960s and 1970s What then was the special significance of going to the countryside before that era Going to the Countryside deals with the cultural representations and practices of this practice between 1915 and 1965 focusing on individual homecoming rural reconstruction revolutionary journeys to Yan an the revolutionary going down to the people as well as going to the frontiers and rural hometowns for socialist construction As part of the larger discourses of enlightenment revolution and socialist industrialization going to the countryside entailed new ways of looking at the world and ordinary people brought about new experiences of space and time initiated new means of human communication and interaction generated new forms of cultural production revealed a fundamental epistemic shift in modern China and ultimately created a new aesthetic social and political landscape As a critical response to the urban turn in the past few decades this book brings the rural back to the central concern of Chinese cultural studies and aims to bridge the city and the countryside as two types of important geographical entities which have often remained as disparate scholarly subjects of inquiry in the current state of China studies Chinese modernity has been characterized by a dual process that created problems from the vast gap between the city and the countryside but simultaneously initiated constant efforts to cope with the gap personally collectively and institutionally The process of crossing two distinct geographical spaces was often presented as continuous explorations of various ways of establishing the connectivity interaction and relationship of these two imagined geographical entities Going to the Countryside argues that this new body of cultural productions did not merely turn the rural into a constantly changing representational space most importantly the rural has been constructed as a distinct modern experiential and aesthetic realm characterized by revolutionary changes in human conceptions and sentiments

The Emergence of Global Maoism

Matthew Galway, 2022-03-15 The Emergence of Global Maoism examines the spread of Mao Zedong's writings ideology and institutions when they traveled outside of China Matthew Galway links Chinese Communist Party efforts to globalize Maoism to the dialectical engagement of exported Maoism by Cambodian Maoist intellectuals How do ideas manifest outside of their place of origin Galway analyzes how universal ideological systems became localized both in Mao's indigenization of Marxism Leninism and in the Communist Party of Kampuchea's indigenization of Maoism into its own revolutionary ideology By examining the intellectual journeys of CPK leaders who during their studies in Paris in the 1950s became progressive activist intellectuals and full fledged Communists he shows that they responded to political and socioeconomic crises by speaking back to Maoism adapting it through practice without abandoning its universality Among Mao's greatest achievements the Sinification of Marxism enabled the CCP to canonize Mao's thought and export it to a progressive audience of international intellectuals These intellectuals would come to embrace the ideology as they set a course for social change The Emergence of Global Maoism illuminates the process through which China moved its goal from class revolution to a larger anticolonial project that sought to cast out European and American imperialism from Asia

Rise of the Red Engineers Joel Andreas,2009-03-10 Rise of the Red Engineers explains the tumultuous origins of the class of technocratic officials who rule China today In a fascinating account author Joel Andreas chronicles how two mutually hostile groups the poorly educated peasant revolutionaries who seized power in 1949 and China s old educated elite coalesced to form a new dominant class After dispossessing the country s propertied classes Mao and the Communist Party took radical measures to eliminate class distinctions based on education aggravating antagonisms between the new political and old cultural elites Ultimately however Mao s attacks on both groups during the Cultural Revolution spurred inter elite unity paving the way after his death for the consolidation of a new class that combined their political and cultural resources This story is told through a case study of Tsinghua University which as China s premier school of technology was at the epicenter of these conflicts and became the party s preferred training ground for technocrats including many of China s current leaders

Socialist Imaginations
