Osun across the Waters Joseph M. Murphy, Mei-Mei Sanford,2001-10-09 sun is a brilliant deity whose imagery and worldwide devotion demand broad and deep scholarly reflection Contributors to the ground breaking Africa s Ogun edited by Sandra Barnes Indiana University Press 1997 explored the complex nature of Ogun the orisa who transforms life through iron and technology sun across the Waters continues this exploration of Yoruba religion by documenting sun religion sun presents a dynamic example of the resilience and renewed importance of traditional Yoruba images in negotiating spiritual experience social identity and political power in contemporary Africa and the African diaspora The 17 contributors to sun across the Waters delineate the special dimensions of sun religion as it appears through multiple disciplines in multiple cultural contexts Tracing the extent of sun traditions takes us across the waters and back again sun traditions continue to grow and change as they flow and return from their sources in Africa and the Americas

Mythatypes Alexis Brooks De Vita,2000-06-30 Dr Alexis Brooks De Vita takes up the challenge to develop culturally relevant modes of literary analysis of African Diaspora literatures by identifying traditional African and Diaspora figures of myth religion legend and history that interact with African and Diaspora literary heroines and their authors Following upon Karla Holloway s arguments in Moorings and Metaphors that African American and West African women share strong traits of storytelling that both isolate and identify their literatures Brooks De Vita traces these traits to their religious legendary and historical sources identifying African and Diaspora female figures of power whose interaction with literary protagonists places personal stories among the collective historical and spiritual African Diaspora experience broadening and deepening each authorial voice by demonstrating how it breaks free of the European perspective of linear time and resonates in a timeless community whose members ceaselessly interact African Diaspora women's symbols of power assert their autonomous definitions of good and evil enabled by decolonialist analysis as expounded by theorists such as Chinweizu Jemie and Madubuike to be separated from universalizing Eurocentric or masculinist assessments Symbols of inherent rootedness and empowerment are clearly identified allowing the reader to perceive tales of salvation and success underlying and further developing literal tales of suffering surrender or loss Will be of particular interest to students scholars and researchers of comparative literature as well as African American literature and African Diaspora and Women's Studies

Haïti, la voie de nos silences, 1998 The Religious Traditions of Africa Elizabeth Isichei, 2004-11-23 This work is a first of its kind historical introduction to the major religions of Africa The vast majorities of Africa's peoples have been Muslim Christian or Traditionalist for a great deal of time making an inclusive study of these religions essential Isichei's work gives equal attention to all three religions and balances the elements of each to construct an easily accessible overview It is also the first book to provide a comprehensive look at the traditional religion in Africa filling the void in the literature on African religious history Written by a pioneering scholar in the African religious experience this volume blends in depth research and personnel accounts to explore the origins and effects of religion in Africa While primarily a work of history this book also incorporates the latest findings while engaging with current issues such as the interface of neo traditional religion and contemporary cultures This work includes four sections each dedicated to a separate religion detailed maps a glossary and a guide to further reading

Mission in Today's World Dorr, Donal, 2014-04-10 The changing face of the world solidly impacts the nature of mission Donal Dorr demonstrates why engagement with other religions and cultures demands that missionaries understand the importance of dialogue and also forces issues such as inculturation the struggle for liberation of the poor and oppressed and the need for reconciliation in conflict torn regions
