World Music and the Black Atlantic Alesia K. Whitmore, 2020-05-07. In the mid 20th century, African musicians took up Cuban music as their own and claimed it as a marker of black Atlantic connections and of cosmopolitanism, untethered from European colonial relations. Today, Cuban-African bands popular in Africa in the 1960s and 70s have moved into the world music scene in Europe and North America, and world music producers and musicians have created new West African-Latin American collaborations expressly for this market niche. World Music and the Black Atlantic follows two of these bands, Orchestra Baobab and AfroCubism, and the industry and audiences that surround them from musicians' homes in West Africa to performances in Europe and North America, to record label offices in London. World Music and the Black Atlantic examines the intensely transnational experiences of musicians, industry personnel, and audiences as they collaboratively produce, circulate, and consume music in a specific post-colonial era of globalization. Musicians, industry personnel, and audiences work with and push against one another as they engage in personal collaborations imbued with histories of global travel and trade. They move between and combine Cuban and Malian melodies, Norwegian and Senegalese markets, and histories of slavery and independence as they work together to create international commodities. Understanding the unstable and dynamic ways these peoples' music markets and histories intersect elucidates how world music actors assert their places within and produce knowledge about global markets, colonial histories, and the black Atlantic. World Music and the Black Atlantic offers a nuanced view of a global industry that is informed and deeply marked by diverse transnational perspectives and histories of transatlantic exchange. The Official Radio 6 Music Quiz Book Nick Holt, 2016-10-27. Radio World Roland Burke Hennessy, 1924 Web Radio Chris Priestman, 2002 First Published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Wireless World and Radio Review, 1926 The Unseen Voice

Lesley Johnson, 2016-10-04 Images of the golden age of wireless and family life before the age of television have widespread currency Their dominance raises fundamental questions about the extent to which people's memories of early radio and everyday pre war life are shaped and mediated by these public histories For geographical reasons radio has played an unusually important part in twentieth century Australian life and culture Australian radio must therefore stand as a major example in the study of the medium This book first published in 1988 examines the early history of Australian radio looking at the beginnings of radio itself and at the ways in which cultural tasks were determined for it This is a detailed analysis of radio discourse and the construction of audiences drawing on a range of theoretical material to examine questions about the production and dynamics of popular culture the relationship between politics and everyday life and the changes brought about in women's lives Popular Radio and Television, 1922 War, Exile and the Music of Afghanistan John

Baily, 2016-09-01 In the 1970s John Baily conducted extensive ethnomusicological research in Afghanistan principally in the city of Herat but also in Kabul Then with Taraki's coup in 1978 came conflict war and the dispersal of many musicians to locations far and wide This new publication is the culmination of Baily's further research on Afghan music over the 35 years that followed This took him to Afghanistan Pakistan Iran the USA Australia and parts of Europe London Hamburg and Dublin Arranged chronologically the narrative traces the sequence of political events from 1978 through the Soviet invasion to the coming of the Taliban and finally the aftermath of the US led invasion in 2001 He examines the effects of the ever changing situation on the lives and works of Afghan musicians following individual musicians in fascinating detail At the heart of his analysis are privileged vignettes of ten musical personalities some of friends and some newly discovered The result is a remarkable personal memoir by an eminent ethnomusicologist known for his deep commitment to Afghanistan Afghan musicians and Afghan musical culture John Baily is also an ethnographic filmmaker Four of his films relating to his research are included on the downloadable resources that accompanies the text Billboard, 2000-11-18 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world's premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends
