20 The primary concern has been the excavation of prehistoric Indian sites and most of the funds have gone for this purpose because it has been realized that the only primary sources of information that exist in the field of prehistory lie underground However National Park Service Officials have been conscious of the need also to conduct researches to ascertain what historic sites were threatened by the water development program to locate such sites as precisely as possible by analysis of documentary records and field surface reconnaissance and to recover valuable historical data by excavation About the
