on in the physical environment The nine essays in this volume discuss post conflict landscapes as contested spaces imbued with memory work conveying differing interpretations of the recent past expressed through material even monumental objects ritual performances and oral narratives or silences While Cambodian Lao and Vietnamese landscapes are filled with tenacious traces of a violent past creating an unsolicited and malevolent sense of place among their inhabitants they can in turn be transformed by actions of resilient and resourceful local communities

The Mekong Milton Osborne, 2007-12-01 A remarkable history of the great river of Southeast Asia Jill Ker Conway author of The Road from Coorain The Mekong River runs over nearly three thousand miles beginning in the mountains of Tibet and flowing through China Burma Laos Thailand Cambodia and Vietnam before emptying into the China Sea Its waters are the lifeblood of Southeast Asia and first begot civilization on the fertile banks of its delta region at Oc Eo nearly two millennia ago This is the story of the peoples and cultures of the great river from these obscure beginnings to the emergence of today s independent nations Drawing on research gathered over forty years Milton Osborne traces the Mekong's dramatic history through the rise and fall of civilizations and the era of colonization and exploration He details the struggle for liberation during a twentieth century in which Southeast Asia has seen almost constant conflict including two world wars the Indochina War the Vietnam War and its bloody aftermath and explores the prospects for peace and prosperity as the region enters a new millennium Along the way he brings to life those who witnessed and shaped events along the river including Chou Ta kuan the thirteenth century Chinese envoy who recorded the glory of Angkor Wat the capital of the Khmer Empire the Iberian mercenaries Blas Ruiz and Diego Veloso whose involvement in the intrigues of Cambodia's royal family shook Southeast Asia's politics in the sixteenth century and the revolutionaries led by Ho Chi Minh whose campaigns to liberate Vietnam from the French and unify the nation under communism changed the course of history A pathbreaking ecologically informed chronicle A pulsating journey through the heart of Southeast Asia Publishers Weekly Poppies, Pipes, and People Joseph Westermeyer, 2024-03-29 Opium production and use connote international intrigues illicit wealth and social degeneracy to industrialized societies The experiences and attitudes of those growing and using opium in poppy producing areas are not always so dramatic or so negative For a total of three years between 1965 and 1975 Joseph Westermeyer practiced medicine and studied the function of opium in Laos where it is a cash crop and from 1975 to 1982 he spent an additional six months studying opium addiction in other parts of Asia His work gives a clear picture of the very different ways opium and its use are regarded in a developing agricultural society Opium is a mainstay of the highland economy in Laos Ease of Transport gives the poppy great advantage over other cash crops although growers readily abandon its cultivation for work or animal husbandry that offers a higher profit Opium can sometimes be used without addiction as a recreational intoxicant or folk medicine but addiction is always a possibility especially among the growers of the poppy themselves Opium consumption can initially enhance productivity but its long term use is generally debilitating and the biomedical psychological and familial problems commonly associated with drug addiction also occur in Laos Westermeyer describes heroin as well as opium addiction includes a chapter on Caucasian addicts and evaluates indigenous and medical treatments for addiction He shows how lacking the cross cultural perspective offered here attempts by the United States to restrict opium flow have had little regard for the effect of narcotics policy on other countries and actually opens the way for heroin use in Laos Westermeyer's careful documentation is supplemented by individual vignettes that give a sense of the complex and often unpredictable reality of drug use HIs analysis will change many stereotypic notions of opiate use in Asia as it takes into account the myriad views and needs of people living under vastly different circumstances Opium production and use connote international intrigues illicit wealth and social degeneracy to industrialized societies The experiences and attitudes of those growing and using opium in poppy producing areas are not always so dramatic or so negative The Mekong: A Socio-legal Approach to River Basin Development Ben Boer, Philip Hirsch, Fleur Johns, Ben Saul, Natalia

Scurrah,2015-12-22 An international river basin is an ecological system an economic thoroughfare a geographical area a font of life and livelihoods a geopolitical network and often a cultural icon It is also a socio legal phenomenon This book is the first detailed study of an international river basin from a socio legal perspective The Mekong River Basin which sustains approximately 70 million people across Cambodia China Laos Myanmar Thailand and Vietnam provides a prime example of the socio legal complexities of governing a transboundary river and its tributaries The book applies its socio legal analysis to bring a fresh approach to understanding conflicts surrounding water governance in the Mekong River Basin The authors describe the wide range of uses being made of legal doctrine and legal argument in ongoing disputes surrounding hydropower development in the Basin putting to rest lingering caricatures of a single ASEAN way of navigating conflict They call into question some of the common assumptions concerning the relationship between law and development The book also sheds light on important questions concerning the global hybridization or crossover of public and private power and its ramifications for water governance With current debates and looming conflicts over water governance globally and over shared rivers in particular these issues could not be more pressing     'Incidental' Ethnographers Jean Michaud,2007-06-30 This book connecting the fields of social anthropology and missiology presents a body of colonial ethnographic writing applied to highland societies in the southern portion of the Mainland Southeast Asian massif The writers under scrutiny are Catholic priests from the Soci t des Missions trang res de Paris Their texts from the Upper Tonkin vicariate in today s northern Vietnam are paid special attention notably through its major contributor F M Savina The author locates this ethnographic heritage against its historical political and intellectual background A comparison is conducted with French missionaries cum ethnographers who worked among the natives in New France Canada in the 17th century yielding the unexpected conclusion that practically nothing from this early period of experimentation was remembered     The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia: From early times to c. 1800 Nicholas Tarling,1992 The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia is a multi authored treatment of the whole of mainland and island Southeast Asia from Burma to Indonesia Unlike other histories of the region it is not divided on a country by country basis and is not structured purely chronologically but rather takes a thematic and regional approach to Southeast Asia s history aiming to present the current state of historical research on Southeast Asia as well as stimulating further thought and investigation Publisher description     The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling,1999 Volume 2 discusses Southeast Asia s interaction with foreign countries during the period c 1500 to c 1800     The Journal of the Siam Society Siam Society,1976
