Robert Capa:

Robert Capa Richard Whelan, 1994-01-01 The legendary war photographer Robert Capa carried into his personal life the same remarkable vitality that characterizes his pictures Driven from his native Hungary by political oppression he was first recognized for photographing the Spanish Civil War In 1938 he was in China recording the Japanese invasion During World War II he was in London North Africa and Italy and then in France covering D Day on Omaha Beach the liberation of Paris and the Battle of the Bulge When the new nation of Israel was founded in 1948 he was there In 1954 he was in Vietnam taking photographs until the moment he was killed Away from battle Capa gathered about him such famous people as Ernest Hemingway and his wife the war correspondent Martha Gellhorn Gary Cooper Irwin Shaw and Gene Kelly Whelan shows Capa photographing the street life of Paris crisscrossing America on assignment from Life in Russia with John Steinbeck in Italy with John Huston on the Riviera with Picasso and with Ingrid Bergman Robert Capa in the Making, 2024-08-20 Capa's groundbreaking photographs contextualized through original articles and his own rarely seen notes on the margins of prints Photographer filmmaker and war correspondent Robert Capa 1913-54 is a legend of photojournalism His work widely recognized and disseminated although sometimes criticized for its truthfulness is integral to the history of the photograph Capa covered all the major midcentury events from the Front Populaire in France to the Spanish Civil War World War II and finally the First Indochina War where he lost his life Robert Capa in the Making retraces Capa's work through images from private collections published for the first time Together with his most iconic works these rarely seen images construct a complete story particularly how they were used and published Reproductions of original newspaper articles illustrated by Capa's images create new narratives through which to judge his documentation Le Monde journalist Michel Lefebvre interprets the hidden details omitted through the years the writing on the backs of the prints a detail on a note a place left out or a date that changes are all clues that reconstruct this immense corpus Robert Capa: Death in the Making Robert Capa, 2020-09-29 Once a cult status rarity Capa's classic impassioned Spanish Civil War photobook is available again with new high quality image scans and supplementary research Robert Capa's Death in the Making was published in 1938 as a poignant tribute to the men and women civilians and soldiers alike fighting in Spain against Franco's fascist insurrection The book included only one year of images from the Republican position but covered the spectrum of emotions of a civil war from the initial excitement to the more harrowing realities of modern warfare But over time after World War II and rising anti communist paranoia in the United States association with the Spanish Civil War was a liability and the book became obscured Today however Death in the Making has reached cult status not least because copies are hard to find particularly ones with Capa's famous Falling Soldier image on the dust jacket With new scans of all the images this facsimile of the original edition reproduces the original layout by photographer Andr  Kertesz the original caption text by Capa and preface by writer Jay Allen The muddy 1938 publication is entirely transformed by high quality printing to reflect the beauty and pathos of the original intention This edition also includes a new essay with new research on the making and the reception of the original book and a complete checklist identifying the author location and date of each image The most important new information is that Robert Capa and Gerda Taro are not the only photographers in the book but also included was work by their good friend and colleague Chim later known as David Seymour Born Endre Erno Friedmann in Budapest Robert Capa 1913-54 spent his early years moving from Hungary to Germany to France and Spain first to dodge political strife and then to actively follow and document it From 1936 to 1945 Capa photographed the Spanish Civil War the Second Sino Japanese War and World War II In 1947 he founded the Magnum Photos agency with fellow photographers Henri Cartier Bresson and David Chim Seymour among others Several years later while documenting the First Indochina War Capa died when he stepped on a landmine

Robert Capa Robert Capa, 1969 Robert Capa, 1913-1954 Robert Capa, 1974 Blood and Champagne Alex Kershaw, 2003-07-25 Friend of Hemingway John Huston and lover of beautiful women Capa lived a life that was equal parts glamour and danger He was the best of combat photographers yet no one knew that Capa was not his real name and that his greatest artistic achievement may well have been himself Two 8 page photo inserts Back into Focus Charles R. Herrick, 2024-12-05 This new account carefully details the events surrounding Robert Capa's D Day adventures using official SHAEF files and a variety of accounts of witnesses Although Capa's Falling Soldier image from the Spanish Civil War has been definitively proven to be a staged propaganda fake no one has applied a similarly critical eye to his later work This book is the first effort to establish the facts behind the fables surrounding his D Day adventures and the images he produced during that period This book examines the fictionalized account Robert Capa penned in his pseudo biography Slightly Out of Focus Written in the hopes of it becoming a movie Capa included many elements which were exaggerated or simply not true while omitting many relevant events As he himself said in the dust jacket for that book Writing the truth being obviously so difficult I have in the interests of it allowed myself to go sometimes slightly beyond and slightly this side of it All events and persons in the book are accidental and have something to do with the truth This new account carefully details the actual events surrounding Capa's D Day adventures using official SHAEF files still and motion picture images taken by other cameramen who were near or with Capa and a variety of accounts of witnesses It examines several aspects of Capa's narrative and reveals the truth behind the fiction he claimed that he landed in the First Wave with Company E in reality he landed almost two hours later in Wave 13 with the regimental commander Analysis reveals how many of his images were presented in a false context and as a result have been misinterpreted for decades Building on Allan Coleman and his team's proof that the bulk of Capa's D Day photos could not possibly have been ruined in a darkroom accident this gripping expose details the effects the FORTITUDE deception plans had on censorship and how the censorship system would have retained the images popularly thought to have been lost Robert Capa, Photographs, 1996 Robert Capa Photographs is the first true retrospective book of one of the century's greatest photographers Drawing upon hundreds of previously unseen images this collection reveals Capa as one of the great poets of the camera Robert Capa demonstrated not only a passionate commitment to improving the human condition but also an unfailing eye for graphic impact Although his photographs remain the definitive visual records of such momentous events as the siege of Madrid the bombing of Hankou and the Allied landings on D Day many of his images have a timeless and universal quality that transcends the specifics of history A Spanish soldier recoils at the impact of a bullet the final instant of his life In a scene of perfect joy a group of Chinese children laugh at the sky as snow begins to fall Four farm workers hauling all the belongings they can manage trudge grimly away from an apocalyptic backdrop of smoke and ruins their war devastated homes
