Robert Maxwell:

A History of Randolph County, West Virginia A. S. Bosworth, 2009-06 John Prendergast's account of the Cromwellian settlement of Ireland contains the following specific genealogical information 1 certificates or letters of dispensation naming a number of the Irish exiles and their families 2 various account books arranged by barony identifying several hundred Adventurers and showing the location and value of the Irish land they were awarded and 3 a list of more than 1 350 Adventurers or their widows giving their occupations and subscriptions Writing the Story of Texas Patrick L. Cox, Kenneth E. Hendrickson, Jr., 2013-03-01 The history of the Lone Star state is a narrative dominated by larger than life personalities and often contentious legends presenting interesting challenges for historians Perhaps for this reason Texas has produced a cadre of revered historians who have had a significant impact on the preservation some would argue creation of our state's past An anthology of biographical essays Writing the Story of Texas pays tribute to the scholars who shaped our understanding of Texas's past and ultimately the Texan identity Edited by esteemed historians Patrick Cox and Kenneth Hendrickson this collection includes insightful cross generational examinations of pivotal individuals who interpreted our history On these pages the contributors chart the progression from Eugene C Barker's groundbreaking research to his public confrontations with Texas political leaders and his fellow historians They look at Walter Prescott Webb's fundamental innovative vision as a promoter of the past and Ruthe Winegarten's efforts to shine the spotlight on minorities and women who made history across the state Other essayists explore Llerena Friend delving into an ambitious study of Sam Houston Charles Ramsdell courageously addressing delicate issues such as racism and launching his controversial examination of Reconstruction in Texas Robert Cotner an Ohio born product of the Ivy League bringing a fresh perspective to the field and Robert Maxwell engaged in early work in environmental history

Pension Schemes and Pension Funds in the United Kingdom David Blake, 2003 Never has there been so much media interest in pensions as there is currently Never has the pensions world changed so rapidly as it has over the last few years we have seen the introduction of a new state supplementary pension scheme new stakeholder pensions and a flood of companies closing their final salary schemes and replacing them with defined contribution schemes Never have there been so many complaints about our pension system about the state pension falling behind earnings about the misselling of personal pensions about the perceived poor value of annuities and about high charges and poor investment performance This new edition of Pension Schemes and Pension Funds in the United Kingdom provides the latest information on all the key state and private pension schemes operating in the UK including the basic state pension minimum income guarantee and pension credit the state second pension company pension schemes and personal and stakeholder pension schemes It does this within the context of the long historical development of the UK pensions system since medieval times It also examines government pensions policy over the last twenty years in particular the reduction in state pensions and the transfer of the burden of pension provision to the funded private sector It also examines future trends and future concerns such as increasing longevity and the adequacy of savings for retirement when people are young and in work As most pension schemes are funded the author also examines the latest issues in pension funding such as the new accounting standard FRS17 active and passive fund management investment risk budgeting and management global investment performance standards short termism and the Myners review of institutional investment The book concludes with a proposal for the Ideal Pension Scheme

The Scottish Covenanter Genealogical Index - (1630-1712) Isabelle McCall MacLean,2007-02-22 This work evolved out of a love for my ancestors one being John Whitelaw the Covenanter Monkland Martyr who was executed for his religious beliefs in Edinburgh 1683 While searching for his records I came across reference to thousands of other Scottish Covenanters This Index lists those Covenanters found in some books written about the period between 1630 and 1712 There are many many more Covenanters whose names need to be added to this work and God willing I will do it The Covenanters were steadfast in their Presbyterian beliefs and refused to take an oath unto the King stating that he was the head of the church They believed that Christ was the Head of the Church and their loyalty to this belief allowed them to lay their lives down for it The Royalists and Dragoons who were seeking to bring them into obedience to the King relentlessly chased the Covenanters from glen to glen This disregard for their civil rights was brutally carried out basically in the Lowlands of Scotland Many of their records were destroyed along with their lives and their stories only live in family lore and books that were written about them I have extracted some of their names and created The Scottish Covenanter Genealogical Index which is by no means complete but is a work in progress

Immigrant Publishers Richard Abel,William Gordon Graham,2009-01-01 In the first third of the twentieth century the publishing industry in the United Kingdom and the United States was marked by well established and comfortable traditions pursued by family dominated firms The British trade was the preserve of self satisfied men entirely certain of their superiority in the world of letters their counterparts in North America were blissfully unaware of development and trends outside their borders In this unique historical analysis Richard Abel and Gordon Graham show how publishing evolved post World War II to embrace a different more culturally inclusive vision Unfortunately even among the learned classes only a handful clearly understood either the nature or the likely consequences of the mounting geopolitical tensions that gripped pre war Europe The world was largely caught up in the ill informed and unexamined but widely held smug and shallow belief that the huge price paid in the war to end all wars had purchased perpetual peace a peace to be maintained by the numerous post war high minded treaties ceremoniously signed thereafter The history presented here has as its principals a handful of those who fled to the Anglo Saxon shores in the pre World War II era The remainder made their way to Britain and the United States following that war They brought an entirely new vision of and energetic pursuit of the cultural role of the book and journal in a society a vision which was quickly adopted and naturalized by a perspicacious band of post war native born book people Richard Abel is secretary of the LOGOS foundation and long standing member of its editorial board He founded and started numerous publishing house including Timber Press Amadeus Press and what is now Blackwell North America He has had well over forty years experience in the publishing industry Gordon Graham is founder and editor emeritus of LOGOS He was previously chairman and chief executive of Butterworths He has written extensively on the publishing industry and is a doyen of publishing history and practice in the United Kingdom Evidence Before Lords Committees for Privileges and Before the House &c Great Britain. Parliament.
