Robert The Bruces Forgotten Victory The Battle Of Byland 13:

Robert the Bruce's Forgotten Victory Graham Bell,2005-04-01 Waged on 14 October 1322 the battle of Byland an area north east of Thirsk was fought between the two monarchs Edward II and Robert the Bruce and their forces The Scots motive for the engagement was to force the English into accepting the independence that Bannockburn hadn t actually achieved the aim being to capture the King and force his hand The plan nearly worked and Edward II had to make a humiliating escape losing his baggage train again putting his queen Isabella dangerously close to capture and allowing the the Scots to pursue him to the gates of York This new history of one of Robert the Bruce s most significant victories shows how close the Scots came to capturing the King

Clash of Crowns Harry Pearson,2024-07-30 Forgotten by history this clash of kings is given new life as Harry Pearson explores the epic Battle of Byland shedding light on a pivotal moment in the Wars for Scottish Independence The battle of Byland on 14 October 1322 was a crucial battle in the Wars of Scottish Independence This absorbing study from Harry Pearson sheds new light on one of the most overlooked battles in British history The area of the North York Moors National Park contains some of the most dramatic and scenic landscapes in the North of England and none more so than the section of the Cleveland Way which clings to the edge of the escarpment that marks the western boundary of the Hambleton Hills On a clear day the entire Vale of Mowbray can be seen When visiting the area today it is hard to imagine thousands of English and Scottish troops engaged in bitter conflict there At first light on the morning of October 14th in 1322 the armies of two kings confronted each other over this same ground The soldiers of King Edward II of England looked down from the heights at a force of several thousand men led by King Robert I the Bruce of Scotland as they deployed below Sutton Bank in the area around Gormire Lake with thousands more approaching from the direction of Northallerton to the north west Although a daunting sight for the English defenders they no doubt had confidence in the strength of their seemingly impregnable position The early morning air would have been thick with the call of shouted orders and war cries and the clamour of the readying of weapons armor and harness as the Scots drew up into battle formation ready to attack up the steep narrow and heavily defended pass Complete with fresh research and over 100 images and maps this new edition of Clash of Crowns tells the story of the ensuing battle the dramatic circumstances which brought it about and the impact of the outcome on the history of the British Isles
