and personal reflection Written in 1879 the book captures the essence of 19th century exploration mirroring the Romantic emphasis on nature and individual experience while simultaneously critiquing the burgeoning industrialization of the time Stevenson s prose is laced with a lyrical quality as he thoughtfully reflects on the solitude and contemplative nature of his journey amidst the wild and untamed terrain Robert Louis Stevenson a celebrated novelist and essayist drew upon his own spirit of adventure and thirst for exploration to craft this travelogue His foray into the Cevennes came at a time when he sought both physical and emotional refuge following his struggles with health and societal expectations The experience illuminated his belief in the transformative power of travel a theme that resonates throughout his literary oeuvre Travels with a Donkey in the Cevennes offers readers not only a captivating tale of adventure but also a profound meditation on the relationship between man and nature It is an essential read for those who appreciate travel literature or the exploration of the human spirit inviting contemplation and admiration for the beauty of both the journey and the landscapes encountered

Travels with a Donkey in the Cevennes Robert Louis Stevenson,2015-02-13 In a little place called Le Monastier in a pleasant highland valley fifteen miles from Le Puy I spent about a month of fine days Monastier is notable for the making of lace for drunkenness for freedom of language and for unparalleled political dissension There are adherents of each of the four French parties Legitimists Orleanists Imperialists and Republicans in this little mountain town and they all hate loathe decry and calumniate each other Except for business purposes or to give each other the lie in a tavern brawl they have laid aside even the civility of speech Tis a mere mountain Poland In the midst of this Babylon I found myself a rallying point every one was anxious to be kind and helpful to the stranger This was not merely from the natural hospitality of mountain people nor even from the surprise with which I was regarded as a man living of his own free will in Le Monastier when he might just as well have lived anywhere else in this big world it arose a good deal from my projected excursion southward through the Cevennes A traveller of my sort was a thing hitherto unheard of in that district I was looked upon with contempt like a man who should project a journey to the moon but yet with a respectful interest like one setting forth for the inclement Pole All were ready to help in my preparations a crowd of sympathisers supported me at the critical moment of a bargain not a step was taken but was heralded by glasses round and celebrated by a dinner or a breakfast

Robert Louis Stevenson and the Great Affair Richard J. Hill, 2017-02-03 In his travel narrative Travels with a Donkey in the Cevennes 1879 Robert Louis Stevenson declares I travel not to go anywhere but to go I travel for travel's sake The great affair is to move Taking up the concepts of time place and memory the contributors to this collection explore in what ways the dynamic view of life suggested by this quotation permeates Stevenson's work The essays adopt a wide variety of critical approaches including post colonial theory post structuralism new historicism art history and philosophy making use of the vast array of literary materials that Stevenson left across a global journey that began in Scotland in 1850 and ended in Samoa in 1894 These range from travel journals letters and classic literary staples such as Treasure Island and The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde to rarely read masterpieces such as The Master of Ballantrae or The Ebb Tide While much recent scholarship on Stevenson foregrounds geography the present volume also examines the theme of movement across memory time and generic boundaries Taken together the essays offer a view of Stevenson that demonstrates how the protean nature of his literary output reflects the radical developments in science technology and culture that characterized the age in which he lived

Stevenson's 120 mile 12 day hike accompanied only by his stubborn and unwieldy donkey through the Cevennes of south central France. A pioneering piece of outdoor literature it is one of Stevenson's earliest works and one of the earliest accounts of hiking and camping for recreation rather than necessity. Stevenson's route is still popular today. Recently when asked why the Scotsman still informs the identity of the Cevennes a politician and historian of the area remarked "Because he showed us the landscape that makes us who we are."
