domestic regional and international At home coalitions struggle to define the internal allocation and management of resources and to undermine their rivals Throughout their regional neighborhoods coalitions opposing internationalization often compete for dominance sometimes militarily Coalitions favoring internationalization instead often cooperate At the global level each coalition finds support for its grand strategies from different international institutions and from competing global economic trends Solingen s concept of grand strategy proposes more than a theory of foreign policy and explains the role of nationalism and ethno religious revivalism in the politics of liberalization
