Seashells Of Cyprus:

Seashells of Cyprus John Orr, 2000 During the author's career as a widely travelled diplomat in the British foreign service he has been able to find time to explore numerous islands atolls and reefs searching for shells in many countries These have included Australia Thailand Hong Kong Indonesia the Philippines and East Africa Much time spent observing the behaviour of snails in marine and terrestrial habitats as well as under laboratory conditions has provided revealing insight into their lifestyles He has uncovered new localities of relatively scarce species and the haunts of two entirely new ones which now carry his name one a related murex shell off Thailand's west coast and the other a cone shell browsing on a tidal reef in west Africa This book is his latest venture and raises molluscs from the mundane level of relative obscurity as humble snails to a more illustrious role one that links them and us to the need for a pollution free marine environment and to more than 600 million years of evolution

Post-Conflict Cyprus Stratis Andreas Efthymiou, 2019-06-25 This book uses empirical research to introduce the relationship between nationalism militarism and masculinity The co constitution between these three factors is susceptible to change and hinders reconciliation according to the author Drawing on the case of Cyprus a country in conflict with Turkey Efthymiou reveals how nationalism militarism and masculinity were constructed after the war and re adapted following the opening of internal borders and European Union accession Nationalism Militarism and Masculinity in Post Conflict Cyprus draws on rich field research with soldiers and officers in army barracks politicians such as former President of Republic of Cyprus Glafkos Clerides leaders of radical far right movements and the Greek Cypriot public The book offers invaluable insight into the application of nationalism militarism and masculinity in governmental policy including by the Cyprus Defence Ministry and will be of interest to students and scholars in sociology gender studies peace studies security studies politics and international relations as well as governments and NGOs

Figurine Makers of Prehistoric Cyprus Edgar Peltenburg, Diane Bolger, Lindy Crewe, 2019-07-31 The Chalcolithic period in Cyprus has been known since Porphyrios Dikaios excavations at Erimi in the 1930s and through the appearance in the antiquities market of illicitly acquired anthropomorphic cruciform figures often manufactured from picrolite a soft blue green stone The excavations of the settlement and cemetery at Souskiou Laona reported on in this volume paint a very different picture of life on the island during the late 4th and early 3rd millennia BC Burial practices at other known sites are generally single inhumations in intramural pit graves only rarely equipped with artifacts At Souskiou multiple inhumations were interred in deep rock cut tombs clustered in extra mural cemeteries Although the sites were also subjected to extensive looting excavations have revealed complex multi stage burial practices with arrangements of disarticulated and articulated burials accompanied by a rich variety of grave goods Chief among these are a multitude of cruciform figurines and pendants This unusual treatment of the dead which has not been recorded elsewhere in Cyprus shifts the focus from the individual to the communal and provides evidence for significant changes involving kinship group links to common ancestors Excavations at the Laona settlement have furnished evidence suggesting that it functioned as a specialised center for the procurement and manufacture of picrolite during its early phase The subsequent decline of picrolite production and the earliest known occurrence of new types of ornaments such as faience beads and copper spiral pendants attest to important changes involving the transformation of personal and social identities during the first centuries of the 3rd millennium BC a topic that forms a central theme of this final report on the site

A Study of the Circulation of Ceramics in Cyprus from the 3rd Century BC to the 3rd Century AD John Lund, 2015-10-26 This is the first monograph devoted solely to the ceramics of Cyprus in the Hellenistic and Roman Periods The island was by then no longer divided into kingdoms but unified politically first under Ptolemaic Egypt and later as a province in the Roman Empire Submission to foreign rule was previously thought to have diluted if not obliterated the time honoured distinctive Cypriot character The ceramic evidence suggests otherwise The distribution of local and imported pottery in Cyprus points to the existence of several regional exchange networks a division that also seems reflected by other evidence The similarities in material culture exchange patterns and preferential practices are suggestive of a certain level of regional collective self awareness From the 1st century BC onwards Cyprus became increasingly engulfed by mass produced and standardized ceramic fine wares which seem ultimately to have put many of the indigenous makers of similar products out of business or forced them to modify their output Also the ceramic record gradually became less diverse during the Roman Period than before developments which we today might be inclined to view as symptoms of an early form of globalisation
