Longman Geography Contexts Students Longman Secondary Geography:

Environmental and Geographical Education for Sustainability Zijian Li, Michael Williams, 2006 Geography environment sustainability culture and education standing alone or in any combination provide the ingredients for a variety of stews They are all difficult to define and they generate endless debates for theoreticians and practitioners about their meaning and significance The editors have divided the chapters that follow into two parts in an effort to unit these diverse disciplines Part 1 is concerned with cultural foundations and curriculum issues related to geographical and environmental education for sustainability Part 2 comprises a series of chapters presenting education for sustainability in the contexts of national cultures

Science Education in International Contexts May M. H. Cheng, Winnie W. M. So, 2011-10-23 This book presents an international perspective on examining and putting into practice new innovations in science education The chapters are organized into three parts each of which addresses a key area in science education research Part I of this book Students conceptual understanding of science addresses issues related to the identification of students science concepts and the influence of everyday understandings on the construction of science concepts Part II Making science concepts plausible for students addresses the pedagogical concerns of teachers in making science ideas plausible and logical for their students Part III Science teacher learning reports on science teacher learning in Australia and Hong Kong The focus is on the interaction between research and implementation or how theory can be realized in classroom practice with contributions from both non Western and non English speaking contexts and Western and English speaking countries Taken together the papers have a common focus on the relationship or integration of theory and practice in science education They demonstrate a concern to address education reform directions putting into practice recommendations from science education research and improving the quality of science education The contributors of this book come from seven different areas around the world These contributions have been essential in making the discussions in this book multi perspective and relevant to an international audience thus allowing it to emerge to join the international discourse on improving science education The studies reported in this book provide insights for future research addressing science education reform directions students learning needs and different classroom contexts The discussions and the findings reported are relevant to science educators teachers student teachers graduate students in education curriculum developers and those responsible for education policy The Making

Of The Curriculum Ivor F Goodson, 2002-11-01 The first edition of The Making of Curriculum was published in 1988 and reviewers hailed it as a seminal work in the field In that work Goodson explored a number of aspects of the so called traditional subjects and described the way they develop over time to a point where they can be promoted as academic disciplines He showed that the claim to be academic was in fact the result of a substantial political contest covering a century or more The traditional subject was in short invented The first edition of this book provided a series of challenging insights for those desiring to make sense of the current debate over schooling In this new and extended second edition Bill Pinar adds an illuminating introduction and Goodson brings his argument up to date with a discussion of the National Curriculum a contemporary initiative in the making of curriculum

Space, Place and Scale in the Study of Education Lorraine Symaco, Colin Brock, 2017-10-02 The term space is inherently geographical Educational provision and activity takes place within spaces ranging from a room at home or in a school to a campus to an administrative area which could be a state within a country a whole country or a group of countries Such spaces are known as geographical surfaces Within these spaces the process of learning and teaching takes place at particular points that are often nodes in a network which may be formal such as a group of schools or universities or non formal such as in cyberspace Understanding what goes on depends on the scale at which it is observed ranging from individuals to global outreach Altogether this constitutes the geography of educational reality This comprehensive volume includes a theoretical background plus a sample of situations including school level policy and administration inequitable access education hubs and small states It offers an introduction to a relatively neglected member of the family of education foundation disciplines the geography of education This book was originally published as a special issue of Comparative Education

Empowering a Peasantry in a Caribbean Context Carl B. Greenidge, 2001 An exploration of the land settlement schemes of Guyana over 160 years It analyzes the interrelationships of conflicting forces in the political economy of Guyana which frustrated attempts at empowerment of the peasantry The impact of these schemes on social differentiation is also discussed
