

Social vs. Market Justice

Social Justice

The equitable distribution of health care is a societal responsibility

Health care is a social good

Planned rationing (supply-side rationing)

Market Justice

Market forces in a free economy can best achieve a fair distribution of health care

Health care is an economic good

Demand-side rationing (price rationing)

Markets And Justice

Dustin N. Sharp

Markets And Justice:

Markets and Justice John William Chapman, James Roland Pennock, 1989 In this thirty first annual volume in the American Society of Legal and Political Philosophy's NOMOS series entitled Markets and Justice a number of distinguished authors consider a variety of topics in the area where economics philosophy and political science join paths Included are essays such as Contractarian Method Private Property and the Market Economy Justice Under Capitalism and Market Choice and Human Choice Authors include Joshua Cohen MIT Gerald F Gaus University of Queensland Margaret Jane Radin University of Southern California and Andrzej Rapaczynski

Market Justice Brent Z. Kaup, 2012-12-24 Market Justice explores the challenges for the new global left as it seeks to construct alternative means of societal organization Focusing on Bolivia Brent Z Kaup examines a testing ground of neoliberal and counter neoliberal policies and an exemplar of bottom up globalization Kaup argues that radical shifts towards and away from free market economic trajectories are not merely shaped by battles between transnational actors and local populations but also by conflicts between competing domestic elites and the ability of the oppressed to overcome traditional class divides Further the author asserts that struggles against free markets are not evidence of opposition to globalization or transnational corporations They should instead be understood as struggles over the forms of global integration and who benefits from them

The Moral Ecology of Markets Daniel Finn, 2006-01-16 Disagreements about the morality of markets and about self interested behavior within markets run deep They arise from perspectives within economics and political philosophy that appear to have nothing in common In this book Daniel Finn provides a framework for understanding these conflicting points of view Recounting the arguments for and against markets and self interest he argues that every economy must address four fundamental problems allocation distribution scale and the quality of relations In addition every perspective on the morality of markets addresses explicitly or implicitly the economic political and cultural contexts of markets or what Finn terms the moral ecology of markets His book enables a dialogue among the various participants in the debate over justice in markets In this process Finn engages with major figures in political philosophy including John Rawls Robert Nozick and Michael Walzer as well as in economics notably Milton Friedman Friedrich Hayek and James Buchanan

Justice as Welfare Adam Gearey, 2012-02-02 Justice as Welfare provides an egalitarian account of distributive justice by rethinking notions of welfare It first considers possible forms of decentered welfare to promote communal and individual autonomy rather than the bureaucratic centralized market oriented control Next it uses theoretical resources to rethink the conventional notions of solidarity that support welfare Drawing on recent work in continental philosophy Justice as Welfare suggests that welfare requires a notion of social ontology It provides both an account of the existential context of communal risk sharing and a framework to think about desire value and opportunity Noting present political and economic realities it suggests that international strategies to control flight capital are necessary to create and maintain egalitarian welfare Justice as Welfare aims to present a convincing theoretical account of welfare as social justice and to show how this requires the assertion of democratic control over economic and social reproduction at both national and international levels This philosophically informed argument about egalitarian justice will appeal to anyone researching issues of social welfare political theory and applied political philosophy Markets and Justice John W. Chapman,1989-03-01 In this thirty first annual volume in the American Society of Legal and Political Philosophy s NOMOS series entitled Markets and Justice a number of distinguished authors consider a variety of topics in the area where economics philosophy and political science join paths Included are essays such as Contractarian Method Private Property and the Market Economy Justice Under Capitalism and Market Choice and Human Choice Authors include Joshua Cohen MIT Gerald F Gaus University of Queensland Margaret Jane Radin University of Southern California and Andrzej Rapaczynski Columbia University Justice of the Peace and Local Government Review ,1873 The Relational Nordic Welfare State Sakari Hänninen,Kirsi-Marja Lehtelä,Paula Saikkonen,2019-12-27 The success of the Nordic welfare state is well known but the key drivers of its remarkable expansion are not This book explores the relationships between citizens that constitute the normative groundwork of Nordic societies arguing that the quality of relations steers welfare development

Drugs, Crime, and Justice Larry K. Gaines,Janine Kremling,2013-12-11 The twenty six articles in this edited volume provide perspective on the interrelated issues surrounding the use of drugs in society Although drugs have long been a social problem the importance of the issue and the involvement of the criminal justice system have varied across time Public concern has typically centered on illegal drugs but the drug issue today is even more complex given the impact of prescription drugs Exaggeration has been a constant theme in the history of public policy on drugs usually playing on public fear to demonize specific drugs and users Some drugs are more dangerous than others The variations in effects impact enforcement prevention and treatment If we are going to criminalize drugs and drug usage policies and penalties should be based on the relative dangerousness of a drug or class of drugs Policies can reduce harm create harm or both Our current drug policies attempt to reduce harm through law enforcement We arrest anyone involved in drug activities under the premise of protecting society These same policies however result in the incarceration of large numbers of people they are expensive they overburden the criminal justice system and they have lasting consequences for those caught up in the drug war no matter how minor their offenses Drug policies should be weighed carefully implementing those that result in the least amount of harm to society The editors have collected timely articles that provide perspective and a foundation for an informed approach to addressing problems associated with drug use On the Currency of Egalitarian Justice, and Other Essays in Political Philosophy Gerald A. Cohen,2011-01-03 G A Cohen was one of the most gifted influential and progressive voices in contemporary political philosophy At the time of his death in 2009 he had plans to bring together a number of his most significant papers This is the first of three volumes to realize those plans Drawing on three decades of work it contains previously uncollected articles that have shaped many of the central debates in political philosophy as well as papers published here for the first time In these pieces Cohen asks what egalitarians have most reason to equalize he considers the relationship between freedom and property and he reflects upon ideal theory and political practice Included here are classic essays such as Equality of What and Capitalism Freedom and the Proletariat along with more recent contributions such as Fairness and Legitimacy in Justice Freedom and Money and the previously unpublished How to Do Political Philosophy On ample display throughout are the clarity rigor conviction and wit for which Cohen was renowned Together these essays demonstrate how his work provides a powerful account of liberty and equality to the left of Ronald Dworkin John Rawls Amartya Sen and Isaiah Berlin

Rethinking Transitional Justice for the Twenty-First Century Dustin N.

Sharp, 2018-03-01 Transitional justice is the dominant lens through which the world grapples with legacies of mass atrocity and yet it has rarely reflected the diversity of peace and justice traditions around the world Hewing to a largely western and legalist script truth commissions and war crimes tribunals have become the default means of doing justice Rethinking Transitional Justice for the Twenty First Century puts the blind spots and assumptions of transitional justice under the microscope and asks whether the field might be re imagined to better suit the diversity and realities of the twenty first century At the core of this re imagining is an examination of the broader field of post conflict peace building and associated critical theory from which both caution and inspiration can be drawn By using this lens Dustin N Sharp shows how we might begin to generate a more cosmopolitan and mosaic theory and imagine more creative and context sensitive approaches to building peace with justice
