Marriage and Sexuality in Early Christianity David G. Hunter, 2018-05-01 Marriage and Sexuality in Early Christianity is part of Ad Fontes Early Christian Sources a series designed to present ancient Christian texts essential to an understanding of Christian theology ecclesiology and practice The books in the series make the wealth of early Christian thought available to new generations of students of theology and provide a valuable resource for the church Developed in light of recent patristic scholarship the volumes provide a representative sampling of theological contributions from both East and West The series provides volumes that are relevant for a variety of courses from introduction to theology to classes on doctrine and the development of Christian thought The goal of each volume is not to be exhaustive but rather to be representative enough to denote for a nonspecialist audience the multivalent character of early Christian thought allowing readers to see how and why early Christian doctrine and practice developed the way it did Marriage in the Early Church Forrest Raymond Brown, 1930 Marriage in the Western Church Philip Lyndon Reynolds, 1994 This book examines the ways in which Western bishops and theologians during the first millennium A D affirmed that marriage is holy condition and it shows how the doctrine of indissolubility both dominated and limited the Western Church's conception of marriage This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details Ordained Women in the Early Church Kevin Madigan, Carolyn Osiek, 2011-02-01 In a time when the ordination of women is an ongoing and passionate debate the study of women's ministry in the early church is a timely and significant one There is much evidence from documents doctrine and artifacts that supports the acceptance of women as presbyters and deacons in the early church While this evidence has been published previously it has never before appeared in one complete English language collection With this book church historians Kevin Madigan and Carolyn Osiek present fully translated literary epigraphical and canonical references to women in early church offices Through these documents Madigan and Osiek seek to understand who these women were and how they related to and were received by the church through the sixth century They chart women's participation in church office and their eventual exclusion from its leadership roles The editors introduce each document with a detailed headnote that contextualizes the text and discusses specific issues of interpretation and meaning They also provide bibliographical notes and cross reference original texts Madigan and Osiek assemble relevant material from both Western and Eastern Christendom Old Church Life in Scotland Andrew Edgar, 1886 1.
