Marriage Mental Handicap A Study Of Subnormality In Marriage

Norman Dain

Marriage Mental Handicap A Study Of Subnormality In Marriage:

Handicapped Married Couples Ann Craft, Michael Craft, 2023-07-05 Despite handicaps of low mental ability deprived backgrounds or psychiatric and physical disability most married couples with disabilities manage to give and receive much personal satisfaction and pleasure in their marriages This is of special interest to professionals and social workers who in the course of their jobs are called upon to give support and service to people with mental disabilities Originally published in 1979 Ann and Michael Craft had spent four years researching a sample of 45 marriages with at least one spouse with a mental disability In three quarters of the partnerships both spouses have a mental disability This was the largest group of married subjects with a mental disability studied in this country at the time and the Crafts conclusions were of considerable importance for with the recent trend towards normalization marriage was becoming a viable possibility for more and more people with mental disabilities The purposes of the study therefore were to give an account of the authors research concerning married couples with mental disabilities to suggest some ways in which service to such couples might be improved and to provide material for teaching purposes This book is a re issue originally published in 1979 The language used is a reflection of its era and no offence is meant by the Publishers to any reader by this re publication

International bibliography of research in marriage and the family Joan Aldous, 1967 International Review of Research in Mental Retardation, 1993-07-12 International Review of Research in Mental Retardation

The Journal of Mental Subnormality, 1961

The Mentally Subnormal Margaret Adams, Howard Lovejoy, 2014-05-20 The Mentally Subnormal Social Work Approaches Second Edition provides a discussion of the various issues faced by mentally challenged individuals The book is comprised of eight chapters that talk about the role of social workers in mitigating the problem The text first details the development of ideas and legislation relating to the mentally subnormal and then proceeds to presenting a view of the issue in a medical perspective The next chapter discusses the principles of casework in the field Chapter 4 talks about the role of community social care while Chapter 5 deals with social services to the mentally retarded and their families The sixth chapter covers social work in residential settings The remaining chapters tackle the employment problem of mentally handicapped and the implications for services of social research in mental retardation The book will be of great interest to students researchers and practitioners of disciplines that deal with the implication of mental incapacity for society such as psychology sociology and psychiatry
