The Female Pen Bridget G. MacCarthy, 1994-06 Had B G MacCarthy's criticism been available Showalter's A Literature of Their Own would have been a very different kind of book In some ways contemporary could be ten years ahead if we had started the climb from MacCarthy's groundwork Maggie Humm University of East London Back in print for the first time since the 1940s this classic work of pre feminist literary criticism is a challenging and authoritative assessment of women's contributions to English literature B G MacCarthy widely praised for the originality of her scholarship challenges the dominant picture of masculine literary history created by T S Eliot and F R Leavis Written with crisp humor and irony her exploration of women's writing Focusing on a wide range of authors including Lady Mary Wroath Eliza Haywood Aphra Behn Maria Edgeworth Mary Wollstonecraft Elizabeth Inchbald Margaret Cavendish and Jane Austen illustrates that these women attempted almost every genre of fiction enriched many and initiated some of the most important Often savagely witty The Female Pen discusses a vast array of fictional forms including picturesque moralistic oriental domestic and gothic novels

Domestic Modernism, the Interwar Novel, and E.H. Young Chiara Briganti, Kathy Mezei, 2016-12-05 Domestic Modernism the Interwar Novel and E H Young provides a valuable analytical model for reading a large body of modernist works by women who have suffered not only from a lack of critical attention but from the assumption that experimental modernist techniques are the only expression of the modern In the process of documenting the publication and reception history of E H Young's novels the authors suggest a paradigm for analyzing the situation of women writers during the interwar years Their discussion of Young in the context of both canonical and noncanonical writers challenges the generic label and literary status of the domestic novel as well as facile assumptions about popular and middlebrow fiction canon formation aesthetic value and modernity The authors also make a significant contribution to discussions of the everyday and to the burgeoning field of homeculture as they show that the fictional embodiment and inscription of home by writers such as Young Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen Ivy Compton Burnett Lettice Cooper E M Delafield Stella Gibbons Storm Jameson and E Arnot Robertson epitomize the long standing symbiosis between architecture and literature or more specifically between the house and the novel

The Outside Thing Hannah Roche, 2019-05-28 In a lecture delivered before the University of Oxford's Anglo French Society in 1936 Gertrude Stein described romance as the outside thing that is always a thing to be felt inside Hannah Roche takes Stein's definition as a principle for the reinterpretation of three major modernist lesbian writers showing how literary and affective romance played a crucial yet overlooked role in the works of Stein Radclyffe Hall and Djuna Barnes The Outside Thing offers original readings of both canonical and peripheral texts including Stein's first novel Q E D Things As They Are Hall's Adam's Breed and The Well of Loneliness and Barnes's early writing alongside Nightwood Is there an inside space for lesbian writing or must it always seek refuge elsewhere Crossing established lines of demarcation between the in and the out the real and the romantic and the Victorian and the modernist The Outside Thing presents romance as a heterosexual plot upon which lesbian writers willfully set up camp. These writers boldly adopted and adapted the romance genre Roche argues as a means of staking a queer claim on a heteronormative institution. Refusing to submit or surrender to the straight traditions of the romance plot, they turned the rules to their advantage. Drawing upon extensive archival research, The Outside Thing is a significant rethinking of the interconnections between queer writing, lesbian living, and literary modernism.

The Private Rod Marlene Tromp, 2000

Sensation novels, a genre characterized by scandalous narratives and emotionally and socially provocative dialogue and plots, had their heyday in England in the 1860s and 1870s in the midst of growing concern about codes of behavior in marriage. Exploring the central metaphor of marital violence in these novels, Marlene Tromp uncovers the relationship between the representations of such violence in fiction and in the law. Her investigation demonstrates that sensational constructions of gender, marriage, brutal relationships, and even murder were gradually incorporated into legal debates and realist fiction as the Victorian understanding of what was real changed from publisher description.
