Women, Wealth, and Community in Perpignan, c. 1250-1300 Rebecca Lynn Winer, 2017-05-15 Women Wealth and Community in Perpignan c 1250 1300 investigates the gender system at work in medieval Perpignan Using a series of notarial registers unique as surviving records for the social history of the thirteenth century realms of Aragon and Majorca the political confederations to which this town belonged Rebecca L Winer opens a window onto the experiences of women and their families Her interpretive framework reveals medieval assumptions about the distinct natures of Christian Jewish and enslaved Muslim women by analyzing which actions were curbed controlled or fostered in these different groups Sensitive to questions of social rank and marital status the book departs from traditional women's history by asking how a woman's religious identity factored in determining her economic and legal options in this society As a frontier town Perpignan lends itself well to an analysis of relations among Christians Jews and Muslim slaves The later thirteenth century also provides an ideal focus for this inquiry since the politics of Christian expansion and the economics of the western Mediterranean meant that Jewish communities flourished In contrast Christian Muslim relations unfolded particularly tensely due to intermittent conflict and both groups slave trade almost exclusively in each other's people Winer reconstructs how the members of these three communities negotiated shared space conducting all manner of exchanges making endogamous marriages wills commercial contracts and arranging for the care of children whose fathers were lost to war or disease The first section of the book focuses on women's legal status work and control of financial resources in the two dominant communities Christian and Jewish across the social spectrum It goes on to compare the ways in which mothers relationships to their children were understood in the Christian and Jewish communities The book concludes by entering the homes of Christian

Convergences Dr. Nabil M. Abdel-Al, 2017-05-25 This anthology is an amalgam of the authors output in the domains of interpretation translation and literary scholarship It is a serious attempt to highlight the cardinal traits common to said fields This research is a vested trek into the inner workings of the authors profession interpretation and translation as well as his standing engagement with literary genres throughout the ages The books uniqueness resides in treating a diversity of matters interrelated in various ways although on the surface it appears to make up a queer admixture of dissimilar elements hence the title Convergences Interpretation and translation are twin vocations and between them convergence is all encompassing Both transform a message from a source to a target language Complementary and mutually supportive as they are yet there is a train of difference in the execution of these two inseparable professions the method nature and techniques involved in each Interpretation is the instantaneous the simultaneous in a word the express mode of communication and translation is the meditative the slow or the local medium of correspondence Concomitantly literature is the crucible for teleologically permeable convergences and incredible divergences It has a noble ontological message and brings out humanity's hidden treasures experiences thoughts and choices Literatures lofty missive is grounded in understanding the scenes events and characters it depicts excerpts of which feed into discourses to be interpreted and translated Clients come up with multiple interpretations depending on circumstances and the context in which texts are couched
