Marrying The Natives Love And Interracial Marriage:

Marrying the Natives Peter Merritt Rinaldo,1996 Love Across Borders Kelly Chong,2020-09-29 High rates of intermarriage especially with Whites have been viewed as an indicator that Asian Americans are successfully assimilating signaling acceptance by the White majority and their own desire to become part of the White mainstream Comparing two types of Asian American intermarriage interracial and interethnic Kelly H Chong disrupts these assumptions by showing that both types of intermarriages in differing ways are sites of complex struggles around racial ethnic identity and cultural formations that reveal the salience of race in the lives of Asian Americans Drawing upon extensive qualitative data Chong explores how interracial marriages far from being an endpoint of assimilation are a terrain of life long negotiations over racial and ethnic identities while interethnic intra Asian unions and family making illuminate Asian Americans ongoing efforts to co construct and sustain a common racial identity and panethnic culture despite interethnic differences and tensions Chong also examines the pivotal role race and gender play in shaping both the romantic desires and desirability of Asian Americans spotlighting the social construction of love and marital choices Through the lens of intermarriage Love Across Borders offers critical insights into the often invisible racial struggles of this racially in between model minority group particularly its ambivalent negotiations with whiteness and white privilege and on the group s social incorporation process and its implications for the redrawing of color boundaries in the U S Race and Racism in the United States Charles A. Gallagher,Cameron D. Lippard,2014-06-24 How is race defined and perceived in America today and how do these definitions and perceptions compare to attitudes 100 years ago or 200 years ago This four volume set is the definitive source for every topic related to race in the United States In the 21st century it is easy for some students and readers to believe that racism is a thing of the past in reality old wounds have yet to heal and new forms of racism are taking shape Racism has played a role in American society since the founding of the nation in spite of the words all men are created equal within the Declaration of Independence This set is the largest and most complete of its kind covering every facet of race relations in the United States while providing information in a user friendly format that allows easy cross referencing of related topics for efficient research and learning The work serves as an accessible tool for high school researchers provides important material for undergraduate students enrolled in a variety of humanities and social sciences courses and is an outstanding ready reference for race scholars The entries provide readers with comprehensive content supplemented by historical backgrounds relevant examples from primary documents and first hand accounts Information is presented to interest and appeal to readers but also to support critical inquiry and understanding A fourth volume of related primary documents supplies additional reading and resources for research Little Manila Is in the Heart Dawn Bohulano Mabalon,2013-06-17 A history tracing the growth of Stockton California s Filipina o American community the birth and eventual destruction of the neighborhood of Little Manila and recent efforts to remember and preserve it Suffragist Migration West after Seneca Falls,

1848-1871 Stephanie Stidham Rogers,2024-03-06 Suffragist Migration West after Seneca Falls 1848 1871 Catharine Paine Blaine by Stephanie Stidham Rogers explores the surprising link between Elizabeth Cady Stanton the Seneca Falls Women s Rights Conference of 1848 and the Women s Suffrage Bill presented at the 1854 Washington State Territorial Legislature It shows how Seattle s first Suffragist educator clothing protestor and activist Catharine Paine Blaine planted the seeds of the Western feminist movement and this book redresses her prior omission as the founder of the University of Washington Catharine drew upon the political tools and discursive skills she acquired during her abolitionist upbringing in the nascent days of Washington State However like many suffragists of her time she rejected Native culture and regarded Native men as competitors for the vote Rogers examines Seattle within the broader context of the Western suffrage column that would only gain similar widespread acceptance in the East in 1885 when Catharine Paine Blaine became the first signer of the Seneca Falls Declaration to legally cast her vote in the City of Seattle Stidham Rogers unveils the unique contributions of Western suffragists in the comparatively liberating frontier context leading to the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment

American Indians at the Margins H. Roy Kaplan,2022-05-30 Since the earliest days of America racist imagery has been used to create harmful stereotypes of the indigenous people In this book the conflict between invading European white settlers and the indigenous groups who occupied the land that became the United States is described through the context of race and racism Using depictions from art literature radio cinema and television the origin and persistence of such stereotypes are explained and their debilitating effects on the well being of Indians are presented This text also explores their accomplishments in attempts to maintain their sovereignty dignity and respect

Race and Ethnicity Kathleen Odell Korgen,Maxine P. Atkinson,2024-11-21 Race and Ethnicity

Sociology in Action is an innovative text that combines comprehensive coverage of race and ethnicity content with active learning exercises seamlessly integrated into the chapters. The book is written by a team of experienced instructors who use active learning techniques in their own classrooms. These contributors expertly weave together content material, active learning exercises, discussion questions, real world examples of sociologists in action, and information on careers that use sociology. The Second Edition includes updated data, figures, and examples as well as new information on many topics including interracial relationships, immigrant groups, diversity among Asian Americans, racial discrimination in housing, and building coalitions for racial justice.

The Memory of Nature in Aboriginal, Canadian and American Contexts Françoise Besson, Claire Omhòvère, Héliane Ventura, 2014-06-12. This volume engages the reader's interest in the relationship that binds man to nature, a relationship which makes itself manifest through certain literary or visual artefacts produced by Native or non Native writers and artists. It ranges from the study of literatures mainly from Canada including Quebec and Acadia but also from Britain, the United States of America, France, Turkey, and Australia to the exploration of films, photographs, paintings, and sculptures produced by Aboriginal artists from North America. Thanks to a relational paradigm founded on spatial and temporal enlargement, it reimagines the critical outlook on indigenous production by instigating a dialogue between endogenous and exogenous scholars, novelists, and artists, and by weaving together interdisciplinary approaches spanning anthropology, geology, ecocriticism, and the study of myths. From the writings by Scott Momaday to those by Tomson Highway, from Pauline Johnson to Louise Erdrich, or from the photographs by William McFarlane, Notman, and Edward Burtynsky, or the films by Randy Redroad to the paintings by Emily Carr, it explores art as the sedimentation of nature. It simultaneously interrogates the representation of nature and the nature of representation as a geological and generic process inscribed in the history of mankind. Without eclipsing differences and imposing a reified Eurocentric critical discourse upon indigenous productions, this volume does not colonize indigenous texts or indulge in cultural appropriation of works of art but looks for historical, mythological, or geological traces of the past, a past characterized by the intimacy between man and animal, man and rock, or man and plant, a past which is allowed to resurface through the creative and critical outlooks that are bestowed upon its subjugated or subterranean existence. It resurfaces not as nostalgic memory but as an interactive fertilization giving the present a new life in which the non human provides a key to the understanding of the human bond to nature.

Tell the Court I Love My Wife Peter Wallenstein, 2004-01-17. The first history of how the law has defined and often outlawed interracial marriage in America.
