Marxism And Media Studies Key Concepts And Contemporary Trends:

Marxism and Media Studies Mike Wayne,2017-08-08 Marxism and Media Studies Key Concepts and Contemporary Trends By Mike Wayne Marxism and Media Studies Mike Wayne,2003-07-20 This is an accessible guide to key Marxist concepts and how to apply them to contemporary cultural analysis Drawing on Marx Lukacs Gramsci Habermas Jameson and others the book retools and redeems key concepts such as class the mode of production culture industries the state base superstructure ideology hegemony knowledge and social interests and commodity fetishism It also includes analysis of film television the internet and print media Using case studies including Disney Big Brother to the spirits and spectres in such films as The Others The Devil s Backbone and Dark City it illuminates the fetishisms of culture and society under capital Exploring the relevance of each concept to understanding the media Wayne explains why Marxism is an important critical methodology for the media student to engage with He foregrounds the theoretical and political shifts that have led to its marginalisation in recent years and highlights how and why these trends are changing as once more people return to Marx and Marxism to understand the world around them Mass Media and Communications Dibyanshu Kumar,2021-09-11 The mass media are diversified media technologies that are intended to reach a large audience by mass communication The technologies through which this communication takes place vary In the late 20th Century mass media could be classified into eight mass media industries books newspapers magazines recordings radio movies television and the internet With the explosion of digital communication technology in the late 20th and early 21st centuries the question of what forms of media should be classified as mass media has become more prominent Each mass media has its own content types its own creative artists and technicians and its own business models For example the Internet includes websites blogs podcasts and various other technologies built on top of the general distribution network The sixth and seventh media internet and mobile are often called collectively as digital media and the fourth and fifth radio and TV as broadcast media Some argue that video games have developed into a distinct mass form of media Mass communication was seen by those who owned newspapers radio and T V stations and by cinema producers mostly as an efficient device to reach messages to a very large number of people in a linear fashion The media users were seen primarily as targets passive targets for message intake and appropriate action either in voting as desired or buying products advertised or imbibing ideas intended by producers Magic bullet theory suggests that messages were shot directly into the receiver It assumes that receivers are passive and defenseless and take whatever is shot at them The magic bullet theory also portrays that the media have a direct immediate and powerful effect on those who pay attention to their contents This book has been intended as a manual for students of this subject Contents Television The People Crew Television Past Present and Future News Paper Organization and Management Printed Media Industry Theory and Practice Media Organizations Film in India Participatory Journalism and Weblogs Weblogs and Journalism Revisiting the Frankfurt School David Berry,2016-04-08 What has become known as the Frankfurt School is often reduced to a small number of theorists in media communication and cultural studies Challenging this limitation Revisiting The Frankfurt School introduces a wider theoretical perspective by introducing critical assessments on a number of writers associated with the school that have been mostly marginalized from debate This book therefore expands our understanding by addressing the writings of intellectuals who were either members of the school or were closely associated with it but often neglected It thus brings together the latest research of an international team of experts to examine the work of figures such as the social psychologist Erich Fromm the philosophy of Siegfried Kracauer the writer on media and communication Leo Lowenthal introducing Hans Magnus Enzenberger to the debate whilst also shedding new light on the work of Max Horkheimer Theodor Adorno Herbert Marcuse Walter Benjamin and Jürgen Habermas A critical reassessment of the contributions of the Frankfurt School and its associates to cultural media and communication studies as well as to our modern understanding of new media technology and debate within the public sphere this book will appeal to those with interests in sociology philosophy social psychology social theory media and communication and cultural studies

Red Kant: Aesthetics, Marxism and the Third Critique Michael Wayne, 2014-09-25 Is Kant really the bourgeois philosopher that his advocates and opponents take him to be In this bold and original re thinking of Kant Michael Wayne argues that with his aesthetic turn in the Third Critique Kant broke significantly from the problematic philosophical structure of the Critique of Pure Reason Through his philosophy of the aesthetic Kant begins to circumnavigate the dualities in his thought In so doing he shows us today how the aesthetic is a powerful means for imagining our way past the apparent universality of contemporary capitalism Here is an unfamiliar Kant his concepts of beauty and the sublime are reinterpreted as attempts to socialise the aesthetic while Wayne reconstructs the usually hidden genealogy between Kant and important Marxist concepts such as totality dialectics mediation and even production In materialising Kant's philosophy this book simultaneously offers a Marxist defence of creativity and imagination grounded in our power to think metaphorically and in Kant's concept of reflective judgment Wayne also critiques aspects of Marxist cultural theory that have not accorded the aesthetic the relative autonomy and specificity which it is due Discussing such thinkers as Adorno Bourdieu Colletti Eagleton Lukács Rancière and others Red Kant Aesthetics Marxism and the Third Critique presents a new reading of Kant's Third Critique that challenges Marxist and mainstream assessments of Kant alike

England's Discontents Mike Wayne, 2018-10-20 England's Discontents unpacks the genealogy of British identities over the last two hundred years as they have been shaped by the main political cultures and their interactions with cultural politics Conservatism social liberalism economic liberalism social democracy and socialism in partnership and conflict have forged different models of national belonging and identity Wayne draws on Gramsci's work to reassess debates about Britishness and renew Gramsci's relevance to understanding our contemporary discontents In doing so he reveals that England's enduring attachment to economic liberalism is in danger of eroding all other political cultures even conservatism liberalism and the British state

Neoliberalism and Global Cinema Jyotsna

Kapur, Keith Wagner, 2011-05-09 In cinema studies today rarely do we find a direct investigation into the culture of capitalism and how it has been refracted and fabricated in global cinema production under neoliberalism. However, the current economic crisis and the subsequent Wall Street bailout in 2008 have brought about a worldwide skepticism regarding the last four decades of economic restructuring and the culture that has accompanied it. In this edited volume, an international ensemble of scholars looks at neoliberalism both as culture and political economy in the various cinemas of the world. In essays encompassing the cinemas of Asia, Africa, Latin America, Europe, and the United States, the authors outline how the culture and subjectivities engendered by neoliberalism have been variously performed, contested, and reinforced in these cinemas. The premise of this book is that the cultural and economic logic of neoliberalism, i.e., the radical financialization and market-driven calculations of all facets of society, are symptoms best understood by Marxist theory and its analysis of the central antagonisms and contradictions of capital. Taking a variety of approaches ranging from political economy, ideological critique, the intersection of aesthetics and politics, social history, and critical cultural theory, this volume offers a fresh, broad-based Marxist analysis of contemporary film media. Topics include the global, albeit antagonistic, nature of neoliberal culture; the search for a new aesthetic and documentary language; the contestation between labor and capital in cultural production; the political economy of Hollywood; and questions of gender, sexuality, and the nation-state in relation to neoliberalism. Global

Hollywood 2 Toby Miller, Nitin Govil, John McMurria, Richard Maxwell, Ting Wang, 2019-07-25 Substantially revised and updated, this book highlights how Hollywood has transformed itself to attain ever global clout and reach and the material factors underlining Hollywood's apparent artistic success. Takes into consideration recent events affecting Hollywood such as 9/11, US foreign policy, and developments in consumer technology. Envisioning Media Power Brett Christophers, 2009-04-16 Envisioning Media Power develops an original geographical perspective on the nature and exercise of power in the international television economy. It uses theories of political economy as the basis for a comparative empirical examination of the UK and New Zealand television markets while closely considering these markets' respective relationships with the US market and its globally influential media corporations. In fleshing out this geographical perspective, the book critically addresses the power to produce, reproduce, and extract profit from territorialized media markets. To understand such powers, the book examines processes of creation and dissemination of industry knowledge, structures of industry governance, and the locational characteristics of television's operational economy. Through its rigorous and creative combination of conceptual insights with empirical substance, Envisioning Media Power both illuminates the fabric of television's international space economy and ultimately offers a unique theoretic argument suggesting that power, knowledge, and geography are inseparable, not only from one another but from the process of accumulation of media capital. Media and Communication Research Methods Arthur Asa Berger, 2011 In this new edition, Arthur Asa Berger employs his signature style: a practical focus, the use of numerous examples, a step-by-step approach, and humour to update and enhance this must have introductory text Combining both qualitative and quantitative research methods the book covers the topics thoroughly and is clearly written and engaging This book is ideal for beginning research students both at the graduate and undergraduate level because it is clear concise and accompanied by many detailed examples
