Husserl John J. Drummond,Otfried Höffe,2019-06-04 Edmund Husserl generally regarded as the founding figure of phenomenology exerted an enormous influence on the course of twentieth and twenty first century philosophy This volume collects and translates essays written by important German speaking commentators on Husserl ranging from his contemporaries to scholars of today to make available in English some of the best commentary on Husserl and the phenomenological project The essays focus on three problematics within phenomenology the nature and method of phenomenology intentionality with its attendant issues of temporality and subjectivity and intersubjectivity and culture Several essays also deal with Martin Heidegger s phenomenology although in a manner that reveals not only Heidegger s differences with Husserl but also his reliance on and indebtedness to Husserl s phenomenology Taken together the book shows the continuing influence of Husserl s thought demonstrating how such subsequent developments as existentialism hermeneutics and deconstruction were defined in part by how they assimilated and departed from Husserlian insights The course of what has come to be called continental philosophy cannot be described without reference to this assimilation and departure and among the many successor approaches phenomenology remains a viable avenue for contemporary thought In addition problems addressed by Husserl most notably intentionality consciousness the emotions and ethics are of central concern in contemporary non phenomenological philosophy and many contemporary thinkers have turned to Husserl for guidance The essays demonstrate how significant Husserl remains to contemporary philosophy across several traditions and several generations Includes essays by Rudolf Bernet Klaus Held Ludwig Landgrebe Dieter Lohmar Verena Mayer and Christopher Erhard Ullrich Melle

Of Self and Nation C. W. Watson, 2000-01-01 Recent scholarly work on nationalism has revealed the importance of the nation imagined as a community The subjects of these works however have been largely political speeches polemical essays and radical journalism Missing has been the one literary genre where the individual's commitment to the imagining of the nation is most explicitly addressed autobiography In looking critically at eight autobiographical works all concerned in one way or another with the question of what it means to be an Indonesian in the twentieth century C W Watson demonstrates the value of reading autobiographies as accounts of nation building Opening with a critique of a turn of the century collection of letters by an aristocratic Javanese now celebrated as the founder of the women's movement in Indonesia Watson goes on to consider the autobiography of another Javanese who was coopted into the Dutch colonial service and whose reflections on his relationships with senior Dutch officials lay bare the dynamics of the process of twentieth century colonialism Other autobiographies by writers and religious figures from Sumatra and Java who actively participated in the struggle of the nationalist movement in the 1930s and 1940s are also carefully scrutinized The final chapter considers how autobiographies written by a younger generation of Indonesians in the late 1980s reconsider Indonesian nationalism in the light of a commitment to a modernist Muslim perspective on the nation

The Service-Dominant Logic of Marketing Robert F. Lusch, Stephen L. Vargo, 2014-12-18 Expanding on the editors award winning article Evolving to a New Dominant Logic for Marketing this book presents a challenging new paradigm for the marketing discipline This new paradigm is service oriented customer oriented relationship focused and knowledge based and places marketing once viewed as a support function central to overall business strategy Service dominant logic defines service as the application of competencies for the benefit of another entity and sees mutual service provision rather than the exchange of goods as the proper subject of marketing It moves the orientation of marketing from a market to philosophy where customers are promoted to targeted and captured to a market with philosophy where the customer and supply chain partners are collaborators in the entire marketing process The editors elaborate on this model through an historical analysis clarification and extension of service dominant logic and distinguished marketing thinkers then provide further insight and commentary The result is a more comprehensive and inclusive marketing theory that will challenge both current thinking and marketing practice
