Reid, OP, Shelly Matthews, 2021-01-15 Because there are more women in the Gospel of Luke than in any other gospel feminists have given it much attention In this commentary Shelly Matthews and Barbara Reid show that feminist analysis demands much more than counting the number of female characters Feminist biblical interpretation examines how the female characters function in the narrative and also scrutinizes the workings of power with respect to empire to anti Judaism and to other forms of othering Matthews and Reid draw attention to the ambiguities of the text both the liberative possibilities and the ways that Luke upholds the patriarchal status quo and guide readers to empowering reading strategies

Transformative Lutheran Theologies Mary J. Streufert, 2010 The first of its kind this book is a systematic presentation of Lutheran feminist womanist and mujerista theologies systematic in that it addresses classical loci of systematic theology contemporary in that it is resoundingly constructive and relevant for the contemporary church and feminist in that the contributors write from a feminist perspective although they reflect a variety of positions within feminist discourse The contributors to this multi authored work share a common commitment to Lutheran theology as a continual process of reform Luther is a partner in the conversation because of his theological insights and commitment to faithful criticism which the writers seek to continue not because his voice settles a debate The book focuses on central themes that Luther addressed and that are representative of Lutheranism today including justification by grace through faith and Luther s theology of the cross From diverse contexts these Lutheran theologians like Luther seek reformation by giving voice to new perspectives in theology that continue to transform the church and the world Along with Mary J Streufert contributors include Krista E Hughes Kathryn A Kleinhans Kristen E Kvam L DeAne Lagerquist Mary E Lowe Lois Malcolm Anna Mercedes Cynthia Moe Lobeda Cheryl M Peterson Mary Joy Philip Caryn D Riswold Deanna A Thompson Marit Trelstad Alicia Vargas and Beverly Wallace A remarkable addition to the rich history of Lutheran theology Not only have these theologians opened doors to fresh new worlds of Lutheran thought they ve done so in a way that honors the past by extending it forward I can t wait to use Transformative Lutheran Theologies in class I ve been waiting twenty years for a text like this Imagine teaching Luther s thought and placing it by side with these cutting edge essays Luther would no doubt be proud maybe even a bit envious

Dismantling the Dualisms for American Pentecostal Women in Ministry Lisa Stephenson, 2011-10-06 The pneumatological magna carta of Acts 2 has never translated into a fully liberating praxis for Pentecostal women in ministry. Scholars have given this problem limited attention but their works do not adopt the perspective of pneumatology or engage feminist theology. In neglecting pneumatology, Pentecostals have ignored a methodological approach and a dominant orienting motif that is fundamental to their spirituality. In neglecting feminist theology, they proffer an incomplete solution that addresses anthropological paradigms to the exclusion of ecclesiological ones. After analyzing the historical and theological factors resulting in the present situation among American Pentecostal women in ministry, this book proposes a Feminist Pneumatological anthropology and ecclesiology that address the problematic dualisms that have perpetuated Pentecostal women's ecclesial restrictions.

Luke 17:9 Barbara E. Reid, Shelly Matthews, 2021-01-15 Because there are more women in the Gospel of Luke than in any other gospel, feminists have given it much attention. In this commentary, Shelly Matthews and Barbara Reid show that feminist analysis demands much more than counting the number of female characters. Feminist biblical interpretation examines how the female characters function in the narrative and also scrutinizes the workings of power with respect to empire, to anti-Judaism, and to other forms of othering. Matthews and Reid draw attention to the ambiguities of the text, both the liberative possibilities and the ways that Luke upholds the patriarchal status quo, and guide readers to empowering reading strategies.

Dissident Women, Beguines, and the Quest for Spiritual Authority Catherine Lambert, 2024-11-12 Dissident Women, Beguines, and the Quest for Spiritual Authority focuses on the responses of a group of twenty-first century women to the lives and writings of thirteenth-century beguine mystics and reveals how the struggle to discover their own inner spiritual authority connects two groups of women across centuries. For contemporary women who are disenchanted with the institutional church and who seek spiritual direction models deeply rooted within the tradition may not be the most helpful. The author explores the value of exemplars from the fringes, ushering Hadewijch of Brabant, Mechthild of Magdeburg, and Marguerite Porete into the spotlight. The contemporary women studied developed a relationship with the beguines that transformed and influenced their own journeys. Their encounters underline the importance of remembering the beguine mystics, the value of contemplative engagement with historical mystics, and the need for explicit validation of the richness of the edges of tradition within spiritual direction. Dissident Women, Beguines, and the Quest for Spiritual Authority will be of particular interest to scholars of mysticism and spirituality as well as practical pastoral and feminist theology.

Imago Trinitatis Mark S. Medley,2002-03-07 Imago Trinitatis contributes to the contemporary task of seeking to retrieve the central Christian symbol of the triune God It interfaces the trinitarian theology of Catherine LaCugna and new anthropological models based on women s interpreted experience of relationality offered by feminist theologians especially the vision of the post patriarchal self of Catherine Keller in order to delineate a theological conception of the human person as communion By reinterpreting imago Dei as imago Trinitatis Mark Medley offers a proposal towards claiming that a trinitarian feminist theological anthropology understands human personhood as being formed and transformed in one s personal existence to God s personal existence as persons of communion Beyond the Impasse Amos Yong, 2014-09-25 Can Christians learn from other religions This book offers a fascinating account of the nature role and purposes of religious diversity within God's providential plan Reflections on My Call to Preach Fred B. Craddock, 2009 Travel with revered preacher and author Fred Craddock through his early years as he considers what made him take to the pulpit For some reason I felt I had to say Yes or No to the ministry so I could feel free again My siblings and friends talked almost casually about options and preferences as to careers but with no evident sense of urgency Not so with me I did not then nor do I now know whether the burden of choice was a trait of personality a kind of super conscientiousness whether the calling to ministry itself carried a weight a burden peculiar to the task itself Rightly or wrongly when I thought of possibly becoming a journalist that would be a choice 100 percent mine When I considered becoming a minister that was not totally my decision I was responding to God's will for me Of course I had been told that journalists lawyers teachers merchants farmers all could understand their lives as a vocation a calling but what I am telling you is that I perceived I felt I experienced the idea of being a preacher as different and that difference was sobering even burdensome That's why advice about not being in a hurry taking my time was not helpful even if wise If it was my decision why could I not make it now if it was God's decision why did not God tell me or at least tell my father or my mother I prayed for the ache to leave me Excerpt from Reflections on My Call to Preach In Whom We Live and Move and Have Our Being Philip Clayton, Arthur Robert Peacocke, 2004 A series of essays examining panentheism a philosophy that considers God to be inter related with the world and the world to be inter related with God Augustine and Social Justice Teresa Delgado, John Doody, Kim Paffenroth, 2015-01-14 This volume brings into dialogue the ancient wisdom of Augustine of Hippo a bishop of the early Christian Church of the fourth and fifth centuries with contemporary theologians and ethicists on the topic of social justice Each essay mines the major themes present in Augustine's extensive corpus of writings from his Confessions to the City of God with an eye to the following question how can this early church father so foundational to Christian doctrine and teaching inform our twenty first century context on how to create and sustain a more just and equitable society In his own day Augustine spoke to conditions of slavery conflict and war violence and poverty among many others These conditions while reflecting the characteristics of our technological age continue to obstruct our collective efforts to bring about the common good for the global human community The contributors of this volume have taken great care to read Augustine through the lens of his own time and place at the same time they provide keen insights and reflections which advance the conversation of social justice in the present
