Raincoast Chronicles 12:

Raincoast Chronicles 23 Peter A. Robson, 2015-04-25 When the first edition of Raincoast Chronicles was produced by a couple of novice publishers in the unlikely location of Pender Harbour in 1972 it boldly announced that it was going to put BC character on the record Printed in sepia ink and decorated with the rococo flourishes characteristic of that extravagant era the unclassifiable journal cum serial book about life on the BC coast struck a nerve and in time became something very close to what it set out to be a touchstone of British Columbia identity Soon the term Raincoast which had been coined by the editors was appearing on boats puppet theatres interior decorating firms and at least one other publishing enterprise Raincoast Chronicles also created another publishing enterprise Harbour Publishing Many of the stories that started out as articles in the Chronicles grew into books and so the White family was more or less forced to get into book publishing to deal with them That undertaking went on to publish some six hundred books and counting about every possible aspect of BC and in 2014 celebrated its fortieth anniversary in the biz To honour that occasion this special double issue of Raincoast Chronicles takes a tour down memory lane selecting a trove of the most outstanding stories in all those Harbour books and republishing them in one volume Here are some of Canada's most exciting and iconic writers Al Purdy Anne Cameron Edith Iglauer Patrick Lane and Grant Lawrence to start a long list Here also are stories of disasters at sea scarcely believable bush plane feats eerie events at coastal ghost towns and a First Nations elder who has seen so many sasquatches he finds them sort of boring Full of great drawings and photos this jumbo anniversary edition of Raincoast Chronicles is a feast of great Pacific Northwest storytelling Raincoast Chronicles 12 Jim Spilsbury, 1990 Another issue of British Columbia's favorite anthology has arrived and like its predecessors Raincoast Chronicles 12 features the variety and style that has made the series a BC publishing phenomenon It includes stories from established favorites like Jim Spilsbury Howard White and Edith Iglauer It touches on subjects ranging from seineboats to waterbombers It recounts mishaps from biplane crashes to the discovery of stray torpedoes And it is illustrated with an assortment of photographs which like the stories themselves provide a lively reflection of life on the west coast God's Little Ships Michael L. Hadley, 1995 The men and women of the Columbia Coast Mission ships legendary figures in the history of the BC coast are brought vividly to life in this readable well researched volume From 1904 to the mid 1970s the mission sent out ships in all kinds of weather delivering medical care and non sectarian spiritual support to logging camps Native villages and white settlements in 20 000 square miles of rugged coastline John Antle who founded the mission was a devout and practical Christian who measured his success in services to BC's outposts rather than material wealth or number of converts Immortalized in Margaret Craven's I Heard the Owl Call My Name and in the hearts and memories of families all over the coast the mission was a glad bold organization that could be as rough cut and unconventional as the individuals it served Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975

Rangers stand sentinel in the farthest reaches of our country For more than six decades this dedicated group of citizen soldiers has quietly served as Canada's eyes ears and voice in isolated coastal and northern communities from coast to coast to coast How does this minimally trained and lightly equipped force make a meaningful contribution to national defence and to building sustainable communities One of Canada's leading experts on northern issues answers this question using official records extensive interviews and on the ground participation in Ranger exercises In this meticulously researched history Lackenbauer reveals why the Rangers have evolved into a flexible inexpensive and culturally inclusive way to promote sovereignty security safety and stewardship This unique organization reflects a successful partnership between the modern state and residents of remote communities a partnership rooted in local knowledge and crosscultural understanding

The Lumberjacks Donald MacKay, 2007-05-01 This is definitive history of lumbering in Canada captures the vitality of the lumber camps and documents the evolution of a major industry International Books in Print, 1991 Keeping it Living Douglas Deur, Nancy J. Turner, 2005 The European explorers who first visited the Northwest Coast of North America assumed that the entire region was virtually untouched wilderness whose occupants used the land only minimally hunting and gathering shoots roots and berries that were peripheral to a diet and culture focused on salmon Colonizers who followed the explorers used these claims to justify the displacement of Native groups from their lands Scholars now understand however that Northwest Coast peoples were actively cultivating plants well before their first contact with Europeans This book is the first comprehensive overview of how Northwest Coast Native Americans managed the landscape and cared for the plant communities on which they depended Bringing together some of the world's most prominent specialists on Northwest Coast cultures Keeping It Living tells the story of traditional plant cultivation practices found from the Oregon coast to Southeast Alaska It explores tobacco gardens among the Haida and Tlingit managed camas plots among the Coast Salish of Puget Sound and the Strait of Georgia estuarine root gardens along the central coast of British Columbia wapato maintenance on the Columbia and Fraser Rivers and tended berry plots up and down the entire coast With contributions from ethnobotanists archaeologists anthropologists geographers ecologists and Native American scholars and elders Keeping It Living documents practices many unknown to European peoples that involve manipulating plants as well as their environments in ways that enhanced culturally preferred plants and plant communities It describes how indigenous peoples of this region used and cared for over 300 different species of plants from the lofty red cedar to diminutive plants of backwater bogs
