Revolutionary Diplomacy Chinese Foreign:

Revolutionary Diplomacy J. D. Armstrong, 2024-06-21 From the Introduction The principal question that is posed in this study is what has been the influence of Mao's united front doctrine on China's foreign policy A related but secondary question is also considered In what ways if any has China's participation in the international system caused Peking to revise its conception of a united front in world politics Insofar as Mao's thoughts about united fronts are part of the total array of theories and operational principles that make up the Chinese communist ideology this essay considers one aspect of the relationship between ideology and foreign policy Since this question has long been the subject of a mostly inconclusive and often circular academic debate Armstrong states his reasons for returning to it here The first is that the problem is no less important because it admits of no easy solution Indeed with the breakdown in the twentieth century of even the limited consensus over norms and values that permitted a great power concert to exist for part of the nineteenth the question is clearly one of major significance in contemporary international relations Since China has become in many ways a symbol of the postwar ideological challenge to the established order in world politics the question is particularly relevant in a study of China's foreign policy Finally by combining a strictly limited focus of enquiry with a systematic approach to the problem it may be possible to overcome some of the analytical difficulties that surround the larger issue of the relation of ideas to social practice This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1977

Revolutionary States, Leaders, and Foreign Relations

Houman A. Sadri, 1997-04-16 This book compares and contrasts the foreign relations strategies of China Cuba and Iran in the first decade of their post revolutionary periods Among a variety of explanatory variables leadership particularly the type of revolutionary leaders played a significant role in explaining the outcome of the policymaking process in each case Three distinct patterns of foreign relations strategies are evident among all three revolutionary regimes in the ten year period Two Track Conflictual and Conciliatory This book is a valuable source for both experts and non experts alike in providing insight into the foreign relations of revolutionary regimes in developing countries and in helping U S policymakers anticipate behaviors of future revolutionary leaders A focal point of this book is the examination of the nonalignment strategies of these prominent developing countries during the infancy of their regimes Each state's particular strategy is described and explained in detail and then contrasted and compared Although there are differences among their foreign policies considering their geographic locations size wealth military capabilities leadership characteristics and political institutions there are significant similarities regarding their foreign policy goals and trends in their foreign relations with the Great Powers Among explanatory factors leadership played a significant role in the policy making process although the foreign relations strategies of these revolutionary regimes were fed by a combination of national and international variables In all three states the tone of foreign policy was set by revolutionary leaders who were either idealists or realists Idealists tended to take a more active and conflictual approach toward one or both of the superpowers while Realists were more cautious and less willing to resort to a conflictual posture This book also investigates the gap between the theoretical and practical nonalignment stance of each state This cross regional study provides policy analysts with clues about the foreign policies of other revolutionary developing countries in similar situations Finally it makes suggestions about how a Great Power may relate to a developing country during its first post revolution decade

Power and Responsibility in Chinese Foreign Policy Yongjin Zhang,Greg Austin,2014-01-10 The People s Republic of China is now over fifty years old Long considered an outsider or a club of one in international relations China has recently become more active in international institutions Is China becoming a responsible power in global and regional international relations How accurate is the traditional perception of China What factors may be motivating the changes in China s approach to international institutions and its perceptions of its own role in the world There is no certainty that China is becoming a more responsible power recent developments may be just another manifestation of realpolitik Power and Responsibility in Chinese Foreign Policy provides a vital insight into these issues analysing the critical issues in China s international relations China s regional and global diplomatic and security problems the changing role of the People s Liberation Army human rights religious and democratic movements and the concept of responsibility Power and Responsibility in Chinese Foreign Policy is an insightful and vital introduction to all sides of the current debate over China s international relations

From Revolutionary Internationalism to Conservative Nationalism Nan Li,2001 Chinese Foreign Policy Barbara Barnouin,Yu Changgen,2013-10-28 First published in 1998 In this study what is proposed here is first of all to examine the effect it had on the very functioning of the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs and how the turmoil of the Cultural Revolution of which the country had become a victim spilled over to this highly elitist and prestigious Ministry In summary it focuses on the chaos that engulfed the institution

Problems of Communism ,1989 Insurgency in the Modern World Bard E. Chinese Architecture Charlie Qiuli Xue, Guanghui Ding, 2022-08-18 This book studies the unexplored history of China aided architecture erected in the developing world since the 1950s By 2019 over 1 000 buildings had been delivered to more than 160 countries including parliament houses convention centers stadiums gymnasiums theaters schools hospitals libraries railways and stations These projects which have played a significant role in promoting economic transformation cultural engagement and social and environmental well being have largely been overlooked or misunderstood by the international community Why did China donate so many foreign aid buildings How were these buildings built in the remote land of developing countries with intricate influences and limited resources Have they helped modernize the recipient countries The authors of this book use a wide range of representative projects built in different historic periods and geographical locations as case studies to address the above questions from various perspectives This book fills an enormous gap in modern architecture in China and the world It offers architectural students and scholars in various disciplines the necessary knowledge on diplomatic architecture informs architects the appropriate methods of cross border design and low tech building teaches government officials the best practice of donating and receiving foreign aid buildings and enhances public awareness of cultural diversity in Asia Africa Oceania and Latin America With abundant first hand materials historical pictures and drawings the book is a must read for those who are interested in modern architecture and developmental aid in the world China s architecture abroad notably in Africa and Asia has been perceived with both fascination and anxiety Based on a wealth of sources often difficult to access for scholars from outside China this book links the history and present of China s architectural mobilities in ways that will stimulate new debates in architectural history and urban studies ukasz Stanek Professor of Architectural History The University of Manchester UK Revolution and Chinese Foreign Policy Peter Van Ness, 1973 Overseas Chinese, Ethnic Minorities and Nationalism Elena Barabantseva, 2010-09-13 Elena Barabantseva looks at the close relationship between state led nationalism and modernisation with specific reference to discourses on the overseas Chinese and minority nationalities The interplay between modernisation programmes and nationalist discourses has shaped China s national project whose membership criteria have evolved historically By looking specifically at the ascribed roles of China s ethnic minorities and overseas Chinese in successive state led modernisation efforts This book offers new perspectives on the changing boundaries of the Chinese nation It places domestic nation building and transnational identity politics in a single analytical framework and examines how they interact to frame the national project of the Chinese state By exploring the processes taking place at the ethnic and territorial margins of the Chinese nation state the author provides a new perspective on China s national modernisation project clarifying the processes occurring across national boundaries and illustrating how China has negotiated the basis for belonging to its national project under the challenge to modernise amid both domestic and global transformations This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Asian politics Chinese politics nationalism transnationalism and regionalism China's Foreign Policy since 1978: Return to Power Nicholas

Khoo,2020-11-27 The success of China's post 1978 reforms has provided it with significant resources to reshape its external environment This book shows how China has leveraged this power from a neorealist perspective projecting military and economic power to advance Chinese interests China and Southeast Asia Gungwu Wang,1999 All this is not surprising even understandable But the danger of exaggeration to the point where efforts to predict what China and the Chinese will do become merely alarmist and the predictions become self fulfilling has to be guarded against The Ashgate Research Companion to Chinese Foreign Policy Emilian Kavalski,2016-04-01 The Ashgate Research Companion to Chinese Foreign Policy draws out the full range of topics and issues that characterise China's external affairs The volume is intended to provide an overview of Chinese foreign policy that will be relevant both to experts in the field as well as those that are just starting to grapple with Beijing's international outlook The investigation of Chinese foreign policy offered by the volume is divided into seven parts Part I focuses on the historical evolution of Chinese foreign policy by detailing the specific traditions and the altering paradigms of Beijing's external outlook proffered for the explanation and understanding of Chinese foreign policy Part II discusses the different analytical perspectives proffered for the explanation and understanding of Chinese foreign policy Part III considers the domestic sources of Chinese foreign policy Part IV analyses the international impact of Beijing's outreach Part V of the volume begins the exploration of China's relations with specific international actors Part VI investigates the regional interactions of Chinese foreign policy Part VII of the volume draws attention to several issues impacting both the practice and the understanding of Chinese foreign policy This Companion draws a vivid picture of the full spectrum of topics issues and relationships that define China's international interactions The collection therefore provides a relevant point of departure for anyone interested in learning about Beijing's external affairs Owing to the wide range of themes and ideas this volume is essential reading for students of Chinese foreign policy Chinese Communists and Hong Kong Capitalists: 1937-1997 C. Chu,2010-10-25 This book examines Chinese Communist activities in Hong Kong from the outbreak of the Sino Japanese War in 1937 to the handover in 1997 It reveals a peculiar part of Chinese Communist history and traces six decades of astounding united front between the Chinese Communists and the Hong Kong tycoons and upper class business elite Mao's China and the Cold War Jian Chen,2010-03-15 This comprehensive study of China's Cold War experience reveals the crucial role Beijing played in shaping the orientation of the global Cold War and the confrontation between the United States and the Soviet Union The success of China's Communist revolution in 1949 set the stage Chen says The Korean War the Taiwan Strait crises and the Vietnam War all of which involved China as a central actor represented the only major hot conflicts during the Cold War period making East Asia the main battlefield of the Cold War while creating conditions to prevent the two superpowers from engaging in a direct military showdown Beijing's split with Moscow and rapprochement with Washington fundamentally transformed the international balance of power argues Chen eventually leading to the end of the Cold War with the collapse of the Soviet Empire and the decline of international communism Based on sources that include recently declassified Chinese documents the book offers pathbreaking insights into the course and outcome of the Cold War Mental Maps in the Early Cold War Era, 1945-68 S. Casey, J. Wright, 2011-07-26 The early Cold War was a period of dramatic change New superpowers emerged the European powers were eclipsed colonial empires tottered Political leaders everywhere had to make immense adjustments This volume explores their hopes and fears their sense of their place in the world and of the constraints under which they laboured South Korea's New Southern Policy Lam Peng Er, 2023-04-17 This book examines the first regional strategy of South Korea toward Southeast Asia and India At issue is how a middle power a G20 country with the tenth largest economy in the world seeks to play a larger and more comprehensive role in regions beyond the Korean peninsula Hitherto South Korean foreign policy has focused on nuclearizing North Korea alliance maintenance with the United States tricky relations with its most important economic partner China and difficult ties with Japan marred by historical and territorial disputes The Moon Administration has sought to diversify South Korean foreign policy by elevating ASEAN and India to the same strategic level as the United States China Russia and Japan To be sure the latter countries continue to be most significant to the Korean peninsula However this book offers different country and regional perspectives on Seoul's first regional grand strategy to play a role commensurate with its status as a middle power
