The Battle of the Frigidus River, AD 394 Nic Fields, 2024-07-31 Nic Fields draws on detailed knowledge of available sources and his own visits to the battlefield to set the battle within the context of its political situation and religious impact upon history The Battle of the Frigidus River fought on 5 and 6 September 394 in what is now Slovenia was a crucial clash between the Eastern Roman emperor Theodosius later the Great and the usurper Eugenius who had seized power in the Western Empire The battle was hard fought and lasted two days At the end of the first Theodosius was on the brink of defeat but the following day a great wind blowing against his enemy resulted in him securing a decisive victory Eugenius like Theodosius was a Christian but unlike Theodosius he was tolerant of pagans so this wind was seen as miraculous and the victory was attributed to God's favour Nic Fields narrative sets the battle in the context of the political situation within the empire and the campaigns leading up to this pivotal showdown The armies of both protagonists are described the tactics and strategy of the time discussed Drawing on his detailed knowledge of the sources the latest of the Yellow River and the River Civilizations Jianxiong Ge, Yunsheng Hu, 2021-01-04 This book explores the relationship between rivers and ethics in China with a particular focus on the health of the Yellow River and China's sustainable development. Though the book falls into the category of East Asian History, it is an interdisciplinary academic work that addresses not only history but also culture, human geography, and physical geography. It traces the changes in the Yellow River over time and examines the origin and developmental course of Chinese civilization, which has always been closely intertwined with the Yellow River. It also draws comparisons between the Yellow River and the Yangtze, Nile, Tigris, Euphrates, and Indus rivers to provide insights into how they have contributed to civilizations. At the same time, it discusses the lessons learned from people's taming of the Yellow River. Most significantly, the book explores the relationship between humans and the environment from an ethical standpoint, making it an urgent reminder of the crucial role that human activities play in environmental issues concerning the Yellow River, so as to achieve a sustainable development for China's mother river. The intended audience includes academic readers researching East Asian and Chinese history, culture, geography, human geography, historical geography, the environment, river civilizations, etc., as well as history and geography lovers and members of the general public who are interested in the Yellow River and the civilization that has evolved around it. Danube River Mythology Amelia Khatri, AI, 2025-02-14 Danube River Mythology explores the profound spiritual and cultural significance of the Danube River throughout European history. It delves into how ancient societies perceived and revered the river, examining its role in religious beliefs, rituals, and the formation of cultural traditions. The book reveals how the Danube functioned not merely as a geographical feature but as a sacred entity influencing the worldview of those living along its banks. For example, archaeological findings and textual accounts uncover evidence of water deities and river worship, illustrating the Danube's sacred status. The book adopts an interdisciplinary approach, drawing from archaeology, religious studies, and history to offer a comprehensive understanding. It progresses through time, first examining pre-Roman and Roman era beliefs, then exploring the adaptations and interactions with Christianity during the Middle Ages. Finally, it analyzes the river's depiction in modern art, literature, and its impact on present-day cultural identity and environmental awareness. Ultimately, the book emphasizes the enduring impact of the Danube on shaping cultural identities and belief systems, challenging traditional historical narratives by highlighting the profound influence of natural features on religious and cultural development. At the Emperor's Wish Oscar King Davis, 1905 Poems of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1883 Five Roman Emperors Bernard William Henderson, 1927 Peerless Thunder King Zuo Ye, 2019-11-17 The heaven and earth gave birth to all living things.
