The Dancer and the Dance is a collection of thirteen essays in translation studies Unlike many similar collections that have appeared in the past decades it is the product of theory integrated with practice in it the authors have steered clear of theorizing in a vacuum making sure that their findings tally with what actually happens in translation there is no attempt at putting forward hypotheses based on mere speculation As translation theorists and or translators whose specialties cover translation studies linguistics cultural studies computer aided translation Chinese literature English literature comparative literature and creative writing the thirteen authors have taken up the challenge of unravelling the mystery of what in I A Richards s words may very probably be the most complex type of event yet produced in the evolution of the cosmos Impossible as the task may have seemed they have all succeeded each in his her own way in tracing out many warp and weft threads as well as hitherto undiscovered patterns in the vast gorgeous and mysterious tapestry woven by God after Babel
