The Road to Cooperstown James F. Vail, 2017-07-06 The selection process for the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown New York has been the same for sixty years Two sets of electors are used both of which vote each year using subjective criteria that inevitably cause errors of selection and omission One group the Baseball Writers Association of America votes by mail using a pre selected list of retired players that meet eligibility requirements The second group of electors is the Veterans Committee comprised of former players who are Hall of Fame members plus retired baseball executives and sportswriters who meet in Florida during spring training and base their votes on the merits of candidates no longer eligible for the BBWAA ballot In this work the author combines an irreverent critique of the voting process with an analysis of the biases that have fostered questionable choices in Hall of Fame voting The result is a comprehensive statistically founded survey of the factors which influence election

Outrageous

Fortune James F. Vail, 2002-01-21 The National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown New York enshrines some players whose worthiness seems questionable to the game's most knowledgeable fans and excludes others whose credentials are remarkable Critics of the current voting system which uses two sets of electors and has been used for over sixty years argue that it is too subjective the only measurable requirement is that the player have at least ten years of major league service at the position for which he is selected This critical and statistical study identifies the errors of selection and omission in Hall of Fame voting It proposes a method that adapts objective statistical criteria to the current selection process The method preserves positives that exist in the current subjective method while simultaneously reducing the likelihood of injustices to players managers and Negro Leaguers

Smart Ball Robert F. Lewis II, 2010-03-05 Smart Ball follows Major League Baseball's history as a sport a domestic monopoly a neocolonial power and an international business MLB's challenge has been to market its popular mythology as the national pastime with pastoral populist roots while addressing the management challenges of competing with other sports and diversions in a burgeoning global economy Baseball researcher Robert F Lewis II argues that MLB for years abused its legal insulation and monopoly status through arrogant treatment of its fans and players and static management of its business As its privileged position eroded in the face of increased competition from other sports and union resistance it awakened to its perilous predicament and began aggressively courting athletes and fans at home and abroad Using a detailed marketing analysis and applying the principles of a smart power model the author assesses MLB's progression as a global business brand that continues to appeal to a consumer's sense of an idyllic past in the midst of a fast paced and often violent present
