Road trip Aaron Siskind, Charles Traub, 1989 Road Trip Aaron Siskind, 1989 Presents a selection of the photographer's most recent work and includes photographs of abstract images taken in locations around the world Photography's Last Century Jeff L. Rosenheim, 2020-03-09 Beginning with Paul Strand's landmark From the Viaduct in 1916 and continuing through the present day Photography's Last Century examines defining moments in the history of the medium Featuring nearly 100 masterworks from one of the most important private holdings of photography the book includes works by Diane Arbus Richard Avedon Walker Evans László Moholy-Nagy Man Ray and Cindy Sherman as well as a diverse group of important lesser known practitioners A fascinating interview with Ann Tenenbaum provides a personal account of the works while the main text offers an essential history of photography that addresses the implications of calling this period the medium's last century Untitled Daniel J. Adams, 2022-12-30 My life is one of multiple stories It is a young man's coming of age It is moving from one way to the acceptance of many ways in philosophy and religion It is transitioning from western thought to eastern thought It is entering into an international and cross cultural marriage It is living in the East and in the West It is taking road trips climbing mountains and sailing the seven seas It is becoming a citizen of the world And it is the story of survival most recently in 2022 Truly my life is an example of the way that cannot be named and thus must remain untitled

Re:view, 1987 Pictures and the Past Alexander Bigman, 2024-06-25 A fresh take on the group of artists known as the Pictures Generation reinterpreting their work as haunted by the history of fascism the threat of its return and the effects of its recurring representation in postwar American culture The artists of the Pictures Generation converging on New York City in the late 1970s indelibly changed the shape of American art Rebellious against abstraction they borrowed liberally from the aesthetics of mass media and sometimes the work of other artists It has long been thought that the group's main contribution was to upend received conceptions of authorial originality In Pictures and the Past however art critic and historian Alexander Bigman shows that there is more to this moment than just the advent of appropriation art He presents us with a bold new interpretation of the Pictures group's most significant work in particular its recurring evocations of fascist iconography In the wake of the original Pictures show curated by Douglas Crimp in 1977 artists such as Sarah Charlesworth Jack Goldstein Troy Brauntuch Robert Longo and Gretchen Bender raised pressing questions about what it means to perceive the world historically in a society saturated by images Bigman argues that their references to past cataclysms to the violence wrought by authoritarianism and totalitarianism represent not only a coded form of political commentary about the 1980s but also a piercing reflection on the nature of collective memory Throughout Bigman situates their work within a larger cultural context including parallel trends in music fashion cinema and literature Pictures and the Past probes the shifting relationships between art popular culture memory and politics in the 1970s and 80s examining how the specter of fascism loomed for artists then and the ways it still looms for us today MoMA Highlights Since 1980 Museum of Modern Art (New
