The Church of the Perfect Storm Leonard Sweet, 2010-09-01 The church is heading into a perfect storm of cultural forces Will you sink beneath the waves or ride the winds of the Spirit An array of cultural forces is coming together to present the church with unprecedented challenge and unequalled opportunity Such category 5 realities as postmodernism postChristendom attacks on belief in God and the threat of global warming have coalesced to make a perfect storm that will leave people uncertain of their place in the world and all they have previously believed in Like the disciples when Jesus calmed the storm the church can cower and cry out for relief Or when everything is spinning and whirling in the wind the church can go out to meet the storm embrace the gale and pass out kites From the Circuit Rider review Like other books Sweet has written and compiled The Church of the Perfect Storm is thought provoking and compelling The material flows in such a way that allows readers to grasp the gravity of the situation However as with most futuristic material there is also a sense in which readers may want to know Okay now what Where do we need to steer this ship Are mainline and evangelical churches so off course as to fail to weather the rising tides that are here and soon coming Readers of this volume may enjoy the description of a post Christendom world but they may also want to know more about the prescription for the days ahead Click here to read the entire review

Branded Faith Rajkumar Dixit,2010-06-07 Christianity may be the greatest story ever told but in Western culture it is losing ground against the powerful forces of secularization In examining the root causes of this cultural shift does the church have anything to learn from secular society and the business sector For decades the church has resisted the idea of using business methodologies in the religious sphere Yet a closer look reveals that most church hierarchies have borrowed much of their organizational structure from the business sector But the church is not alone in its borrowing Today the lines between the church and the business sector are blurred as both entities influence each other interchangeably In Branded Faith Rajkumar Dixit enters an engaging and intellectually stimulating analysis of what the church can learn from the business practices of marketing branding and contextualization Using examples drawn from widely recognized companies such as Nike Starbucks Coca Cola and Subway Dixit systematically builds a case for the power of a story and emphasizes the importance of seeking culturally relevant ways to spread it Those who care deeply about sharing Christianity powerfully and effectively will find in Branded Faith a thoughtful presentation of ideas on how to maintain the integrity of the gospel while exploring fresh methods of communicating the good news to a postmodern society Faith and Learning on the Edge David Claerbaut,2004 Beginning with an autobiographical journey through his disappointing experiences with faith and learning both in his student and professorial career in Christian colleges David Claerbaut addresses the issues of faith and learning in higher education
