Sales Law The Contracting Process:

Sales Law and the Contracting Process Alan Schwartz, Robert E. Scott, 1982 Global Sales and Contract Law Ingeborg Schwenzer, Pascal Hachem, Christopher Kee, 2012-01-26 Although the 1980 United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods CISG is one of the most successful international conventions to date it remains the case that those involved in the international sale of goods must refer to a multitude of laws Indeed the CISG itself does not cover all issues relating to international sales contracts so it must necessarily be supplemented by domestic law Global Sales and Contract Law provides a truly comparative analysis of domestic laws in over sixty countries so as to deliver a global view of domestic and international sales law The book reports on the real practice of sales law taking into account present day problems Complex questions on the obligations under a sales contract the ways in which these are established as well as the remedies following the breach of obligations are all discussed By addressing regional uniform projects like OHADA and comparing differences in domestic legal approach where the CISG would not apply the work goes beyond existing commentaries which tend to focus only on the CISG The analysis has been based on an unprecedented survey drawn from the world's top fifty companies as well as international traders lawyers advising international traders arbitral institutions arbitrators and law schools This work encompasses all aspects of a sale of goods transaction and takes a wide view of sale by including general contract law The book gives practitioners invaluable insight into judicial trends and possible solutions in different legal systems whether preparing for litigation or drafting an international contract Global Sales and Contract Law is the most comprehensive and thorough compilation of legal analysis in the field of the sale of goods and is a reliable source for any practitioner dealing in international commerce Timber Sale Contract Law for Contracting Officers and Forest Service Representatives United States. Performance-Oriented Remedies in European Sale of Goods Law Vanessa Mak, 2009-01-15 Contractual remedies aimed at performance create a well known rift between common law and civil law traditions in the one existing in the shadow of damages whilst in the other regarded as a generally enforceable right following from the contract

Developments in approximation of laws in Europe in particular in consumer sales law suggest however that a convergence of these approaches may be within reach Putting the focus on the contract of sale which as the most common type of contract may fulfil a leading role in the harmonisation process this book aims to provide a model for further convergence of European sales laws engaging with issues of contract theory and comparative law lying at the heart of the process Independently from this the comparison between different systems is used in order to highlight particular problems in the remedial schemes of individual systems and to see whether a better solution may be borrowed from elsewhere Scaling the interests of sellers and buyers as reflected in national laws as well as in uniform sets of rules such as CISG and PECL a plea is made for a primary position for performance oriented remedies in the harmonisation of European sales law In this context special significance is attributed to the possibility of cure by the seller which has both practical and conceptual links to the buyer s remedies aimed at performance
